Professor Of Desire:

The Professor of Desire Philip Roth, 1994-03-15 From the Pulitzer Prize winning author of American Pastoral a thoughtful elegant The New York Times Book Review and often hilarious novel about the dilemma of pleasure where we seek it why we flee it and how we struggle to make a truce between dignity and desire As a student in college David Kepesh styles himself a rake among scholars a scholar among rakes Little does he realize how prophetic this motto will be or how damning For as Philip Roth follows Kepesh from the domesticity of childhood into the vast wilderness of erotic possibility from a ménage à trois in London to the throes of loneliness in New York he creates a novel that ranks among the major achievements in the literature of our time Village Voice Professor of Desire Outlet, Outlet Book Company Staff, Random House Value Publishing Staff, 1988-12-01 Experimental Desires Kat Thomas, When Jasmine Martin walked into the school's building she had no idea how her life was going to change Meeting Josh Tillman was life changing for many reasons Including learning a bit about a professor's desires Heterosexual Masculinities and the Self-Reflexive Novel Stefano Rossoni, 2025-07-24 Heterosexual Masculinities and the Self-Reflexive Novel examines how the narratives of four world renowned authors namely J M Coetzee Milan Kundera Philip Roth and Mario Vargas Llosa offer a standpoint through which to address the inscription of heterosexual masculinity into Western literary legacy and the ways in which masculinity is re-fashioned in contemporary self-reflexive novels Considering the interconnectedness of their narratives for the first time the book explores unexamined patterns of dialogue among Coetzee Kundera Roth and Vargas Llosa while also contextualising their writing in the light of the European literary tradition inaugurated by Cervantes's Don Quixote and continued by Flaubert's Madame Bovary Rather than building on conventional theoretical approaches to literary studies Stefano Rossoni develops a fresh and engaging approach by looking at these two works not only as narrative texts but most importantly as theories of literature In dialogue with critical contributions that examined men's emotional illiteracy and struggle to develop a language for self-reflection the book argues that the narratives of Coetzee Kundera Roth and Vargas Llosa engage with the tradition of the self-reflexive novel and its ramifications to reflect on masculinity as a socio-cultural construction Ultimately their writing reveals men's novelistic self-reflexivity as a site of unintelligibility A Review of Professor Sewell's "Christian Morals" Henry WALTER, 1843 The Almost Christian Discovered: Or, The False Professor Tried and Cast: Being the Substance of Seven Sermons ... Matthew Mead, 1819 Avesta: the Religious Books of the Parsees: from Professor Spiegel's German Translation of the Original Manuscripts by A. H. Bleeck, Etc , 1864 The Lectures of a Certain Professor Joseph Farrell, 1877 The Markham Review , 1981 Wretched Refuge Jessica Datema, Diane Krumrey, 2010-02-19 Recent literary expressions of the immigrant experience reveal the postmodern narrative obsession with the immigrant as cultural and political outlier Wretched Refuge Immigrants and Itinerants in the Postmodern asks us to reimagine this preoccupation with what Junot Diaz calls the actual flows of third world bodies as part of a larger more pertinent motif of the postmodern itinerant As a figure of cultural becoming the itinerant stands for displacement and dispersion exceeding the confines of physical location political subjectivity and relation to the natural world Thus Wretched Refuge seeks to map the cosmopolitan positionalities of an immigrant or exilic experience the itinerant the migrant and other foreign bodies The essays in Wretched Refuge consider fiction memoir and pop culture genres that reconceive time space and the shifting situatedness of the subject within nature politics and culture The book weaves together modern and postmodern visions of itinerancy in the writings of Cormac McCarthy Bob Dylan Junot Diaz Edwidge Danticat Jeffrey Eugenides Jhumpa Lahiri Roberto Bola o Paul Bowles and Bill McKibben among others Throughout these radically different narratives the trace of the itinerant suggests a cosmopolitan response to localized anxieties about global hegemony The Beauty and the Burden of Being a Black Professor Cheron H. Davis,Adriel Hilton,Ricardo Hamrick,F. Erik Brooks,2021-01-18 By presenting discussions on professional development and emphasizing the challenges and triumphs experienced by Black professors across disciplines this book provides advice for junior Black scholars on how to navigate academe and tackle the challenges that Black scholars often face The Mad Professor of Babeldu Adamu Kyuka Usman Lilymjok,2013-08-30 The Mad Professor of Babeldu is a work of fiction with an eccentric professor as its major character Sitting alone in his farmhouse Professor Philjez in a profound and sometimes comic manner talks on a variety of issues from politics to religion economics culture science and a myriad of other issues This book no doubt will resonate with many readers because of its unusual character and profound ideas Bizarre comical shocking profound and perhaps blasphemous are all adjectives aptly descriptive of The Mad Professor of Babeldu Driven by Professor Philjez its eccentric major character this book despairs and inspires saddens and excites frightens and soothes sobers and intoxicates a reader It is a mixed grille It is a jolly hearty party of ideas that cannot fail to go away with gold medals in any Olympic contest of ideas Animals, Machines, and AI Erika Quinn,Holly Yanacek,2021-11-08 Sentient animals machines and robots abound in German literature and culture but there has been surprisingly limited scholarship on non human life forms in German studies This volume extends interdisciplinary research in emotion studies to examine non humans and the affective relationships between humans and non humans in modern German cultural history In recent years fascination with emotions developments in robotics and the burgeoning of animal studies in and beyond the academy have given rise to questions about the nature of humanity Using sources from the life sciences literature visual art poetry philosophy and photography this collection interrogates not animal or machine emotions per se but rather uses animals and machines as lenses through which to investigate human emotions and the affective entanglements between humans and non humans The COVID 19 pandemic made us more keenly aware of the importance of both animals and new technologies in our daily lives and this volume ultimately sheds light on the centrality of non humans in the human emotional world and the possibilities that relationships with non humans offer for enriching that world Watch our talk with the editors Erika Quinn and Holly Yanacek here https://youtu.be/RBMwXah_Om8 Ford Madox

