King, Ellen E. Swartz,2014-03-05 What kind of social studies knowledge can stimulate a critical and ethical dialog with the past and present Re Membering History in Student and Teacher Learning answers this question by explaining and illustrating a process of historical recovery that merges Afrocentric theory and principles of culturally informed curricular practice to reconnect multiple knowledge bases and experiences In the case studies presented K 12 practitioners teacher educators preservice teachers and parents use this praxis to produce and then study the use of democratized student texts they step outside of reproducing standard school experiences to engage in conscious inquiry about their shared present as a continuance of a shared past This volume exemplifies not only why instructional materials including most so called multicultural materials obstruct democratized knowledge but also takes the next step to construct and then study how remembered student texts can be used Case study findings reveal improved student outcomes enhanced relationships between teachers and families and teachers and students and a closer connection for children and adults to their heritage Beyond Method Pamela M. Ironside, 2005 Beyond Method provides a forum for scholars across health and human sciences disciplines to explore issues surrounding philosophy methodology and epistemology in the context of interpretive scholarship The essays comprising this volume move beyond the practical descriptions or the how to of interpretive methods commonly found in textbooks to explore the contributions underlying assumptions limitations and possibilities embedded within and across particular philosophical methodological and epistemological perspectives They reveal the complexity and richness of understanding that emerges when philosophical issues are explicated within contemporary contexts illuminating new possibilities for healthcare and human science scholarship Publisher description Anthropology Explored, Second Edition Ruth Selig, Marilyn R.
