Radio A Post Nine Eleven Strategy For Reaching The Worlds Poor:

Saving the World Emile G. McAnany, 2012-04-15 This far reaching and long overdue chronicle of communication for development from a leading scholar in the field presents in depth policy analyses to outline a vision for how communication technologies can impact social change and improve human lives Drawing on the pioneering works of Daniel Lerner Everett Rogers and Wilbur Schramm as well as his own personal experiences in the field Emile G McAnany builds a new historically cognizant paradigm for the future that supplements technology with social entrepreneurship McAnany summarizes the history of the field of communication for development and social change from Truman s Marshall Plan for the Third World to the United Nations Millennium Development Goals Part history and part policy analysis Saving the World argues that the communication field can renew its role in development by recognizing large aid giving institutions have a difficult time promoting genuine transformation McAnany suggests an agenda for improving and strengthening the work of academics policy makers development funders and any others who use communication in all of its forms to foster social change

Broadcasting in the 21st Century Richard Rudin, 2017-09-16 The 21st century is already seeing fundamental changes in broadcasting No longer are audiences limited to watching or listening to television and radio at the times and places dictated by the broadcasters or on radio or TV sets Broadcasting in the 21st Century demonstrates how traditional television and radio is being both challenged and supported by technological developments including convergence and social media Drawing on interviews with industry personnel and featuring case studies and research from many countries including that from the UK USA China India and South Africa Richard Rudin explains not only the significance of these changes but also how many of the functions and pleasures of broadcasting that were established in the 20th century are being enhanced by new media Opening with a substantial account of how broadcasting developed in the 20th century the author goes on to explore how new media forms are changing audiences pleasures expectations and demands Rudin s illuminating study highlights the changing relationship between audiences and broadcast output to examine a range of subjects including The impact of citizens journalism Political coverage International TV formats and news output The continuing appeal of radio as a distinct medium Debates over bias truth and trust in broadcasting and broadcasters In addition Broadcasting in the 21st Century addresses a range of broadcast forms and genres including the coverage of general elections Reality TV and pirate radio

Short Stories: The Long and Short of It STEPHEN SPOSATO, 2013-01-13 This collection of short stories was physically dragged with me over a life time before finally being typed anew this time onto electronic medium from the original electric or mechanically typed hand corrected vellum sheets and coming to rest on the cloud This typed and now published collection constitutes a gift to all and no one from my work a day world retirement to one of the arts philosophy and life Written mostly as a young man in Belgium the stories represent some of the more imaginary turns of a youthful mind Surrealism existentialism modernism the likes of Robbe Grillet Boris Vian Jean Cocteau and Kurt Vonnegut show threads of influence throughout the warp and woof Several recent stories complete the collection There you will recognize the spirit of George Orwell or that of the peerless Ferdinand Celine if you look carefully The stories are torn from life a life you will know well too if not the one you were taught to see

Translating the Bible into Media Andreas Ernst, 2024-09-10 Multimedia and technology has become increasingly important in reaching ministry audiences worldwide Many ministry organizations emphasize the creation and dissemination of polished audiovisual products but often without considering if the products fit the needs and media habits of the target audience In this book Ernst examines the strategic implications and advantages of a variety of media platforms while inspiring the media creator to consider the needs learning styles and communication preferences of the audience Translating the Bible into Media is practical and well researched It is written in plain English with practical examples drawn from real life field research Scripture engagement workers media specialists and those working in low resource settings will find it a treasure trove of helpful ideas and recommendations

Radio Stephen Sposato, William Arthur Smith, 2005-06-30 Featured October 11 2006 on NPR WAMU's Kojo Nnamdi Show In a post 9 11 world where a few ruthless men and women can use modern technology to create powerful webs of conspiracy the public voice of radio is needed more than ever Computers trap us in the blue glow of their virtual reality Cell phones connect us but what do we have to say to each other and especially to the poor that will impact their lives Radio attempts to answer this question Radio listening groups helped Tanzania create a new democracy in the aftermath of colonialism Radio taught young children in Kenya to speak English and made learning their ABCs a lively and exciting adventure Radio learning groups taught Honduran and Ecuadorian mothers the benefits of breast feeding Learn along with millions of British the fate of Grace who dies in an accidental barn fire as the BBC tries to teach post war UK farmers to avoid the same fate Live the trials of families in India faced with the pressure of traditional customs trying to deal with the challenges of a modern world These lessons of radio's potency are being submerged in the clutter of new techno gadgets gimmicks and gizmos Co authors Stephen Sposato and Wm Smith bring these little known stories to life and revive our faith in radio as a truly modern tool of social change They help us to understand the changes undergone in U S governmental broadcasting as attempts are made to make today's radio relevant in the Middle East and beyond Authors royalties from this book will be donated to four prominent non profit educational foundations all radio practitioners The Academy for Educational Development Freeplay Foundation Panos and Population Communications International PCI

Six Years Later United States. Congress. House. Committee on Oversight and Government Reform. Subcommittee on National Security and Foreign Affairs,2009 World Sustainable Development Outlook 2007 Allam Ahmed,2017-09-29 The World Sustainable Development Outlook series has been developed to provide an overview of sustainable development to discuss why it is important and to provoke forward thinking on the development of a more coherent approach to solving global problems related to sustainability through science and technology In doing so a holistic approach is used to critically examine the interrelationship between the natural governmental economic and social dimensions of our world and how science and technology can contribute to solutions This is a truly global source book which is reflected in the varied national and cultural origins of the contributors as well as the topics and case studies covered Each year a different theme will be covered The theme of World Sustainable Development Outlook 2007 is the different dimensions of knowledge and technology management in the new era of information revolution and how they relate to sustainable development Rapid innovation in information and communication technologies ICTs is clearly reshaping the world we live in Countries are increasingly judged by whether they are information rich or information poor It is estimated that 30 40% of the world s economic growth and 40 50% of all new jobs will be IT driven Education and knowledge are the chief currencies of the modern age and can also be a strategic resource and a lifeline for sustainable development Yet in Africa millions of people have never made a telephone call The technological gulf between developed and developing countries DCs is likely to widen further with the rapid expansion of the internet and the speedy transition to digitalisation in the West The impacts on DCs may include an increase in the so called brain drain and growing dependence on foreign aid of a different kind knowledge aid There are fears that knowledge imperialism is already with us What is clear is that most of the technological innovations in ICTs are Western designed and fail to address the needs of the most disadvantaged The interest of industrialised countries in the use of ICTs in DCs has largely been more concerned with the profitability of their own business enterprises than with any broader goals concerning the development of the host countries DCs face the challenge of either becoming an integral part of the knowledge based global economy or the very real danger of finding themselves on the wrong side of the digital divide Successful management in the new millennium requires developing new methods and approaches to meet the challenges and opportunities of this information revolution while at the same time fostering sustainable development Adopting a holistic approach this book aims to critically examine the interrelationship between these different issues in order to reach solutions and a consensus for a better future taking into account a variety of international institutional and intellectual perspectives It uses case and country studies in technological innovation and experience so that lessons in effective management of ICTs can be learned from successful initiatives ideas and innovations