Ford and Englishness Dennis Brown, Jenny Plastow, 2006 The controversial British writer Ford Madox Ford 1873 1939 is increasingly recognized as a major presence in early twentieth century literature International Ford Madox Ford Studies has been founded to reflect the recent resurgence of interest in him Each volume is based upon a particular theme or issue each will relate aspects of Ford s work life and contacts to broader concerns of his time Ford is best known for his fiction especially The Good Soldier long considered a modernist masterpiece and Parade s End which Anthony Burgess described as the finest novel about the First World War and Samuel Hynes has called the greatest war novel ever written by an Englishman These works together with his trilogy The Fifth Queen about Henry VIII and Katharine Howard are centrally concerned with the idea of Englishness All these and other works across Ford s prolific oeuvre are studied here Critics of Edwardian and Modernist literature have been increasingly turning to Ford s brilliant 1905 experiment in Impressionism The Soul of London as an exemplary text His trilogy England and the English of which this forms the first part provides a central reference point for this volume which presents Ford as a key contributor to Edwardian debates about the Condition of England His complex ironic attitude to Englishness makes his approach stand out from contemporary anxieties about race and degeneration and anticipate the recent reconsideration of Englishness in response to post colonialism multiculturalism globalization devolution and the expansion and development of the European Community Ford s apprehension of the major social transformations of his age lets us read him as a precursor to cultural studies He considered mass culture and its relation to literary traditions decades before writers like George Orwell the Leavises or Raymond Williams The present book initiates a substantial reassessment to be continued in future volumes in the series of Ford s responses to these cultural transformations his contacts with other writers and his phases of activity as an editor working to transform modern literature From another point of view the essays here also develop the project established in earlier volumes of reappraising Ford s engagement with the city history and modernity

