Reasonable Rationing International Experience Of Priority Setting In Health Care:

EBOOK: Reasonable Rationing Chris Ham, Robert Glenn, 2003-05-16 Reasonable Rationing is must reading for those interested in how to connect theory about fair rationing processes to country level practices The five case studies reveal a deep tension between political pressures to accomodate interest group demands and ethically motivated efforts to improve both information and institutional procedures for setting fair limits to care The authors frame the issues insightfully Professor Norman Daniels Harvard School of Public Health How are different countries setting priorities for health care What role does information and evidence on cost and effectiveness play How are institutions contributing to priority setting What are the lessons for policy makers Priority setting in health care is an issue of increasing importance Choices about the use of health care budgets are inescapable and difficult A number of countries have sought to strengthen their approach to priority setting by drawing on research based evidence on the cost and effectiveness of different treatments This book brings together leading experts in the field to summarize and analyse the experience of priority setting in five countries Canada The Netherlands New Zealand Norway and the United Kingdom Drawing on literature from a range of disciplines it makes a significant contribution to the debate on the role of information and institutions in priority setting Reasonable Rationing has been written with a broad readership in mind It will be of interest to policy makers health care professionals and health service managers as well as students of health and social policy at advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels

Rationing in Health Care Iestyn Williams, Helen Dickinson, Suzanne Robinson, 2012 A clearly written and well structured textbook providing an introduction to decision making and priority setting this title brings together theories practice and evidence from a wide range of disciplines Reasonable Rationing Ham, Chris, Glenn, Robert, 2003-05-01 Health care rationing is a reality in much of the world and priority setting is an issue of increasing importance Choices about the use of health care budgets are inescapable and difficult This study look at priority setting in the health services of several countries EBOOK: The Politics Of European Union Health Policies Scott Greer, 2009-06-16 Scott Greer has done a remarkable job in explaining how the Europeanization of health policy takes place how institutional legacies exert an influence in lobbying how harmonization exacerbates path dependent welfare structures that in turn impede a race to the bottom and why the idea of a European social model creates positive external effects even if it is a only an ad hoc policy construction Journal of European Social Policy 2010 20 2 Provides an original and thought provoking perspective and approach combining in depth theoretical discussions and well researched case studies over 11 chapters The book is well written and insightful and the main argument is that EU law and policy developments directly and indirectly have the potential of undermining domestic health systems and the political actors within them Journal of Common Market Studies 2010 Volume 48 Number 3 This book provides a unique insight into what is going on unnoticed by most below the surface in EU health policy It serves as a wake up call for those who continue to believe that the EU is of marginal interest and relevance in national level debates about the direction of health care In addition in an engaging and lively style it provides essential guidance for students of health policy who seek to understand the labyrinthine processes and the wide ranging unintended consequences for good and for bad of EU policy making Professor Naomi Chambers Head of Health Policy and Management Manchester Business School In this insightful book Scott Greer describes how European health policy has long been developed in a secret garden where a small number of people find pragmatic solutions to immediate problems while avoiding the fundamental questions Yet the logic of European integration is tearing down the garden s walls creating a public park where pragmatism takes second place to principles Something must be done but it is not clear what Greer s book will be essential reading for anyone who is responsible for organising how health care is delivered in Europe Martin McKee CBE London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine UK This important new book explains how European Union EU developed policies shape and constrain health services It answers the key questions asked of EU health policy What is it Why did it happen What does it take to influence it and how can it be changed Using extensive new data Greer discusses how EU policy is influenced by lobbies in Brussels and by four big member states France Germany Spain and the United Kingdom Shaping EU health policy takes information coordination nimbleness and focus The book examines the ways that the successful health lobbies and member states work identifies weaknesses and emphasizes the challenge to health policymakers if they do not influence EU health policies they will lose influence over their own health systems The Politics of European Union Health Policies will be of great interest to students and academics of EU policy and politics as well as health policy makers

Health Policy And Economics: Opportunities And Challenges Smith, Peter, Sculpher, Mark, Ginnelly, Laura, 2004-11-01 Health economics has made major contributions to the development of health policy in many countries This book describes those successes and looks forward to the major contributions that health economics can bring to bear on emerging policy issues in health and health care With contributions from internationally recognized researchers this book addresses generic policy issues confronting health systems across the developed world The coverage progresses from micro patient level issues to macro whole system issues including Determining cost effective treatments Fair distribution of health care Regulatory issues such as performance measurement and incentives Revenue distribution Decentralization and internationalization of health systems Health Policy and Economics identifies the major contributions that health economics makes to important policy issues in health and health care It is key reading for policy makers and health managers as well as students and academics with an interest in health policy and health services research Contributors Ron L Akehurst Karen E Bloor Martin Buxton Karl P Claxton Richard Cookson Diane A Dawson Paul Dolan Mike Drummond Brian Ferguson Hugh Gravelle Maria Goddard Katharina Hauck John Hutton Andrew M Jones Rowena Jacobs Paul Kind Rosella Levaggi Guillem Lpez Casanovas Alan K Maynard Nigel Rice Anthony Scott Rebecca Shaw Trevor Sheldon Andrew D Street Mark Sculpher Matthew Sutton Peter C Smith Adrian Towse Aki Tsuchiya Alan H Williams Restructuring The Medical Profession: The

