New Net Goes Fishing Short Stories:

The New Net Goes Fishing Witi Ihimaera, 1977 The New Net Goes Fishing Witi Ihimaera, 1985 Spiritcarvers Antonella Sarti, 2022-06-08 In a land caught between the sea and cloud where the natural landscape still refuses civilization there are those the composers of words tellers of tales that help shape the minds of the people that live on its shores They are spiritcarvers New Zealand writing today is engaging in an intent struggle to subvert multiple shapes into voices These interviews as a record of biographical orature are shaped into presenting the figure of the storyteller through memory and language explorations of how we imagine and create ourselves with and into words Here we encounter the dichotomy of fiction and non fiction myth and consensual reality imagination and truth do we live within our own selected fictions Identity is shaped by the authors sense of displacement as well as of belonging meeting otherness with dispossession discovering connection through isolation Among the focal points of the interviews are the role of women s writing Maori writing interrelations among different cultures and the influence of literary and oral tradition within New Zealand His Best Stories Witi Ihimaera, 2009-06-01 In this definitive collection by one of New Zealand s best loved authors Witi Ihimaera offers his personal choice of twenty four stories from throughout his illustrious career The pieces span more than thirty five years since his first collection Pounamu Pounamu 1972 was published and showcase the range originality and humanity of this truly amazing writer Ihimaera is an inspired voice David Eggleton Metro One of our most important and influential writers his subject matter as much as his distinctive lyrical writing style demand s attention Eleanor Black Weekend Herald

Colonial and Postcolonial Fiction Robert L. Ross, 1999 Colonial and Postcolonial Fiction An Anthology draws from this great common wealth of writing offering 35 selections by major writers The works included reflect both indigenous and settler cultures and extend from the nineteenth century to the contemporary era Jacket Colonial and Postcolonial Fiction in English Robert Ross, 2013-04-11 Fiction from the old British Commonwealth once took second place to the literature of England and the United States but his is no longer the case Writers from around the globe Africa Canada Australia Pakistan New Zealand and the Caribbean have recorded their encounters with colonialism from its beginnings to its collapse and aftermath to produce an impressive body of work that internationalizes literature in English Colonial and Postcolonial Fiction in English draws from this great common wealth of writing of offer 35 selections by major writers from both indigenous and settler cultures from the nineteenth century through the contemporary era The anthology is organized into sets of short stories and stand alone selections from significant novels colonial postcolonial immigrant and personal encounters are represented Each section includes a general introduction to help readers place the works in historical and cultural perspective Biographical and critical material is provided for each writer along with commentary on each selection This anthology is an appropriate textbook for courses in Colonial and Postcolonial Studies and in Literature and Cultural Studies It will also interest general readers The Stepmother Tongue John Skinner, 1998-09-18 There are numerous twentieth century writers in English who are not technically native speakers of the language and whose relation to it is ambivalent problematic or even hostile by a simple kinship analogy one may often speak of the stepmother tongue Whilst fully aware of the current debates in postcolonial theory John Skinner is also conscious of its sometimes unhelpful complexities and contradictions The focus of this study is thus firmly on the fictional practice of the writers discussed He offers the reader an insight into the diversity and rewards of contemporary anglophone fiction whilst analysing some eighty individual texts A uniquely comprehensive guide the book will be welcomed by students and teachers of postcolonial literature

Native Son Witi Ihimaera, 2019-09-17 This is the second volume of memoir by this remarkable Maori writer and of the living myths that inspired him at the beginning of his career Look at him the young man on the cover The year is 1972 he is 28 his first book is about to be published and he has every reason to kick up his heels But behind that joyful smile and the image of a writer footing it in the Pakeha world there is another narrative one that Witi has not told before The story of a native son struggling to find a place a voice and an identity and to put a secret past to rest This sequel to his award winning memoir picks up where Maori Boy stopped following Witi through his triumphs and failures at school and university to experimenting sexually searching for love and purpose and to becoming our first Maori novelist It continues in the same vein as the first volume which was described by a reviewer as a rich powerful multi layered and totally unique story something every New Zealander should read

Leaving the Highway Mark Williams, 2013-10-01 The major New Zealand novelists of the 1980s have begun to receive international acclaim This first critical study of Janet Frame Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Maurice Gee Ian Wedde and C K Stead concentrates on their important works to explore how deeply rooted anxieties about New Zealand's cultural situation and national identity are articulated in New Zealand fiction

The Thrill of Falling Witi Ihimaera, 2012-07-06 A stunning collection of stories from one of New Zealand's favourite authors What's new A young woman utters her favourite mantras to take on the world An old woman lives like a diva re enacting Casablanca In a rewrite of a play a singer becomes a rock chick in London Moby Dick is reincarnated as an iceberg Darwin's giant tortoises on the Galapagos Islands are re encountered A young man adds a twist to his intriguing heritage In this richly imaginative and compelling collection of longer stories Witi Ihimaera makes a playful and delightfully unique nod to influences from the past Ranging across an intriguing and innovative variety of styles subjects and settings they defy the expected to reaffirm Ihimaera as one of New Zealand's finest technicians and storytellers

