Nonmilitary Aspects of Security Dietrich Fischer,1993 Current agreements and negotiations on disarmament have clearly economic implications Their effect and their perception remain inadequately known and uncertain Based on the analysis of the actual disarmament process this book questions a number of sacred cows frequently encountered in international fora and thinking on economic aspects of disarmament The long debated link between disarmament and development for example is critically examined Similarly the very idea that disarmament would yield automatic returns the famous peace dividend is called into question At the same time conversion also has its cost For the purpose of the research which led to this publication United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research UNIDIR with the co operation of International Defence Economics Association IDEA assembled a group of well known economists diplomats and researchers

West Africa's Trouble Spots and the Imperative for Peace-Building Osita Agbu, 2007-10-15 This monograph highlights the necessity for taking preventive measures in the form of peace building as a sustainable and long term solution to conflicts in West Africa with a special focus on the Mano River Union countries Apart from the Mano River Union countries efforts at resolving other conflicts in say Guinea Bissau Senegal Cote d'Ivoire and Nigeria have suffered from a lack of attention on the post conflict imperatives of building peace in order to ensure that sustainable peace is achieved Given the often intractable and inter related nature of conflicts in this region it argues for the need to revisit the existing mechanisms of conflict resolution in the sub region with a view to canvassing a stronger case for stakeholders towards adopting the peace building strategy as a more practical and sustainable way of avoiding wars in the sub region Peace building in consonance with its infrastructure is a more sustainable approach to ensuring regional peace and stability and therefore ensuring development for the peoples of West Africa Dr Osita Agbu is currently a Senior Research Fellow at the Nigerian Institute of International Affairs Lagos His areas of specialization include Peace and Conflict studies Governance and Democratization and Technology and Development He was until recently a Visiting Research Fellow at the Institute of Developing Economies Chiba Japan
