Interpretation and Literature in Early Medieval China Alan K. L. Chan, Yuet-Keung Lo, 2010-07-01 Covering a time of great intellectual ferment and great influence on what was to come this book explores the literary and hermeneutic world of early medieval China In addition to profound political changes the fall of the Han dynasty allowed new currents in aesthetics literature interpretation ethics and religion to emerge during the Wei Jin Nanbeichao period The contributors to this volume present developments in literature and interpretation during this era from a variety of methodological perspectives frequently highlighting issues hitherto unremarked in Western or even Chinese and Japanese scholarship These include the rise of new literary and artistic values as the Han declined changing patterns of patronage that helped reshape literary tastes and genres and new developments in literary criticism The religious changes of the period are revealed in the literary self presentation of spiritual seekers the influence of Daoism on motifs in poetry and Buddhist influences on both poetry and historiography Traditional Chinese literary figures such as the fox and the ghost receive fresh analysis about their particular representation during this period

Tracking the Banished Immortal Paula M. Varsano, 2003-09-30 Li Bo 701 762 has long inspired controversy among readers and critics Known even during his lifetime as the Banished Immortal he continues to spark imaginations and challenge passionately held convictions about poetic values In this lucid and gracefully written volume Paula Varsano presents the first full length study of Li Bo in English in half a century and the first extended look at the poet s critical reception Persuaded that the essence of his poetry lay well beyond the reach of the usual modes of study and description readers from the ninth to the twentieth century developed a particularly dynamic critical language Varsano shows how this language evolving out of the critical concepts of emptiness and substance answered the need to conceptualize shifting parameters of poetic creativity over hundreds of years At the same time she offers an account of Li Bo s entry into the canon and asks how this in turn transformed both the reception of his work and the transmission of his poetic persona This story of Li Bo s critical reception and canonization is propelled by the malleable and elusive ideal of the ancient And so Varsano devotes the second part of her study to the poems themselves investigating those poetic manifestations of ancientness that translated into the enduring figure of the Banished Immortal

The Craft of Oblivion Albert Galvany, 2023-07-01 Examines the intersections between forgetting and remembering in classical Chinese civilization The Craft of Oblivion is an innovative and groundbreaking volume that aims to study for the first time the intersections between forgetting and remembering in classical Chinese civilization Oblivion has tended to be relegated to a marginal position often conceived as the mere destructive or undesirable opposite of memory even though it performs an essential function in our lives Forgetting and memory far from being autonomous and mutually exclusive spheres should be seen as interdependent phenomena Drawing on perspectives from history philosophy literature and religion and examining both transmitted texts and excavated materials the contributors to this volume analyze various ways of understanding oblivion and its complex and fertile relations with memory in ancient China Tensions in World

Literature Weigui Fang, 2018-09-28 This collection gives a diversified account of world literature examining not only the rise of the concept but also problems such as the relation between the local and the universal and the tensions between national culture and global ethics In this context it focuses on the complex relationship between Chinese literature and world literature not only in the sense of providing an exemplary case study but also as an introspection and re location of Chinese literature itself The book activates the concept of world literature at a time when it is facing the rising modern day challenges of race class and culture Configurations of Comparative Poetics Zong-qi Cai, 2001-12-30 This comprehensive comparative study of Western and Chinese poetics begins with broad examinations of the two traditions over more than two and a half millennia From these parallel surveys a series of important theoretical questions arises How do Western and Chinese critics conceptualize the nature origin and function of literature What are the fundamental differences if any in their ways of thinking about literature Can we account for these differences by examining Western truth based and Chinese process based cosmological paradigms What are the major distinctive concepts of literature developed within Western and Chinese poetics How have these concepts impacted the development of the two traditions at various times After considering a wide range of major critical texts Configurations of Comparative Poetics presents bold and cogent answers to these questions while shedding light on the distinctive orientations of Western and Chinese poetics The second half of the book features four comparative case studies Plato and Confucius on poetry Wordsworth and Liu Xie on the creative process the twentieth century Imagists and their earlier Chinese counterparts on the relationship of the Chinese written character to poetics and Derrida and the Madhyamika Buddhists on language and onto theology The author not only identifies an array of critical concerns shared by Western and Chinese critics but also differentiates the conceptual models used by each and traces them to cosmological paradigms The Magnitude of Ming Christopher Lupke, 2005-01-31 Few ideas in Chinese discourse are as ubiquitous as ming variously understood as command allotted lifespan fate or life In the earliest days of Chinese writing ming was already present invoked in divinations and etched into ancient bronzes it has continued to inscribe itself down to the twenty first century in literature and film This volume assembles twelve essays by some of the most eminent scholars currently working in Chinese studies to produce the first comprehensive study in English of ming s broad web of meanings The essays span the history of Chinese civilization and represent disciplines as varied as religion philosophy anthropology literary studies history and sociology Cross cultural comparisons between ancient Chinese views of ming and

Western conceptions of moira and fatum are discussed providing a specific point of departure for contrasting the structure of attitudes between the two civilizations Ming is central to debates on the legitimacy of rulership and is the crucial variable in Daoist manuals for prolonging one's life It has preoccupied the philosopher and the poet and weighed on the minds of commoners throughout imperial China Ming was the subject of the great critic Jin Shengtan's last major literary work and drove the narrative of such classic novels as The Investiture of the Gods and The Romance of the Three Kingdoms Confucius Mencius and most other great thinkers of the classical age as well as those in ages to come had much to say on the subject It has only been eschewed in contemporary Chinese philosophy but even its effacement there has ironically turned it into a sort of absent cause