Striding Both Worlds Melissa Kennedy, 2011-01-01 Striding Both Worlds illuminates European influences in the fiction of Witi Ihimaera Aotearoa New Zealand's foremost M ori writer in order to question the common interpretation of M ori writing as displaying a distinctive M ori world view and literary style Far from being discrete endogenous units all cultures and literatures arise out of constant interaction engagement and even friction Thus M ori culture since the 1970s has been shaped by a long history of interaction with colonial British Pakeha and other postcolonial and indigenous cultures M ori sovereignty and renaissance movements have harnessed the structures of European modernity nation building and more recently Western global capitalism transculturation and diaspora contexts which contest New Zealand bicultural identity encouraging M ori to express their difference and self sufficiency Ihimaera s fiction has been largely viewed as embodying the specific values of M ori renaissance and biculturalism However Ihimaera in his techniques modes and themes is indebted to a wider range of literary influences than national literary critique accounts for In taking an international literary perspective this book draws critical attention to little known or disregarded aspects such as Ihimaera s love of opera the extravagance of his baroque lyricism his exploration of fantasy and his increasing interest in taking M ori into the global arena In revealing a broad range of cultural and aesthetic influences and inter references commonly seen as irrelevant to contemporary M ori literature Striding Both Worlds argues for a hitherto frequently overlooked and undervalued depth and complexity to Ihimaera s imaginary The present study argues that an emphasis on difference tends to lose sight of fiction s capacity to appreciate originality and individuality in the polyphony of its very form and function In effect literary negotiation of M ori sovereign space takes place in its forms rather than in its content the uniqueness of M ori literature is found in the way it uses the common tools of literary fiction including language imagery the text s relationship to reality and the function of characterization By interpreting aspects of Ihimaera s oeuvre for what they share with other literatures in English Striding Both Worlds aims to present an additional complementary approach to M ori New Zealand and postcolonial literary analysis

Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt, 1995-02-28 Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each entry includes an extensive annotation An introductory essay summarizes the evolution of Pacific literature

Hiwa Paula Morris, Darryn Joseph, 2023-08-10 Hiwa is a vibrant essential collection of contemporary Maori short stories featuring twenty seven writers working in English or te reo Maori The writers range from famous names and award winners Patricia Grace Witi Ihimaera Whiti Hereaka Becky Manawatu Zeb Nicklin to emerging voices like Shelley Burne Field Jack

Remiel Cottrell Anthony Lapwood and Colleen Maria Lenihan A showcase of contemporary talent Hiwa includes biographical introductions for each writer's work and explores the range of styles and subjects in the flourishing world of Maori fiction Named for Hiwa i te rangi the ninth star of Matariki signifying vigorous growth and dreams of the year ahead this anthology reveals the flourishing world of Maori writing today in Aotearoa and beyond

Imagination and the Creative Impulse in the New Literatures in English, 2021-11-01 Imagination and the Creative Impulse in the New Literatures in English brings together the proceedings of a symposium organised by the editors at the University of Trento in 1990 At a time when the study of the post colonial literatures is gaining more widespread recognition scholars based mainly at universities in Italy and Germany were invited to address the manner in which writers are giving literary expression to the complexity of contemporary post colonial and multicultural societies and to consider from their differing perspectives on the new literatures central questions of formal experimentation linguistic innovation social and political commitment textual theory and cross culturality Focusing on such major writers such as Achebe Soyinka and Walcott as well as on lesser known figures such as Jack Davis Witi Ihimaera

Rohinton Mistry and Manohar Malgonkar the contributors take up many themes characteristic of the new literatures the challenge posed to traditional authority the expression of national identity the role of literature in the liberation struggle modes of literary practice in multicultural societies the relationship of the new literatures in English to that of the former metropolitan centre and the complex intertextuality characterizing much of the literary production of post colonial societies

The Cambridge Paperback Guide to Literature in English Ian Ousby, 1996-02-23 Derived from the parent Guide to Literature in English this volume offers in concise form over 4 000 entries on literature in English from cultures throughout the world Writers and major works from the UK and the USA are represented as are those from Canada the Caribbean Australia India and Africa The coverage is broad from the classics of English literature to the best of modern writing Additionally the Guide has a wealth of entries on literary movements groups or schools in literature and criticism literary magazines genres and sub genres critical concepts and rhetorical terms

Writing Along Broken Lines Otto Heim, 1998 Covering the two decades from 1972 Swiss scholar Otto Heim presents detailed readings of the novels and short fiction by Heretaunga Pat Baker Alan Duff Patricia Grace Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera Bruce Stewart J C Sturm Apirana Taylor and Ngahuia Te Awakotuku His book places the fiction by Maori writers in the context of a culture of survival and traces its textual engagement with violence between empathy and sacrifice from the privacy of domestic violence to the public arenas of systemic violence and war He argues that out of this confrontation with violence emerges a distinctive ethnic world view created by the construction of individual experience the development of an ideological stance and the expression of a spiritual orientation Heim s analysis shows works of fiction by contemporary Maori writers as challenging explorations of the constraints placed on the literary imagination by the urgent facts of the human condition and the imperatives of culture
