Professing Rhetoric:

Professing Rhetoric Frederick J. Antczak, Cinda Coggins, Geoffrey D. Klinger, 2005-04-11 Representing current theory and research in rhetoric this volume brings together scholarship from a variety of orientations theoretical critical historical and pedagogical Some contributions cover work that has previously been silenced or unrecognized including Native American African American Latino and women's rhetorics Others explore rhetoric's relationship to performance and to the body or to revising canons stases topoi and pisteis Still others are reworking the rhetorical lexicon to comprise contemporary theory Among these diverse interests rhetoricians find common themes and share intellectual and pedagogical enterprises that hold them together even as their institutional situations keep them apart Topics discussed in this collection include Rhetoric as figurality comparative and contrastive rhetorics rhetoric and gender and rhetorics of science and technology Rhetoric and reconceptions of the public sphere rhetoric and public memory and rhetorics of globalization and social change including issues of race ethnicity and nationalism Rhetoric's institutionalized place in the academy in relation to other humanities and to the interpretive social sciences and The place of rhetoric in the formation of departments and the development of pedagogy With its origins in the 2000 Rhetoric Society of America RSA conference this volume represents the range and vitality of current scholarship in rhetoric The conversations contained herein indicate that professing rhetoric is at the turn of the millennium an intellectual activity that engages with and helps formulate the most important public and scholarly questions of today As such it will be engaging reading for scholars and students and is certain to provoke further thought discussion and exploration

Professing the New Rhetorics Theresa Enos, Stuart Cameron Brown, 1994 A Blair Press Book A collection of key texts in twentieth century rhetoric The first section contains important theoretical readings from the founders of modern rhetoric the second section provides influential commentaries on modern rhetorical theory The Realms of Rhetoric Joseph Petraglia, Deepika Bahri, 2012-02-01 In The Realms of Rhetoric contributors from a wide range of disciplines explore the challenges and opportunities faced in building a curricular space in the academy for rhetoric Although rhetoric education has its roots in ancient times the modern era has seen it fragmented into composition and public speaking obscuring concepts theories and skills Petraglia and Bahri consider the prospects for rhetoric education outside of narrow disciplinary constraints and together with leading scholars examine opportunities that can propel and revitalize rhetoric education at the beginning of the millennium

Rhetoric and Writing Studies in the New Century Cheryl Glenn, Roxanne Mountford, 2017-07-17 This collection of essays investigates the historiography of rhetoric global perspectives on rhetoric and the teaching of writing and rhetoric offering diverse viewpoints Addressing four major areas of research in rhetoric and writing studies contributors consider authorship and audience discuss the context and material conditions in which students compose cover the politics of the field and the value of a rhetorical education and reflect on contemporary trends in canon diversification Providing both retrospective and prospective assessments Rhetoric and Writing Studies in the

New Century offers original research by important figures in the field Thinking with Bruno Latour in Rhetoric and Composition Paul Lynch, Nathaniel Rivers, 2015-04-20 Best known for his books We Have Never Been Modern Laboratory of Life and Science in Action Bruno Latour has inspired scholarship across many disciplines In the past few years the fields of rhetoric and composition have witnessed an explosion of interest in Latour's work Editors Paul Lynch and Nathaniel Rivers have assembled leading and emerging scholars in order to focus the debate on what Latour means for the study of persuasion and written communication Essays in this volume discern, rearticulate and occasionally critique rhetoric and composition's growing interest in Latour These contributions include work on topics such as agency, argument, rhetorical history, pedagogy and technology among others Contributors explain key terms, identify implications of Latour's work for rhetoric and composition and explore how his theories might inform writing pedagogies and be used to build research methodologies Thinking with Bruno Latour in Rhetoric and Composition shows how Latour's groundbreaking theories on technology, agency and networks might be taken up, enriched and extended to challenge scholars in rhetorical studies, both English and communications, composition and writing studies to rethink some of the field's most basic assumptions It is set to become the standard introduction that will appeal not only to those scholars already interested in Latour but also those approaching Latour for the first time Contemporary Rhetorical Theory John Louis Lucaites, Celeste Michelle Condit, Sally Caudill, 1999-01-01 This indispensable text brings together important essays on the themes, issues and controversies that have shaped the development of rhetorical theory since the late 1960s An extensive introduction and epilogue by the editors thoughtfully examine the current state of the field and its future directions focusing in particular on how theorists are negotiating the tensions between modernist and postmodernist considerations Each of the volume's eight main sections comprises a brief explanatory introduction, four to six essays selected for their enduring significance and suggestions for further reading Topics addressed include problems of defining rhetoric, the relationship between rhetoric and epistemology, the rhetorical situation, reason and public morality, the nature of the audience, the role of discourse in social change, rhetoric in the mass media and challenges to rhetorical theory from the margins An extensive subject index facilitates comparison of key concepts and principles across all of the essays featured Living Rhetoric and Composition Duane H. Roen, Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 1998-11-01 This collection of the stories of scholars who have found a lifelong commitment to the teaching of writing includes the professional histories of 19 rhetoricians and compositionists who explain how they came to fall in love with the written word and with teaching Their stories are filled with personal anecdotes, some funny, some touching, some moving The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies Andrea A. Lunsford, Kirt H. Wilson, Rosa A. Eberly, 2008-10-29 The SAGE Handbook of Rhetorical Studies surveys the latest advances in rhetorical scholarship synthesizing theories and practices across major areas of study in the field and pointing the way for future studies Edited by Andrea A. Lunsford and Associate Editors Kirt H. Wilson and Rosa A. Eberly the Handbook aims to introduce a new generation of students to rhetorical study and provide a deeply informed and ready resource for scholars currently working in the field

