Radical Media Rebellious Communication And Social Movements:

Radical Media John D. H. Downing, 2000-08-18 This is an entirely new edition of the author's 1984 study originally published by South End Press of radical media and movements. The first and second sections are original to this new edition. The first section explores social and cultural theory in order to argue that radical media should be a central part of our understanding of media in history. The second section weaves an historical and international tapestry of radical media to illustrate their centrality and diversity from dance and graffiti to video and the internet and from satirical prints and street theatre to culture jamming, subversive song, performance art and underground radio. The section also includes consideration of ultra rightist media as a key contrast case. The book's third section provides detailed case studies of the anti fascist media explosion of 1974-75 in Portugal, Italy's long running radical media radio and access video in the USA and illegal media in the dissolution of the former Soviet bloc dictatorships.

Radical Media: Rebellious Communication and Social Movements John Derek Hall Downing, 2001 Radical Media analyses radical media and movements worldwide from dance and graffiti to video and the Internet and from satirical prints and street theatre to culture jamming, subversive song, performance art and underground radio.

Social Movements Savyasaachi, Ravi Kumar, 2017-09-19 This volume attempts to show the emerging contours of transformative action in social movements across South Asia. It argues that these contours have been shaped by contestations over questions of equity, justice and well being on the one hand and the nature and scope of new and classical social movements on the other. This is manifest in diverse modes through people's struggles, protest and dissent. The authors examine a variety of themes that have determined the course of the politics of transformative struggles. They critique neoliberalism, primitive accumulation, money class inequalities as well as aspects of capital labour conflict. They highlight the contributions of movements by women, dalit and marginalized communities, peace movements and environmental and agrarian struggles. The volume also appraises the role of internet in grassroots mobilizations and that of civil society networks in the making of participatory democracy. It further argues that the predicaments of cultural, ethnic, national, regional and linguistic identities are not divorced from capital labour conflicts. The book will serve as essential reading for students and scholars of sociology, social movements, politics, gender and feminist studies, labour studies and the informed general reader.

Community Radio Policies in South Asia Preeti Raghunath, 2020-08-07 The book draws on critical media policy studies to study the principles and performances of policies and policymaking for community radio in four countries of South Asia: Sri Lanka, Nepal, India and Bangladesh. It focuses on the processes and practices of deliberation that go into policymaking across space and time and the global-local spectrum. It stitches together a critical media policy ethnography drawing on over a 100 formal interviews and informal conversations with policy actors from South Asia in a bid to present a deliberative policy analysis of policymaking for community radio in the region. Drawing on Grounded Theory, the book fleshes out the Deliberative Policy Ecology Approach as an inclusive heuristic to study media policies.

From Sit-Ins

to #revolutions Olivia Guntarik, Victoria Grieve-Williams, 2020-01-23 From Sit Ins to revolutions examines the evolution and growth of digital activism while at once outlining how scholars theorize and conceptualize the field through new methodologies As it closely examines the role that social and digital media play in enabling protests this volume probes the interplay between historical and contemporary protests emancipation and empowerment and online and offline protest activities Drawn from academic and activist communities the contributors look beyond often studied mass action events in the USA UK and Australia to also incorporate perspectives from overlooked regions such as Aboriginal Australia Thailand Mexico India Jamaica and Black America From illustrating the allure of political action to a closer look at how digital activists use new technologies to push toward reform From Sit Ins to revolutions promises to shed new light on key questions within activism from campaign organization and leadership to messaging and direct action Activists in the Data Stream Alice Mattoni, Diego Ceccobelli, 2024-05-02 Available Open Access digitally under CC BY ND licence This book pulls back the curtain on the link between technology and activism showing shows how activists navigate the impact of digital media on today s grassroots politics The Circulation of Anti-Austerity Protest Bart Cammaerts, 2018-03-06 In this book a set of theoretical and methodological resources are presented to study the way in which protest resistance and social movement discourses circulate through society and looks at the role of media and of communication in this process Empirically the focus of this book is on the UK s anti austerity movement The Circuit of Protest as developed in this volume is comprised of an analysis of the discourses of the anti austerity movement and their corresponding movement frames and the self mediation practices geared at communicating these The mainstream media representations and the reception of the movement discourses and frames by non activist citizens are also studied It is concluded that studying a movement through the prism of mediation provides a nuanced assessment in terms of failures and successes of the UK s anti austerity movement The book is of relevance to students and researchers of politics social movements as well as media and communication but also to activists Net-Activism. How digital technologies have been changing individual and collective actions Francesco Antonelli, 2017-04-01 Recently the digital architectures of interaction have also become more than a new information architecture a new ecology of dialogue and participation In addition to the new forms of debate and interaction which are expressed far beyond the dynamics of modern public opinion the digital networks have opened spaces of experimentation for new decision making collaborative practices In several areas the creation of platforms and architectures of debate and deliberations is putting new questions about the technological possibility of overcoming the representative democracy Finally this new digital ecology has been changing social actions in everyday life The book analyzes these phenomena both through a theoretical reflection first part and by some case studies second part as the result of the activities promoted by the Net Activism International Research Network based on Atopos Lab in Universidade de S o Paulo At the Network join Universit degli Studi Roma Tre Universidade Lus fona do Porto Universit de Lille 2 Fondation Maison des Sciences de l Homme Paris

