Maps Of The Mind Charts And Concepts Of The Mind And Its Labyrinths:

Secrets of Power, Volume II Ingo Swann, 2018-09-02 Most books about power only deal with the societal formula of the few having power over the enormously larger powerless masses and which is mistaken as the so called natural order of power But it is not well understood that this formula also requires social conditioning measures aimed at perpetuating the continuing depowerment of the powerless so that the powerful CAN have power over them This in turn requires the societal suppression and secretizing of all knowledge about the superlative human powers known to exist in individuals of the human species but which are socially forced into latency in most It is broadly understood that power and secrecy go together but the scope of the web of secrets surrounding the larger nature of human power s is surprising As discussed in this Volume I of SECRETS OF POWER empowerment is difficult if the larger panorama of societal power and depowerment are not more fully understood

Towards a New Science of Health Stephen Fulder, Robert Lafaille, 2005-08-15 The foundations of health sciences need rethinking The mechanistic biomedical model apparently so successful in the past is now criticised for failing to explain what health is and how it can be preserved The world s major health problems no longer seem so controllable A new science of health is needed a radical spirit of inquiry which draws on a broad knowledge base and a variety of approaches a science which does not balk at reconceptualising health and building on innovative research Towards a New Science of Health provides a radical alternative to current biomedical thinking Presenting an overview of all major paradigms in the health sciences their historical development socio cultural background and value the book provides a framework for innovative thinking in health

Drawing on a range of disciplinary perspectives and focussing on a variety of approaches systems theory human experience and biography the healing process and social relations the authors aim to bridge the gap between personal experience and scientific knowledge Translating Cultures David Katan,2014-06-03 As the 21st century gets into stride so does the call for a discipline combining culture and translation This second edition of Translating Cultures retains its original aim of putting some rigour and coherence into these fashionable words and lays the foundation for such a discipline This edition has not only been thoroughly revised but it has also been expanded In particular a new chapter has been added which focuses specifically on training translators for translational and intercultural competencies The core of the book provides a model for teaching culture to translators interpreters and other mediators It introduces the reader to current understanding about culture and aims to raise awareness of the fundamental role of culture in constructing perceiving and translating reality Culture is perceived throughout as a system for orienting experience and a basic presupposition is that the organization of experience is not reality but rather a simplified model and a distortion which varies from culture to culture Each culture acts as a frame within which external signs or reality are interpreted The approach is interdisciplinary taking ideas from contemporary translation theory anthropology Bateson s logical typing and metamessage theories Bandler and Grinder s NLP meta model theory and Hallidayan functional grammar Authentic texts and translations are offered to illustrate the various strategies that a cultural mediator can adopt in order to make the different cultural frames he or she is mediating between more explicit The New Ecology of Leadership David K. Hurst,2014-10-07 David Hurst has a unique knowledge of organizations their function and their failure both in theory and in practice He has spent twenty five years as an operating manager often in crises and turnaround conditions and is also a widely experienced consultant teacher and writer on business This book is his innovative integration of management practice and theory using a systems perspective and analogies drawn from nature to illustrate groundbreaking ideas and their practical application It is designed for readers unfamiliar with sophisticated management concepts and for active practitioners seeking to advance their management and leadership skills Hurst s objective is to help readers make meaning from their own management experience and education and to encourage improvement in their practical judgment and wisdom His approach takes an expansive view of organizations connecting their development to humankind s evolutionary heritage and cultural history It locates the origins of organizations in communities of trust and follows their development and maturation He also crucially tracks the decline of organizations as they age and shows how their strengths become weaknesses in changing circumstances Hurst s core argument is that the human mind is rational in an ecological rather than a logical sense In other words it has evolved to extract cues to action from the specific situations in which it finds itself Therefore contexts matter and Hurst shows how passion reason and power can be used to change and sustain organizations for good and ill The result is an inspirational synthesis of management theory and practice that will resonate with every reader s experience CIO,1993-04-01 The

Potentiating Health and the Crisis of the Immune System S. Fulder, A. Mizrahi, N. Sheinman, 2013-06-29 With all the enormous resources that are invested in medicine it is sometimes a mystery why there is so much sickness still in evidence Our life span though higher than at any time in history has now leveled off and has not significantly increased in the last two generations There is a one third increase in long term illness in the last 20 years and a 44% increase in cancer incidence which are not related to demographic issues In some modern countries the level of morbidity defined as days off work because of sickness has increased by two thirds in this time Despite 1 trillion spent on cancer research in 20 years the War On Cancer has recently been pronounced a complete failure by the U.S. President's Cancer Panel Evidently we still have a long way to go The goal of Health for All by the Year 2000 as the World Health Organization has put it is another forgotten dream As ever the answer will be found in breaking out of the old philosophical patterns and discovering the new as yet unacceptable concepts The problems of medicine today require a Kuhnian breakthrough into new paradigms and new ways of thinking And these new ways will not be mere variations of the old but radical departures This book and the conference upon which it was based is part of a search for these new pathways

System Design Modeling and Metamodeling John P. van Gigch, 2013-06-29 This book is a venture in the worlds of modeling and of metamodeling At this point I will not reveal to readers what constitutes metamodeling Suffice it to say that the pitfalls and shortcomings of modeling can be cured only if we resort to a higher level of inquiry called meta-inquiry and metadesign We reach this level by the process of abstraction The book contains five chapters from my previous work Applied General Systems Theory Harper and Row London and New York First Edition 1974 Second Edition 1978 More than ten years after its publication this material still appears relevant to the main thrust of system design This book is dedicated to all those who are involved in changing the world for the better In a way we all are involved in system design from the city manager who struggles with the problems of mass transportation or the consolidation of a city and its suburbs to the social worker who tries to provide benefits to the urban poor It includes the engineer who designs the shuttle rockets It involves the politician engaged in drafting a bill to recycle containers or one to prevent pesticide contamination of our food The politician might even need system design to chart his or her own re-election campaign