Mikhail Bakhtin Don Bialostosky, 2016-01-01 Rhetoric appears to be a marginal topic for the Bakhtin School and for most Bakhtin scholars but many rhetorical critics theorists and teachers have nonetheless found the school's work compelling and challenging This book collects ten essays by Don Bialostosky focusing specifically on the ways that Bakhtin's work conceptualizes and elaborates the functions of rhetoric including dialogism the art of discourse poetics carnivalesque and much more

Toward a Phenomenological Rhetoric Barbara Couture, 1998 Current rhetorical and critical theory for the most part separates writing from consciousness and presumes relative truth to be the only possible expressive goal for rhetoric These presumptions are reflected in our tradition of persuasive rhetoric which values writing that successfully argues one person's belief at the expense of another's Barbara Couture presents a case for a phenomenological rhetoric one that values and respects consciousness and selfhood and that restores to rhetoric the possibility of seeking an all embracing truth through pacific and cooperative interaction Couture discusses the premises on which current interpretive theory has supported relative truth as the philosophical grounding for rhetoric premises she argues that have led to constraints on our notion of truth that divorce it from human experience She then shows how phenomenological philosophy might guide the theory and practice of rhetoric reanimating its role in the human enterprise of seeking a shared truth She proposes profession and altruism as two guiding metaphors for the phenomenological activity of truth seeking through interaction Among the contemporary rhetoricians and philosophers who influence Couture are Pierre Teilhard de Chardin Martin Buber Charles Altieri Charles Taylor Alasdair MacIntyre and Jürgen Habermas

Vision, Rhetoric, and Social Action in the Composition Classroom Kristie S. Fleckenstein, 2009-11-16 In this innovative volume Kristie S. Fleckenstein explores how the intersection of vision rhetoric and writing pedagogy in the classroom can help students become compassionate citizens who participate in the world as they become more critically aware of the world Fleckenstein argues that all social action behavior designed to increase human dignity value and quality of life depends on a person's repertoire of visual and rhetorical habits To develop this repertoire in students the author advocates the incorporation of visual habits or ways of seeing into a language based pedagogical approach in the writing classroom According to Fleckenstein interweaving the visual and rhetorical in composition pedagogy enables students to more readily perceive the need for change while arming them with the abilities and desire to enact it The author addresses social action from the perspective of three visual habits spectacle which fosters disengagement animation or fusing body with meaning and antinomy which invites the invention of new realities Fleckenstein then examines the ways in which particular visual habits interact with rhetorical habits and with classroom methods resulting in the emergence of various forms of social action To enhance the understanding of the concepts she discusses the author represents the intertwining relationships of vision rhetoric and writing pedagogy graphically as what she calls symbiotic knots In tracing the modes of social action privileged by a visual habit and a teacher's pedagogical choices Fleckenstein attends particularly to the experiences of students who have been traditionally barred from participation in the public sphere because of gender race or class The book culminates in a call for visually and rhetorically robust writing pedagogies In Vision Rhetoric and Social Action in the Composition Classroom Fleckenstein combines classic methods of rhetorical teaching with fresh perspectives to provide a unique guide for initiating important improvements in teaching social action The result is a remarkable volume that empowers teachers to best inspire students to take part in their world at that most crucial moment when they are discovering it

Rhetoric on the Margins of Modernity C. L.

Hobbs,2002 What is the New Rhetoric? Susan E. Thomas,2009-03-26 The Age of Information has spawned a critical focus on human communication in a multimedia world particularly on theories and practices of writing With the worldwide web impacting increasingly on academic and business communication the need has never been greater for advanced study in writing communication and critical thinking across all genres sectors and cultures In recent decades the definitions of new rhetoric have expanded to encompass a variety of theories and movements raising the question of how rhetoric is understood and employed in the twenty first century The essays collected here represent variations on these themes with each attempting to answer the title s deliberately provocative question addressing particularly How the classical art of rhetoric is still relevant today How it is directly related to modern technologies and the new modes of communication they have generated How rhetorical practice is informing research methodologies and teaching and learning practices in the contemporary academy