European and American Extreme Right Groups and the Internet Manuela Caiani, Linda Parenti, 2016-04-29 How do right wing extremist organizations throughout the world use the Internet as a tool for communication and recruitment What is its role in identity building within radical right wing groups and how do they use the Internet to set their agenda build contacts spread their ideology and encourage mobilization This important contribution to the field of Internet politics adopts a social movement perspective to address and examine these important questions Conducting a comparative content analysis of more than 500 extreme right organizational web sites from France Germany Italy Spain the United Kingdom and the United States it offers an overview of the Internet communication activities of these groups and systematically maps and analyses the links and structure of the virtual communities of the extreme right Based on reports from the daily press the book presents a protest event analysis of right wing groups mobilisation and action strategies relating them to their online practices In doing so it exposes the new challenges and opportunities the Internet presents to the groups themselves and the societies in which they exist

Digital Activism in Zimbabwe Tenford Chitanana, 2024-10-21 This book investigates the role of the internet and social media in political processes in non western and non democratic contexts Using Zimbabwe as a case study the book demonstrates how activists and ordinary people deploy social media particularly Facebook to subvert an enduring hegemonic state However the book also highlights how authoritarian regimes are in turn learning and adapting to the information age challenging the impact of digital activism Studies of digital activism in the Global South are often centred around democracy but this book paints a more complex picture examining the role and effect of digital activism in challenging state hegemony in authoritarian contexts The book notes that while communication technologies help mediate activism they are also simultaneously constrained by pre existing and emergent challenges tied to the social and political context and the inherent limitations of those technologies The book investigates the tactics used by digital activists the contextual factors and restrictive political environment they operate in including the role of pro government activists and ultimately the impact of digital activism given these constraints From the case of Zimbabwe the book builds out a broader theoretical analysis of the evolution of third world protest in the digital age examining the limitations of activists actions and the ideological deficit in online activism to ferment a virulent counter hegemony

Transnational Homosexuals in Communist Poland Lukasz Szulc, 2017-07-03 This book traces the fascinating history of the first Polish gay and lesbian magazines to explore the globalization of LGBT identities and politics in Central and Eastern Europe during the twilight years of the Cold War It details the emergence of homosexual movement and charts cross border flows of cultural products identity paradigms and activism models in communist Poland The work demonstrates that Polish homosexual activists were not locked behind the Iron Curtain but actively participated in the transnational construction of homosexuality Their magazines were largely influenced by Western magazines used similar words discussed similar topics or simply translated Western texts and reproduced Western images However the imported ideas were not just copied but selectively adopted as well as strategically and creatively adapted in the Polish magazines so their authors could construct their own unique identities and build their own original politics

Political Campaigning on the Web Sigrid Baringhorst, Veronika Kneip, Johanna Niesyto, 2017-11-15 Drawing upon a common conceptual framework of political webcampaigning the book offers theoretical reflections on Internet based campaign politics It provides a comparative overview on the use of the Internet as a campaigning instrument by diverse intermediary political actors Taking the empirical findings of Internet appropriations into consideration the book discusses the impact of political webcampaigning on transnational democracy and the transformation of public spheres

Out of the Shadows, Into the Streets! Sasha Costanza-Chock, 2014-10-31 An exploration of social movement media practices in an increasingly complex media ecology through richly detailed cases of immigrant rights activism For decades social movements have vied for attention from the mainstream mass media newspapers radio and television Today many argue that social media power social movements from the Egyptian revolution to Occupy Wall Street Yet as Sasha Costanza Chock reports community organizers know that social media enhance rather than replace face to face organizing The revolution will be tweeted but tweets alone do not the revolution make In Out of the Shadows Into the Streets Costanza Chock traces a much broader social movement media ecology Through a richly detailed account of daily media practices in the immigrant rights movement the book argues that there is a new paradigm of social movement media making transmedia organizing Despite the current spotlight on digital media Costanza Chock finds social movement media practices tend to be cross platform participatory and linked to action Immigrant rights organizers leverage social media creatively even as they create media ranging from posters and street theater to Spanish language radio print and television Drawing on extensive interviews workshops and media organizing projects Costanza Chock presents case studies of transmedia organizing in the immigrant rights movement over the last decade Chapters focus on the historic mass protests against the anti immigrant Sensenbrenner Bill coverage of police brutality against peaceful activists efforts to widen access to digital media tools and skills for low wage immigrant workers paths to participation in DREAM activism and the implications of professionalism for transmedia organizing These cases show us how savvy transmedia organizers work to strengthen movement identity win political and economic victories and transform public consciousness forever
