B., 1901 Francis Bacon and the Loss of Self Ernst van Alphen, 1993 Since his death in April 12 Francis Bacon has been acclaimed as one of the very greatest of modern painters Yet most analyses of Bacon actually neutralize his work by discussing it as an existential expression and as the horrifying communication of an isolated individual ewhich simply transfers the pain in the paintings back to Bacon himself This study is the first attempt to account for the pain of the viewer It is also most challengingly an explanation of what Bacon e tm s art tells us about ourselves as individuals For during this very personal investigation the author comes to realize that the effect of Bacon e tm s work is founded upon the way that each of us carves our identity our eoeself e from the inchoate evidence of our senses using the conventions of representation as tools It is in his warping of these conventions of the senses rather than in the superficial distortion of his images that Bacon most radically confronts eoeart e and ourselves as individuals The Mirror and the Lamp W B 1866-1938 Maxwell, 2023-07-18 In this thought provoking work Maxwell explores the relationship between literature and reality Using examples from a wide range of authors and genres he argues that literature serves as both a mirror reflecting the world around us and a lamp illuminating aspects of the human experience that might otherwise be hidden A must read for anyone interested in the power of language and storytelling This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant The Mirror and the Lamp W B 1866-1938 Maxwell, 2023-07-18 In this thought provoking work Maxwell explores the relationship between literature and reality Using examples from a wide range of authors and genres he argues that literature serves as both a mirror reflecting the world around us and a lamp illuminating aspects of the human experience that might otherwise be hidden A must read for anyone interested in the power of language and storytelling This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the

Abrams,1969 Metaphors of Mind Brad Pasanek,2015-07-01 A pathbreaking introduction to eighteenth century metaphors of the mind that recasts the grand narrative of the Enlightenment in terms of its tropes and figures An encyclopedic dictionary along the lines of Voltaire s classic Dictionnaire Philosophique Metaphors of Mind provides an in depth look at the myriad ways in which Enlightenment writers used figures of speech to characterize the mind Drawn from Brad Pasanek s massive online archive <http://metaphorized.net> this volume constitutes a veritable treasury of mental metaphors Dividing the book into eleven broad metaphorical categories Animals Coinage Court Empire Fetters Impressions Inhabitants Metal Mirror Rooms and Writing Pasanek maps out constellations of metaphors He frames his collection of literary excerpts in each section with a more descriptive and theoretical discussion of what he calls desultory reading a form of unsystematic perusal of writing frequently employed by Enlightenment thinkers By surveying the printed past alongside the digital present the book treats eighteenth century writing as its topic while essentially exemplifying its rhetorical approach More than an exercise in quotation this intellectual history offers illuminating readings of fragmentary literary works and confrontations with neoclassical and contemporary theories of metaphor The book s entries complicate received ideas about Locke s blank slate question M H Abrams claims about mirrors and lamps and chart changing frequencies of metal metaphors in a moment of industrial revolution The book also responds to current anxieties about reading and the mass digitization of literature touching on recent discussions of distant reading shallow reading and surface reading Promoting critical and creative anachronism Metaphors of Mind redefines the notion of an archive in the age of Amazon and Google Books

Tradition and Fantasy in the Tales of Reb Nahman of Bratslav Ora Wiskind-Elper,2012-02-01 One of the most radically innovative of Hasidic masters Reb Nahman of Bratslav transformed images and concepts basic to Jewish thought into new and compelling forms Tradition and Fantasy in the Tales of Reb Nahman of Bratslav uses comparative literary criticism a range of Hasidic commentary and original exegesis of the source texts to bring the complex artistry of Reb Nahman s thought to light making it accessible to a wider audience

John the Baptist in Life and Death Gary Yamasaki,1998-11-01 In a narrative about Jesus a character like John the Baptist would not be expected to play a role much beyond that of providing a baptism for Jesus Yet the Matthaean narrator finds several other uses for John in the development of the narrative not only while he is still alive but also after he is dead In examining John s role Yamasaki deploys an audience oriented critical methodology an approach that chronicles the narrator s efforts to influence first time readers experience of the narrative as they proceed sequentially through the text He traces John s characterization as forerunner from a glowing introduction in ch 3 albeit with a slight flaw in his ideological point of view on Jesus through a progressive exacerbation of this flaw to a rehabilitation of John in ch 11 As a result of this rehabilitation the narrator is able to continue to use John in his role as forerunner in the second half of the narrative even after John's death has removed him from the story line High Romantic Argument Lawrence Lipking, 2010-06-23 M H Abrams's writings on the Romantics have had an incalculable influence on the literary history of his time High Romantic Argument treating as it does various aspects of Abrams's work is in a sense an appraisal of that history Arising from a conference held in his honor at Cornell University in the spring of 1978 it is made up of essays by six distinguished contributors who explore important critical questions related directly or indirectly to Abrams's work and its broader implications The essays address Wordsworth as a prophet Geoffrey Hartman and as a poet of silence Jonathan Wordsworth history as metaphor Wayne C Booth the nature of the critical canon Thomas McFarland the personal element in literary history Lawrence Lipking and the relation of Abrams's work to current developments in literary criticism Jonathan Culler Two central themes run throughout the radically metaphorical nature of Romantic thought and the tendency of today's students to find Romanticism less rational than Abrams does While the contributors do not always agree with one another all are keenly aware of the contemporary challenge to humanistic values A highlight of this book is the text of Abrams's masterly reply delivered extemporaneously at the end of the conference Other elements include a bibliography by Stuart A Ende a preface by Stephen M Parish and an editor's note Contributors M H Abrams Wayne C Booth Jonathan Culler Stuart A Ende Geoffrey Hartman Lawrence Lipking Thomas McFarland Stephen M Parrish Jonathan Wordsworth Zhuangzi and Modern Chinese Literature Jianmei Liu, 2016 This is a powerful account of how the ruin and resurrection of Zhuangzi in modern China's literary history correspond to the rise and fall of modern Chinese individuality By examining the twentieth century reinterpretation and appropriation of Zhuangzi the author explores modern Chinese writers' complicated relationship with tradition Instrumental Traditions and Theories of Light Xiang Chen, 2013-03-07 An analysis of the optical revolution in the context of early 19th century Britain Far from merely involving the replacement of one optical theory by another the revolution also involved substantial changes in instruments and the practices that surrounded them People's judgements about classification explanation and evaluation were affected by the way they used such optical instruments as spectroscopes telescopes polarisers photometers gratings prisms and apertures There were two instrumental traditions in this historical period each of which nurtured a body of practice that exemplified how optical instruments should be operated and especially how the eye should be used These traditions functioned just like paradigms shaping perspectives and even world views Readership Scholars and graduate students in the history of science history of instrument philosophy of science and science studies Can also be used as a textbook in graduate courses on 19th century physics Good Lighting and the Illuminating Engineer, 1909 Good Lighting and the Illuminating Engineer E.
