concepts      Mission to Saturn David M. Harland, 2002-09-20 Saturn is back in the news The Cassini Huygens spacecraft a joint venture by NASA and the European Space Agency is on its way to Saturn where it will arrive in July 2004 During 2005 it will explore beneath the clouds of Titan Saturn's largest moon and potential home for extraterrestrial life Written by an established space historian and experienced author Mission To Saturn Cassini and the Huygens Probe is an up to date and timely review of our knowledge of Saturn and its enigmatic moon Titan on which the Huygens probe will land to search for prebiotic chemistry or even life It explains how the mission was planned how it will operate and as the spacecraft nears its target puts into context the discoveries that are sure to follow from this once in a lifetime mission      Water and the Search for Life on Mars David M. Harland, 2007-09-24 Mars has long been believed to have been cold dead and dry for aeons but there is now striking new proof that not only was Mars a relatively warm and wet place in geologically recent times but that even today there are vast reserves of water frozen beneath the planet's surface As well as casting fascinating new insights into Mars past this discovery is also forcing a complete rethink about the mechanisms of global planetary change and the possibility that there is microbial life on Mars David Harland considers the issue of life on Mars in parallel with the origin of life on Earth At the time the Viking instruments were designed it was thought that all terrestrial life ultimately derived its energy from sunlight and that the earliest form of life was the cyanobacteria with chlorophyll for photosynthesis It was assumed the same would be the case on Mars and that microbial life would be on or near the surface that the Vikings had sampled In parallel with these NASA projects the European Space Agency developed the Mars Express remote sensing orbiter which has detected traces of methane that may have been released by microbes If microbial life is found on Mars will it be based on DNA Will this indicate that life developed independently Or that it has characteristics in common with the most ancient forms of terrestrial life If life is found on two planets in the same planetary system this would favour the panspermia hypothesis And if martian life is radically different then in light of the discovery of planetary systems around other stars this would as remarked by Philip Morrison of MIT transform life from the status of a miracle to that of a statistic These are all questions that the exploration of Mars for life are aimed to answer      Into the Final Frontier Bernard McNamara, 2001 One of the greatest accomplishments of the 20th century was man's advance into space This book traces the development of manned space flight from the late 1800s to the present time and offers speculation about man's future objectives in space The book discusses the scientific results of manned space flight while also examining the cultural military and political factors that influenced these achievements INTO THE FINAL FRONTIER is designed to work as a supplement to a main astronomy course or in a course specifically targeting the space program      Science & Public Policy, 1998

Yearbook on Space Policy 2007/2008 Kai-Uwe Schrogl, Charlotte Mathieu, Nicolas Peter, 2010-07-19 At the time of finalising this second volume of the Yearbook on Space Policy which covers the period mid 2007 to mid 2008 Europe is as visible and strong in the area of space activities as never before Its space probes are present on the Moon around Mars and on Saturn's Moon Titan and are chasing asteroids and comets Ariane V is the most successful commercial launch vehicle and more and more European space applications satellites are in operation Finally with the successful launch of the Columbus Orbital Facility COF the most prominent highlight of this period which is also depicted on the cover of this Yearbook and the first Automated Transfer Vehicle ATV Europe has become a decisive player in human space flight This is accompanied by new policy initiatives on the ministerial level which have been bringing the European Space Agency and the European Union steadily closer Europe's outstanding development and positioning in the space field is based not only on Europe's successful engineering and scientific capabilities and capacities but also on the forceful political determination of all European actors to maintain and even further their engagement in the use of outer space And it is this political determination which provides the focus for this Yearbook on Space Policy The Yearbook describes and analyses the contexts and contents of space policy Its primary field of investigation is Europe but it also covers the whole range of global space activities and their influence on European endeavours

The First Men on the Moon David M.
