

A stylized illustration of a mountain landscape. The foreground features a dark blue mountain slope on the left. In the center, a mountain range is depicted with various shades of blue and green, suggesting different geological layers or vegetation. A prominent mountain peak in the middle ground is colored in a vibrant orange and red, with dark green lines running down its slopes, possibly representing a river or a geological fault. The background shows more distant, lighter green mountain peaks under a solid blue sky. The overall style is graphic and colorful.
