Simply Cinema Perry F. Mills, 1989 The Classic Novel Erica Sheen, Robert Giddings, 2024-07-30 This book critically examines the long established tradition of adapting classic novels to film or TV screen An emerging area of interest the relationship between film and literature and the way cinema and television have translated classic novels into moving pictures from the 30s to the 90s A wide ranging but focused collection that is bang up to date and free of media jargon that looks at both the film and the book Includes discussion of The English Patient Pride and Prejudice and Middlemarch Pickwick Papers Dracula Dickens Conrad Hardy and Waugh She Animates Lora Mjolsness, Michele Leigh, 2021-02-02 She Animates examines the work of twelve female animation directors in the Soviet Union and Russia who have long been overlooked by film scholars and historians Our approach examines these directors within history culture and industrial practice in animation In addition to making a case for including these women and their work in the annals of film and animation history this volume also makes an argument for why their work should be considered part of the tradition of women's cinema We offer textual analysis that focuses on the changing attitudes towards both the woman question and feminism by examining the films in light of the emergence and evolution of a Soviet female subjectivity that still informs women's cinema in Russia today Spanish National Cinema Nuria Triana-Toribio, 2012-11-12 This study examines the discourses of nationalism as they intersected or clashed with Spanish film production from its inception to the present While the book addresses the discourses around filmmakers such as Almodóvar and Medem whose work has achieved international recognition Spanish National Cinema is particularly novel in its treatment of a whole range of popular cinema rarely touched on in studies of Spanish cinema Using accounts of films popular film magazines and documents not readily available to an English speaking audience as well as case studies focusing on the key issues of each epoch this volume illuminates the complex and changing relationship between cinema and Spanish national identity Romanian New Wave Cinema Doru Pop, 2014-03-08 Modern Romanian filmmaking has received wide international recognition From 2001 to 2011 promising young filmmakers have been embraced as important members of European cinema The country developed a new fervor for filmmaking and a dozen new movies have received international awards and recognition from some of the most important critics worldwide This development sometimes called New Wave cinema is fully explored in this book By using a comparative approach and searching for similarities among cinematic styles and trends the study reveals that the young Romanian directors are part of a larger European way of filmmaking The discussion moves from specific themes motifs and narratives to the philosophy of a whole generation such as Cristi Puiu Cristian Mungiu Radu Muntean Corneliu Porumboiu Tudor Giurgiu and others Badiou and Cinema Alex Ling, 2010-11-26 Applies Badiou's philosophy to well known films such as Hiroshima Mon Amour Vertigo and The Matrix Alex Ling employs the philosophy of Alain Badiou to answer the question central to all serious film scholarship can cinema be thought Treating this question on three levels the author first asks if we can really think what cinema is at an ontological level Secondly he investigates whether cinema can actually think for itself that is whether or not it is truly artistic Finally he explores in what ways we can rethink the consequences of the fact that cinema thinks In answering these questions the author uses well known films ranging to illustrate Badiou s philosophy and to consider the ways in which his work can be extended critiqued and reframed with respect to the medium of cinema

European Cinema Thomas Elsaesser,2025-10-01 In the face of renewed competition from Hollywood since the early 1980s and the challenges posed to Europe s national cinemas by the fall of the Wall in 1989 independent filmmaking in Europe has begun to re invent itself European Cinema Face to Face with Hollywood re assesses the different debates and presents a broader framework for understanding the forces at work since the 1960s These include the interface of world cinema and the rise of Asian cinemas the importance of the international film festival circuit the role of television as well as the changing aesthetics of auteur cinema New audiences have different allegiances and new technologies enable networks to reshape identities but European cinema still has an important function in setting critical and creative agendas even as its economic and institutional bases are in transition

After Uniqueness Erika Balsom,2017-03-21 Images have never been as freely circulated as they are today They have also never been so tightly controlled As with the birth of photography digital reproduction has created new possibilities for the duplication and consumption of images offering greater dissemination and access But digital reproduction has also stoked new anxieties concerning authenticity and ownership From this contemporary vantage point After Uniqueness traces the ambivalence of reproducibility through the intersecting histories of experimental cinema and the moving image in art examining how artists filmmakers and theorists have found in the copy a utopian promise or a dangerous inauthenticity or both at once From the sale of film in limited editions on the art market to the downloading of bootlegs from the singularity of live cinema to video art broadcast on television Erika Balsom investigates how the reproducibility of the moving image has been embraced rejected and negotiated by major figures including Stan Brakhage Leo Castelli and Gregory Markopoulos Through a comparative analysis of selected distribution models and key case studies she demonstrates how the question of image circulation is central to the history of film and video art After Uniqueness shows that distribution channels are more than neutral pathways they determine how we encounter interpret and write the history of the moving image as an art form places neglected by tourists with an accomplished stylist with an eye for telling detail Irvine Welsh Andrzej Stasiuk is a restless and indefatigable traveler By car train bus and ferry he goes from his native Poland to Slovakia Hungary Romania Slovenia Albania Moldova and Ukraine to small towns and villages with strangely evocative names The heart of my Europe he tells us beats in Sokol w Podlaski and in Hu i It does not beat in Vienna In Comrat a funeral procession moves slowly down the main street the open coffin on a pickup truck an old woman dressed in black brushing away the flies above the face of the deceased In Soroca he locates a baroque Byzantine Tatar Turkish encampment to meet Gypsies And all the way to Babadag between the Baltic Coast and the Black Sea Stasiuk