Miró Joan Miró, 1963      Joan Miró, Josep Llorens Artigas Joan Punyet Miró, Joan Gardy Artigas, 2007 The catalogue raisonné of Miró's ceramical work is a sequel to the four volume catalogue of his prints and the six volumes of his paintings and the volume of his sculptures. It has been produced by Joan Punyet Miró and Joan Gardy Artigas. It consists of a single volume in English containing 570 reproductions most of them in colour of all Miró's ceramics from the first painted vases from 1941 to the final monumental ceramic walls from 1981. All these pieces are unique, always done in stoneware or earthenware and fired in wood kilns. Comprehensive details are given for each ceramic: title, year of production, medium, materials, dimensions, with indication of signature, owner, provenance, the principal exhibitions it has appeared in and the main publications in which it has been reproduced.      Miro, Artigas, Ceramics [Nov. 5 to 30, 1963] Pierre Matisse Gallery, New York Pierre

Introductions: Miró Iria Candela, 2014-03-06 The bright colours and graphic strength of paintings by Joan Miro have made him an immensely popular modern painter, but the artist would have been extremely disappointed to see his work treated as little more than interior décor. In this accessible survey of the artist's life and career, Iria Candela explains the complex roots and darker shades that lie behind the evolution of Miró's work from the culture of his Catalan homeland to his exposure as a young man to the latest experiments of the avant-garde in Paris and the rise of Fascism in Spain. She examines not only Miró's paintings but also his sculpture, prints and murals, quoting from many of the artist's own revealing statements. For anyone wanting to explore the legacy left by the artist who declared that he wanted to assassinate painting, this concise introduction is the perfect guide.      Ceramic, Art and Civilisation Paul Greenhalgh, 2020-12-24 Full of surprises and evocative.
