Maps and Map-makers Ronald Vere Tooley, 1961 American Maps and Map Makers of the Revolution Peter J. Guthorn, 1966 This book is arranged in orderly fashion A short biography of each map maker is followed by a list of his known maps Though frequently fragmentary and based on secondary sources many of the biographical sketches appear in print here for the first time A great number of the maps are likewise newly discovered Each map is briefly described and its repository indicated The introduction gives additional valuable data Foreword Landmarks of Mapmaking Charles Bricker, Ronald Vere Tooley, 1968 Landmarks of Mapmaking Ronald Vere Tooley, Charles Bricker, 1968 Tooley's Dictionary of Mapmakers, 1985 The World Map, 1300-1492 Evelyn Edson, 2007-07-15 A history of the development of world maps during the later medieval period in the centuries leading up to Columbus's journey In the two centuries before Columbus mapmaking was transformed The World Map 1300 1492 investigates this important transitional period of mapmaking Beginning with a 1436 atlas of ten maps produced by Venetian Andrea Bianco Evelyn Edson uses maps of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries to examine how the discoveries of missionaries and merchants affected the content and configuration of world maps She finds that both the makers and users of maps struggled with changes brought about by technological innovation the compass quadrant and astrolabe rediscovery of classical mapmaking approaches and increased travel To reconcile the tensions between the conservative and progressive worldviews mapmakers used a careful blend of the old and the new to depict a world that was changing and growing before their eyes This engaging and informative study reveals how the ingenuity creativity and adaptability of these craftsmen helped pave the way for an age of discovery A comprehensive and complex picture of the changing face of medieval geography With the mastery of a formidable palette of historiographic knowledge and well reasoned discussions of the sources The World Map 1300 1492 will certainly remain an important work to consult for both medieval and early modern scholars for many years to come Ian J Aebel Terrae Incognitae The Mapmakers' Quest David Buisseret, 2003-05-22 In 1400 Europe was behind large parts of the world in its understanding of the use of maps For instance the people of China and of Japan were considerably more advanced in this respect And yet by 1600 the Europeans had come to use maps for a huge variety of tasks and were far ahead of the rest of the world in their appreciation of the power and use of cartography The Mapmakers Quest seeks to understand this development not only to tease out the strands of thought and practice which led to the use of maps but also to assess the ways in which such use affected European societies and economies Taking as a starting point the question of why there were so few maps in Europe in 1400 and so many by 1650 the book explores the reasons for this and its implications for European history It examines inter al how mapping and military technology advanced in tandem how modern states territories were mapped and borders drawn up the role of maps in shaping the urban environment and cartography's links to the new sciences Old Maps & Map Makers of Scotland John Elliot Shearer, 1905 Mapmakers of the Sixteenth Century and Their Maps Robert W.
