Lawless, 2021-10-21 Holy Rollers with this epithet most people dismiss members of the Pentecostal sect as wild religious fanatics In this new study folklorist Elaine Lawless draws on fieldwork among Pentecostal congregations in the limestone region of southern Indiana to offer a sympathetic view of the Pentecostals as a special group distinguished by their own folk traditions and religious expression From her findings she describes the members' codes of dress and behavior their attitudes toward themselves and others their special use of words and their distinctive religious practices Focusing on the activity of a particular church she then analyzes the structure of the service and shows how its elements singing praying testifying preaching and speaking in tongues exhibit not a formless display of fervor but rather an ordered and traditional sequence that creates a unique religious expression Important to the study is the attention given the role of women Although the Pentecostal interpretation of Biblical teachings accords men dominance women occasionally preach in the church and during the testifying part of the service they are often able to exercise control and religious authority Many of the women have relatives in the dangerous work of the limestone quarries and for these women the personal experience and close relationship fostered by the Pentecostal church Lawless finds offers welcome emotional support This readable study affords a new understanding of one Pentecostal sect and an appreciation of the role of women in fundamentalist religious practices Learning in the Way Jeff Astley, 2000 Adult Christian learning is central to the life of the Christian church and is essential for its health outreach and very survival Leading Christian educators here apply the principles of Christian education to adult learning in the churches and present the results and methods of empirical research relevant to the church's ministry of adult Christian education This book will be

A Just Church Chris Howson, 2011-02-17 What does liberation theology actually look like in 21st century Britain How can the Church respond faithfully to issues like war climate change and vast global inequalities A fresh expression church in the centre of Bradford has explored these questions through radical forms of worship non violent direct action for example physically resisting the unjust detentions of asylum seekers and experimenting with new ways of being community that help to build the reign of God Church members have been arrested come under the scrutiny of security forces and been super glued together at the gates of hell aka Aldermaston Atomic Weapons Establishment This is their story their successes and disasters and their modelling of a new version of the Action Reflection cycle called EARS Education Action Reflection Sustaining aimed at helping other Christians to evolve their own way of thinking growing and demonstrating the relevance of Church in today s contexts

The Pure in Heart Martin Burrell, 2009-06-12 This is a record of how church happens even when the institution isnt looking how people are gathered together around Jesus Christ by the sheer force of the Spirits leading God constantly goes ahead of us in mission not least in communities many Christians dont know about or even dont much want to know about It is a moving and inspiring testimony to Gods creative liberty at work in our times Dr Rowan Williams Archbishop of Canterbury As the Romanies began to share their stories many of us found ourselves in tears as we realized our own poverty They were such a blessing to us in bringing us back to hear from God For God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong We heard the challenge to lay down our cleverness and pride and come in simplicity as these wonderful people had On Sunday we truly saw the power of God at work and seeing that has challenged us to come back to simple faith in Jesus Revd Shiela Porter St Georges Deal Martin tells a very moving story of discovering where God is at work in mission and following where he leads It is significant that the resulting fresh expression of church among the Romany community in Kent stretched him to new understandings of mission and the church and to rediscover practices for identifying and developing indigenous leadership We believe these lessons are transferable to many other mission contexts in our plural culture today
