Relating to the History and Antiquities of Every Town in Connecticut, with Geographical Descriptions ... Second Edition. With Plates John Warner Barber,1838 Southern Campaigns of General Gates and General Greene ,1880 The Working Class and Its Culture Neil L. Shumsky,2019-10-23 Volume 5 THE WORKING CLASS AND ITS CULTURE of the American Cities series This collection brings together more than 200 scholarly articles pertaining to the history and development of urban life in the United States during the past two centuries Volume 5 contains articles that are closely related but which concentrate specifically on the changing nature of work in American cities during the past two centuries While they obviously concern the development of the industrial and post industrial economies they also recognize that economic transformations are intimately related to cultural change and that economic and cultural change are inseparable and must be considered together At the same time taken as a group the articles reveal differences in experience between black and white Americans men and women and native and foreign born Americans necessitating that each of these groups be considered separately The selections also investigate and illuminate questions about the relationships among these different groups and the kinds of actions they have taken to achieve their goals political protests boycotts strikes and so on

The Remembrancer, Or Impartial Repository of Public Events John Almon,1777 The Public Records of the State of Connecticut Connecticut,1895 The Theory and Practice of Communism United States. Congress. House. Committee on Internal Security,1973 Connecticut Historical Collections John Warner Barber,1836 Containing a General Collection of Interesting Facts Traditions Biographical Sketches Anecdotes etc Relating to the History and Antiquities of Every Town in Connecticut with Geographical Descriptions Journalism, Reporting, Writing and Editing Rowan Kidd,2018-01-25 The present book has been brought into being in view of incessant demand pertaining to the subject Journalism inherently requires that stories be told in depth Many newspapers have cut out long articles even before the Internet They have followed the example set by television news They have been hit by the rising price of newsprint and the renewed emphasis on cost cutting They are convinced that readers are pressed for time impatient with detail and conditioned to ingest the news in pellet like form The bulk of broadcast news is reporting in the sense that is used is different rather than journalism It is epitomized by the two minute wire service radio bulletin on the hour already a fast disappearing format In this incisive and well presented work the book has synthesized the findings to lay down principles of sound journalism for both those in the industry and the citizens who rely on the free press as a fundamental element of democracy First and foremost among these principles is journalism's obligation to the truth. It will immensely benefit students, teachers, mass communicators, theoreticians and practitioners alike. Something usable today, a ready reckoner for years to come, and a collector's item for all times. A must read, enduring and preservable. Print Media and Broadcast Journalism Cameron Keith, 2018-06-29

Broadcast Journalism is increasingly attracting young men and women who take up the subject for intensive study in schools of journalism in the universities and in institutions of mass communication. In fact, media are concerned with various forms into which the message is placed, written and oral, as used for transmitting messages. This book presents a vivid account of the art of mass media and journalism. Certainly, this will prove an ideal handbook for learners, aspirants and working journalists. Modern mass media journalism has reached the state of electronic age. All latest developments are categorically described in this book. Today, media-related programmes, departments, schools and colleges go by such names as journalism, journalism and mass communication, mass media, media studies, communications, communication and mass media, and a variety of other names. The book is written in a simple style and makes it easy for both the fresh entrant and the practitioner of the craft to understand what the author propounds. It covers all aspects of newswriting for the broadcast media and emphasises the need to understand the point of the audience. Working in a Global Era Vivian Shalla, 2011-10-03

Now in its second edition, this reader presents a critical examination of the changing structure of work in Canada and abroad. Its focus is on the role of Canadian labour in the globalized world. Contributors include David Livingstone, Pat Armstrong, Meg Luxton, Dave Broad and other prominent Canadian scholars. Each of the seven themed sections begins with a contextual introduction by Vivian Shalla and concludes with critical thinking questions and suggestions for further reading. New to this edition: All new content, 14 up-to-date chapters reflecting the current state of research on work in Canada. New section on informal care work. More workplace-based chapters that provide a view from the shop floor. Stepping Stones Staughton Lynd, Alice Lynd, 2009-08-17

Stepping Stones is a joint memoir by two longtime participants in movements for social change in the United States. Staughton and Alice Lynd have worked for racial equality against war with workers and prisoners and against the death penalty. Coming from similar ethical backgrounds but with very different personalities, the Lynds spent three years in an intentional community in Northeast Georgia during the 1950s. There they experienced a way of living that they later sought to carry into the larger society. Both were educated to be teachers: Staughton as a professor of history and Alice as a teacher of preschool children. But both sought to address the social problems of their times through more than their professions. After being involved in the Southern civil rights movement and the movement against the war in Vietnam in the 1960s, both Staughton and Alice became lawyers. In the Youngstown, Ohio area, they helped workers to create a variety of rank and file organizations. After retirement, they became advocates for prisoners who were sentenced to death or confined under supermaximum security conditions. Through trips to Central America in the 1980s, Staughton and Alice became familiar with the concept of accompaniment. To them, accompaniment means placing themselves at the side of the poor and oppressed.

not as dispensers of charity or as guilty fugitives from the middle class but as equals in a joint process to which each person brings an essential kind of expertise Throughout the Lynds who became Quakers in the early 1960s have been committed to nonviolence Their story will encourage young people seeking lives of public service in the cause of creating a better world
