Ireland and International Peacekeeping Operations 1960-2000 Katsumi Ishizuka, 2014-04-23 Analyzes why Ireland plays such a leading role in international peacekeeping operations Throws light on how a minor power can play an important role in international affairs Uses a wide range of sources from Irish and UN documents to interviews with personnel The Military and Negotiation Deborah Goodwin,2004-11-23 A new investigation of the role of the modern soldier diplomat and the nature of military negotiation in comparison with negotiation in other key contexts This new book presents a detailed analysis of the role of the military in current operations as negotiators and liaison workers in the field It shows how very few in the academic world are writing on this specific role of the military and the nature of negotiation in this situation and such a volatile context This publication is a first in this context and has a keen audience in light of the current world order This study breaks new ground in analyzing the nature of military negotiation in relation to more generic forms of negotiation and assessing the role of the modern soldier diplomat in recent deployments around the world The author is an academic working within the military environment very few people have the same capacity and accessibility to firsthand evidence and observation Whilst peacekeeping has grown in the last decade or so no one has successfully investigated the role of the military and their approach to non violent conflict resolution on the ground as few have access to such work to make a viable detailed assessment of the nature of negotiation in a violent context but Dr Goodwin is able to do so Military Forces in 21st Century Peace Operations James V. Arbuckle,2006-09-27 As the antithetical relationships between the civilian and military agencies and components of modern peace operations are essentially cultural and are rooted in misinformation and prejudice effective civil military operations are needed from the outset of an operation NATO, U.S. Assistance to the Partnership for Peace United States. General Accounting Office,2001 Ghana Armed Forces in Lebanon and Liberia Peace Operations Emmanuel Wekem Kotia,2015-04-22 Africa Nations have contributed to peace operations in conflict zones across the world since the deployment of the United Nations Operations in the Congo in 1960 This has placed Africa as a major stakeholder in the maintenance of peace and security For over fifty years Ghana has earned the international reputation as one of the largest and consistent Troop Contributing Country in United Nations mandated peace operations While Ghana has long been an active contributor to peace operations there are few or no comparative studies that systematically analyze the actual roles played by troops in many of the different conflict context where they have served This book therefore focuses on a comparison of two peace operations undertaken by the forces of an African Nation in two different missions in Lebanon and Liberia A United Nations for the Twenty-First Century Dimitris Bourantonis,Marios Evriviades,2023-09-14 This collective work brings together scholars international civil servants and field practitioners who examine a wide range of theoretical and practical problems as well as challenges confronting the world and the United Nations at the dawn of the twenty first century The papers in this volume have been organized under themes which focus on problem areas and challenges that mankind must unavoidably deal with collectively in the years ahead much as it has attempted to do during the past half century The contributors address the triangular relationship between peace security and development and raise questions about the relevance of the UN system in the decades to come The authors do so through reflection on past experiences and relevant philosophical inquiries They examine specific cases and experiences that are representative of the relevance or irrelevance of past collective actions in the security and non security fields and suggest new ideas and concepts that attempt to marry theory and practice In this connection aspects of peacemaking and peacekeeping arms control economic development human rights and the critical role of education are amongst the topics analyzed and assessed One of the underlying themes of the volume is that the challenges of the twenty first century will be of unprecedented magnitude Unless the UN system is reformed and revitalized it runs the risk of becoming irrelevant

Over the last twenty years the world has witnessed four major genocides There was the genocide in Iraq 1988 in Rwanda 1994 in Srebrenica 1995 and in Darfur 2003 and continuing Most observers agree there is an urgent need to assess the international community s efforts to prevent genocide and to intervene once a genocide is under way in an effective and timely manner This volume the latest in a widely respected series on the subject of genocide provides an overview of a host of issues germane to this task The book begins with a cogent discussion of the issues of prevention and intervention during the Cold War years The second chapter discusses the abject failures and moderate though in some cases highly controversial successes at prevention and intervention carried out in the 1990s and early 2000s Further chapters examine latest efforts to develop an effective genocide early warning system and examine the complexity of and barriers to prevention The pros and cons of sanctions and the problems of enforcement and evaluation their effectiveness are then discussed Conflicts between state sovereignty and the protection of threatened populations are examined both in historical context and by incorporating the latest thinking Later chapters treat the issue of intervention why and how it has met with only limited success Concentrating on Rwanda and Srebrenica chapter 8 discusses various peace operations that were abject failures and those that were moderately successful The concept of an anti genocide regime is examined in terms of progress in developing such a regime as well as what the international community must do in order to implement it Chapters discuss key issues related to post genocidal periods those that need to be addressed in order to establish stability in a wounded land and populace as well as to prevent future genocides The final chapter asks whether bringing perpetrators to justice has any impact in breaking impunity ensuring deterrence and bringing about reconciliation The contributors to the volume are all noted scholars some of whom specialize in the study of genocide and others who specialize in such areas as early warning peacekeeping and sanctions
