Mink and Red Herring Abbott Joseph Liebling, 1949      Shame the Devil Wayne J. Guglielmo, 2023-04-15

When the press loses sight of truth and falls prey to bias American press critics push back to safeguard our free and democratic nation. Journalists are no strangers to criticism and some have even seen disagreements turn to outrage and acts of violence. There is another history of press criticism though. This one as a rule doesn't resort to physical threat or denunciation. Nevertheless it can be merciless when critics think the press has become too slanted in one direction, has fallen short of some ideal, is too concentrated for its own good or seems to be underreporting or ignoring some critical story of the day. Shame the Devil is a sweeping look at this other history. Beginning with Walter Lippmann, rightly regarded as the first modern press critic, Shame the Devil provides a chapter by chapter profile and analysis of his successors. Many critics work within the profession of journalism while some consider it from the outside. These include George Seldes, A.J. Liebling, Ben Bagdikian, Reed Irvine, Neil Postman, and Noam Chomsky. A concluding chapter brings together a diverse group of contemporary critics including Sharyl Attkisson, Brooke Gladstone, Eric Deggans, Amy Goodman, Janine Jackson, and Candace Owens. Merging history, biography, and a candid analysis of various critical points of view, Shame the Devil moves from press commentary in the bitter aftermath of World War I to the head-spinning paradoxes of the post-truth era. Throughout, some of America's best critics contend with both the big events of their day and the big issues of journalism to ask the always vital question: How can the press help to create and sustain a more democratic society?

CBS's Don Hollenbeck Loren Ghiglione, 2011

Loren Ghiglione recounts the fascinating life and tragic suicide of Don Hollenbeck, the controversial newscaster who became a primary target of McCarthyism's smear tactics. Drawing on unsealed FBI records, private family correspondence, and interviews with Walter Cronkite, Mike Wallace, Charles Collingwood, Douglas Edwards, and more than one hundred other journalists, Ghiglione writes a balanced biography that cuts close to the bone of this complicated newsman and chronicles the stark consequences of the anti-Communist frenzy that seized America in the late 1940s and 1950s. Hollenbeck began his career at the Lincoln Nebraska Journal, marrying the boss's daughter before becoming an editor at William Randolph Hearst's rip-roaring Omaha Bee News. He participated in the emerging field of photojournalism at the Associated Press, assisted in creating the innovative ad-free PM newspaper in New York City, reported from the European theater for NBC radio during World War II, and anchored television newscasts at CBS during the era of Edward R. Murrow. Hollenbeck's pioneering prize-winning radio program CBS Views the Press (1947-1950) was a declaration of independence from a print medium that had dominated American newsmaking for close to 250 years. The program candidly criticized the prestigious New York Times, the Daily News, then the paper with the largest circulation in America, and Hearst's flagship Journal American, and popular morning tabloid Daily Mirror. For this honest work, Hollenbeck was attacked by conservative anti-Communists, especially Hearst columnist Jack O'Brien, and in 1954, plagued by depression, alcoholism, three failed marriages, and two network firings, he worried about a third.

Hollenbeck took his own life In his investigation of this amazing American character Ghiglione reveals the workings of an industry that continues to fall victim to censorship and political manipulation Separating myth from fact CBS s Don Hollenbeck is the definitive portrait of a polarizing figure who became a symbol of America s tortured conscience
