The blog has had about 75 000 views and has been read in 151 different countries since 2014 The posts reflect ideas about mental illness health and life that can be debated and discussed so that we can come to a higher understanding of the issues And we have separated out mental illness from mental health because despite their often interchangeability they are distinct Mental illness as a medical condition that disrupts a person's thinking feeling mood ability to relate to others and daily functioning Just as diabetes is a disorder of the pancreas mental illnesses are medical conditions that often result in a diminished capacity for coping with the ordinary demands of life Serious mental illnesses include major depression schizophrenia bipolar disorder obsessive compulsive disorder OCD panic disorder post traumatic stress disorder PTSD and borderline personality disorder In contrast mental health is a state of well being in which every individual realizes his or her own potential can cope with the normal stresses of life can work productively and fruitfully and is able to make a contribution to her or his community That is quite different from mental illness Unfortunately there is a tendency to confuse these Unfortunately there tendency to talk about mental health issues and problems which are not the same as mental illnesses