To Mars via The Moon Mark Wicks, 2019-12-02 In To Mars via The Moon by Mark Wicks the reader is taken on an exhilarating journey through space exploration delving into the technological advancements and societal implications of colonizing Mars Wicks writing style is both informative and engaging offering a mix of scientific facts and speculative fiction that keeps the reader hooked from start to finish The book is a thought provoking reflection on humanity s aspirations to reach beyond Earth and establish a presence on other planets while also questioning the ethics and challenges that come with such endeavors Set within a rich literary context of science fiction To Mars via The Moon stands out as a unique contribution to the genre blending scientific research with imaginative storytelling Mark Wicks a renowned astrophysicist brings his expertise and passion for space exploration to To Mars via The Moon His extensive background in the field gives the book a sense of authenticity and credibility making it a must read for anyone interested in the future of space travel and colonization Wicks intricate understanding of the scientific principles involved in space exploration shines through in the detailed descriptions and explanations provided throughout the book I highly recommend To Mars via The Moon to readers who are fascinated by space exploration futuristic technologies and the possibilities of interplanetary travel Wicks insightful narrative offers a captivating glimpse into the challenges and wonders of venturing beyond Earth making it a compelling and enlightening read for enthusiasts of science fiction and space science

Hitchcock Susan Smith,2019-07-25 Susan Smith's treatment of the works of the most subtle of all film makers analyses the key elements of suspense humour and tone across the whole of the director's career Arguing that all three are central to our viewing experience the book demonstrates how Hitchcock's masterly integration of those elements is the key to his success as a film maker Examining in detail such films as Sabotage Notorious Rear Window Psycho Shadow of a Doubt Rope and The Birds amongst many others the book discusses the idea of the director as saboteur and the importance of the avoidance of cliché in Hitchcock's narrative

Paul Bowles's Literary Engagement with Morocco Bouchra Benlemlih,2018-01-05 This study argues that Paul Bowles is more perceptive than many American travelers in Morocco The book provides us with what are perhaps the most sustained meditations to date on Bowles's translation work and his autobiography as well as perceptive analyses of key stories such as A Distant Episode and Here to Learn and his second novel Let It Come Down set primarily in Tangier The chapter on translation dwells on the complex interactions between Moroccan storytellers and Bowles The work considers translation as a site where the oral and written colonial and post colonial scene and English and Maghrebi come face to face it is a place where things are worked out in dynamic interaction The chapter on Bowles's autobiography Without Stopping urges us to take this piece of self writing famously dubbed Without Telling by William Burroughs more seriously drawing our attention to baroque architectural features of mind and external landscape worlds distorted by mirrors dreams and fluid transit where forms morph The work also highlights difference between experience and representation of experience through language transformed through the prism of memory In the chapter on Without Stopping as well as in my discussions of Bowles's fiction I provide useful elaborations of connections between Bowles's work and that of Edgar Allan Poe My reading of one of Bowles's best known stories A Distant Episode brings to the surface a recognition that the tragic fate of the Professor the story's protagonist is an outcome of his inability to admit that cultures are not static The academically trained linguist demonstrates an unwillingness or inability to adapt to change or to read cultural signs accurately The message is that Morocco is not stuck in time and cannot be held in place by Orientalist fantasies or preconceived externally derived intellectual constructs and assumptions The book concludes that against the grain of Samuel Huntington's notion of Clash of Civilizations Bowles's poetic and geographical journey forcefully projects cosmopolitanism and transnational attention confirming that civilizations and identities open up rather than shut down war or clash

Catalogue of the Officers and Students in Yale College Yale University,1889 Motivation and Agency Alfred R. Mele,2003-01-02 What place does motivation have in the lives of intelligent agents Mele's answer is sensitive to the concerns of philosophers of mind and moral philosophers and informed by empirical work He offers a distinctive comprehensive attractive view of human agency This book stands boldly at the intersection of philosophy of mind moral philosophy and metaphysics Ordinances of the University of Cambridge University of Cambridge, 1885