Renewing Rhetoric's Relation to Composition Shane Borrowman,Stuart Brown,Thomas

Miller,2010-02-25 Examining the development of rhetoric and composition using the writings of Theresa Jarnagin Enos as a basis for studies of broader trends this book explores topics including the historical relations of rhetoric and composition their evolution within programs of study and Enos s research on gender

Contrastive Rhetoric Ulla Connor,Ed Nagelhout,William Rozycki,2008-01-09 This volume explores contrastive rhetoric for audiences in both ESL contexts and international EFL contexts exposing the newest developments in theories of culture and discourse and pushing the boundaries beyond any previously staked ground The book presents a comprehensive set of empirical investigations involving a number of first languages 13 of the 17 authors are English as a second language speakers many working in non US contexts This work develops a coherent agenda for contrastive rhetoric researchers studying genres such as school writing grant proposals business letters newspaper editorials book reviews and newspaper commentaries Four chapters provide ethnographies and observations about contrastive rhetoric and the teaching of EFL and ESL The book ends with a look to the future suggesting it is more accurate to use the term intercultural rhetoric to account for the richness of rhetoric variation of written texts and the varying contexts in which they are constructed

Classical Rhetoric in English, 1650-1800 Tania Sona Smith,2020-11-04 Classical Rhetoric in English 1650 1800 features English translations of the era s most cherished Greek and Roman orators rhetorical philosophers and rhetorical critics The publication history reveals how a distinctive

British canon emerged from selected works by Plato Isocrates Demosthenes Aristotle Theophrastus Cicero Seneca Quintilian Tacitus and Longinus Works by these ten authors especially Cicero and Longinus were widely disseminated becoming key texts in the formation of British rhetorical culture At the core of the volume annotated selections offer the twenty first century reader a sampling of these classical rhetorical works in translation The glossary of rhetorical criticism elucidates the now archaic meanings of words that enabled citizens to communicate their moral and rhetorical taste Communication and the Global Landscape of Faith Adrienne E. Hacker Daniels, 2016-04-27 In light of more recent conversations about religion and its import as a factor in the global geopolitical and cultural spheres augmented by the contracting of relationship among people and nations Communication and the Global Landscape of Faith highlights geographical architectural and a partial issues as significant and edifying dimensions of the study of communication and religion Insights are gleaned through the prism of the philosophical built performative political and intercultural landscapes Plato's Protagoras Olof Pettersson, Vigdis Songe-Møller, 2016-11-30 This book presents a thorough study and an up to date anthology of Plato s Protagoras International authors papers contribute to the task of understanding how Plato introduced and negotiated a new type of intellectual practice called philosophy and the strategies that this involved They explore Plato s dialogue looking at questions of how philosophy and sophistry relate both on a methodological and on a thematic level While many of the contributing authors argue for a sharp distinction between sophistry and philosophy this is contested by others Readers may consider the distinctions between philosophy and traditional forms of poetry and sophistry through these papers Questions for readers attention include To what extent is Socrates preferred mode of discourse and his short questions and answers superior to Protagoras method of sophistic teaching And why does Plato make Socrates and Protagoras reverse positions as it comes to virtue and its teachability This book will appeal to graduates and researchers with an interest in the origins of philosophy classical philosophy and historical philosophy Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts Cheryl Glenn, Krista Ratcliffe, 2011-01-05 In Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts editors Cheryl Glenn and Krista Ratcliffe bring together seventeen essays by new and established scholars that demonstrate the value and importance of silence and listening to the study and practice of rhetoric Building on the editors groundbreaking research which respects the power of the spoken word while challenging the marginalized status of silence and listening this volumemakes a strong case for placing these overlooked concepts and their intersections at the forefront of rhetorical arts within rhetoric and composition studies Divided into three parts History Theory and Criticism and Praxes this book reimagines traditional histories and theories of rhetoric and incorporates contemporary interests such as race gender and cross cultural concerns into scholarly conversations about rhetorical history theory criticism and praxes For the editors and the other contributors to this volume silence is not simply the absence of sound and listening is not a passive act When used strategically and with purpose together and separately silence and listening are powerful rhetorical devices integral to effective communication The essays cover a wide range of subjects including women rhetors from ancient Greece and medieval and Renaissance Europe African philosophy and African American rhetoric contemporary antiwar protests in the United States activist conflict resolution in Israel and Palestine and feminist and second language pedagogies Taken together the essays in this volume advance the argument that silence and listening are as important to rhetoric and composition studies as the more traditionally emphasized arts of reading writing and speaking and are particularly effective for theorizing historicizing analyzing and teaching An extremely valuable resource for instructors and students in rhetoric composition and communication studies Silence and Listening as Rhetorical Arts will also have applications beyond academia helping individuals cultural groups and nations more productively discern and implement appropriate actions when all parties agree to engage in rhetorical situations that include not only respectful speaking reading and writing but also productive silence and rhetorical listening