indulges his curiosity and his love for the forgotten places and people of Europe There isn t quite a name for the region that holds the Polish writer Andrzej Stasiuk in thrall The general drift is from the land of King Ubu to the land of Count Dracula Poland to Romania Its nucleus is the landlocked centre of Central Europe its protoplasm spreads like an amoeba through the Balkans It cannot be convincingly mapped As travel writing this is unconventional but as literature profoundly authentic The Independent UK A mesmerizing not to be missed trek through a little visited region of the world Kirkus Reviews A eulogy for the old Europe the Europe both in and out of time the Europe now lost in the folds of the map The Guardian UK The Beautiful Skin Vlad Dima,2020-09-01 In this original and provocative study of contemporary African film and literature Vlad Dima investigates the way that football and cinema express individual and collective fantasies and highlights where football and cinema converge and diverge with regard to neocolonial fantasies Shedding new light on both well known and less familiar films by Mahamat Saleh Haroun Abderrahmane Sissako Jean Pierre Bekolo Moussa Tour Safi Faye Cheick Doukour and Joseph Ga Ramaka among others the study asks just whose fantasy is articulated in football and African cinema Answering this question requires the exploration of body and identity issues here through the metaphor of skin fantasy as a skin the football jersey as a skin and ultimately film itself as a skin that has visual aural and haptic qualities The neocolonial body is often depicted as suffering and in the process of being flattened or emptied So frequently do African cinema and literature replicate this hollowed body all skin as it were that it becomes the very type of body that defines neocolonialism Could the body of film the depth of both characters and story within the cinematic skin hold the key to moving into a post neocolonial era an era defined by full bodies and personal affirmation This is the question Dima seeks to answer The 'I' of the Camera William Rothman,2004 Originally published in 1988 The I of the Camera has become a classic in the literature of film Offering alternatives to the viewing and criticism of film William Rothman challenges readers to think about film in adventurous ways that are more open to movies and our experience of them In a series of eloquent essays examining particular films filmmakers genres and movements and the Americanness of American film Rothman argues compellingly that movies have inherited the philosophical perspective of American transcendentalism This second edition contains all of the essays that made the book a benchmark of film criticism It also includes fourteen essays written subsequent to the book s original publication as well as a new foreword The new chapters further broaden the scope of the volume fleshing out its vision of film history and illuminating the author s critical method and the philosophical perspective that informs it The Routledge Companion to Applied Musicology Chris Dromey, 2023-09-19 The Routledge Companion to Applied Musicology brings together academics, artist researchers and practitioners to provide readers with an extensive and authoritative overview of applied musicology. Once a field that addressed music's socio-political or performative contexts, applied musicology today encompasses study and practice in areas as diverse as psychology, ecomusicology, organology, forensic musicology, music therapy, health and well-being, and other public-oriented musicologies. These rapid advances have created a fast-changing field whose scholarship and activities tend to take place in isolation from each other. This volume addresses that shortcoming, bringing together a wide-ranging survey of current approaches. Featuring 39 authors, The Routledge Companion to Applied Musicology falls into five parts: Defining and Theorising Applied Musicology; Public Engagement; New Approaches and Research Methods; Representation and Inclusion; and Musicology in/for Performance, that chronicle the subject's rich history and consider the connections that will characterise its future. The book offers an essential resource for anyone exploring applied musicology. The Mouse Machine J. P. Telotte, 2010-10-01 Throughout Disney's phenomenally successful run in the entertainment industry, the company has negotiated the use of cutting-edge film and media technologies that J. P. Telotte argues have proven fundamental to the company's identity. Disney's technological developments include the use of stereophonic surround sound for Fantasia, experimentation with wide-screen technology, inaugural adoption of three-strip Technicolor film, and early efforts at fostering depth in the animated image. Telotte also chronicles Disney's partnership with television, development of the theme park, and depiction of technology in science-fiction narratives. An in-depth discussion of Disney's shift into digital filmmaking, with its Pixar partnership and an emphasis on digital special effects in live-action films such as the Pirates of the Caribbean series, also highlights the studio's historical investment in technology. By exploring the technological context for Disney's creations throughout its history, The Mouse Machine illuminates Disney's extraordinary growth into one of the largest and most influential media and entertainment companies in the world. Hardback is unjacketed. Inside the Hollywood Fan Magazine Anthony Slide, 2010-02-26 The fan magazine has often been viewed simply as a publicity tool, a fluffy exercise in self-promotion by the film industry. But as an arbiter of good and bad taste, as a source of knowledge, and as a gateway to the fabled land of Hollywood and its stars, the American fan magazine represents a fascinating and indispensable chapter in journalism and popular culture. Anthony Slide's Inside the Hollywood Fan Magazine provides the definitive history of this artifact. It charts the development of the fan magazine from the golden years, when Motion Picture Story Magazine and Photoplay first appeared in 1911, to its decline into provocative headlines and titillation in the 1960s, and afterward. Slide discusses how the fan magazines dealt with gossip and innuendo, and how they handled nationwide issues such as Hollywood scandals of the 1920s, World War II, the blacklist, and the death of President Kennedy. Fan magazines thrived in the twentieth century, and they presented the history of an industry in a unique, sometimes accurate and always entertaining style. This major cultural history includes a new interview with 1970s media personality Rona Barrett as well as original commentary from a dozen editors and writers Also included is a chapter on contributions to the fan magazines from well known writers such as Theodore Dreiser and e e cummings The book is enhanced by an appendix documenting some 268 American fan magazines and includes detailed publication histories