Intraprofessional Relations Of Gps And Hospital Consultants Baeza, Juan, 2005-11-01 What is the relationship between general practitioners GPs and hospital consultants in the United Kingdom How does government health policy impact upon GPs and hospital consultants What influence does the medical profession have upon policy makers in the United Kingdom The medical profession occupies a dominant position within the British health care system and as such is able to influence the development and implementation of health policy The main division within the medical profession lies between general practitioners and hospital consultants This book provides a comprehensive analysis of British health policy over the past twenty five years Drawing on data from case studies it provides empirical evidence of the impact of recent health policies upon the National Health Service in general and the medical profession in particular The case studies provide an analysis of the impact of the 1991 NHS reforms as well as examining the ongoing influence of the post 1999 NHS reforms upon these intraprofessional relations What emerges is that the relationship between GPs and hospital consultants is transforming from a collegial to a more managerial relationship This book sheds light on the resulting development of intraprofessional relations between GPs and hospital consultants within the NHS Restructuring the Medical Profession is key reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students researchers and professionals in the fields of social policy and health policy It is also of interest to health service practitioners health service researchers and health policy makers The New Health Policy Gauld, Robin, 2009-06-01 This book analyzes the issues that form the nucleus of the emerging new health policy agenda Robin Gauld brings together in one volume a comprehensive picture of the health policy challenges facing contemporary developed world health systems as well as the strategies for tackling these The book highlights the importance to policy makers of each subject overviews research into it and discusses policy responses in Britain New Zealand and the United States The New Health Policy is essential reading for all students of health policy and health care along with policy makers and health care professionals Book Jacket Remaking Policy Carolyn Hughes Tuohy, 2018-06-03 One of the most persistent puzzles in comparative public policy concerns the conditions under which discontinuous policy change occurs In Remaking Policy Carolyn Hughes Tuohy advances an ambitious new approach to understanding the relationship between political context and policy change Focusing on health care policy Tuohy argues for a more nuanced conception of the dynamics of policy change one that makes two key distinctions regarding the opportunities for change and the magnitude of such changes Four possible strategies emerge large scale and fast paced big bang large scale and slow paced blueprint small scale and rapid mosaic and small scale and gradual incremental As Tuohy demonstrates these strategies are determined not by political and institutional conditions themselves but by the ways in which political actors individually and collectively read those conditions to assess their prospects for success in the present and over time Drawing on interviews as well as primary and secondary accounts of ten health policy cases over seven decades 1945 2015 in the US UK the Netherlands and Canada Remaking Policy represents a major advance in understanding the scale and pace of change in health policy and beyond Constructive Conversations

About Health Marshall Marinker, Fritjof Capra, 2018-08-15 Current health policy is required to respond to a constantly changing social and political environment characterised particularly in Europe by ageing populations increased migration and growing inequalities in health and services With health systems under increasing strain there is a sense that we need to seek new means of determining health policy Much political debate focuses on managerial issues such as the levels of health funding and the setting and missing of targets Meanwhile our moral imperatives our values and principles go relatively unexamined What are these values Can we agree their validity and salience How do we manage the paradox of competing goods Can we find new ways of talking about and resolving our conflicting values and competing priorities in order to create sound appropriate and just health policies for the 21st Century Written by leading health policy makers and academics from many countries Constructive Conversations about Health examines in depth the underlying values and principles of health policy and posits a more enlightened public and political discourse The book will be invaluable for those involved in health policy making and governance politicians healthcare managers researchers ethicists health and social affairs media health rights and patient participation groups The literature on health policy is vast On offer are models of health services economic theory management theory disquisitions on ethical principles social analyses literally thousands of publications In a globalised and electronically networked world this literature has already generated its own particular language a policy jargon replete with terms that look deceptively familiar terms that will be much in evidence in what now follows terms whose meanings require our closest attention Marshall Marinker The European Patient Of The Future Coulter, Angela, Magee, Helen, 2003-06-01 This book reports the results of a major study carried out in eight different European countries to look at health policy dilemmas through the eyes of the patient Drawing on literature reviews focus groups and a survey of 1 000 people in each of the eight countries the book addresses how patients no longer see themselves as passive recipients of care increasingly they expect to be involved in all decisions that affect them
