Singapore Chinese Society In Transition:

Singapore Chinese Society in Transition Hong Liu, Sin Kiong Wong, 2004 As the first comprehensive study of its kind this book analyzes the dynamics processes mechanisms and consequences of socio economic and political changes in Singapore Chinese society from 1945 to 1965 By employing a wide range of primary materials that have been rarely used before the authors have demonstrated the multi dimensionality and complexity of the Chinese society in postwar Singapore which was full of vitality and politically active They argue that the combination of the internal dynamism and the changing socio political framework shaped the nature and characteristics of the Chinese community and its fundamental role in the making of modern Singapore This study is essential reading for an understanding of not only the Chinese politics and business networks in postwar Singapore but also the historical evolution of the newly independent Republic Chinese Migrants Abroad Michael W. Charney, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, Chee Kiong Tong, 2003 Fast paced economic growth in Southeast Asia from the late 1960s until the mid 1990s brought increased attention to the overseas Chinese as an economically successful diaspora and their role in this economic growth Events that followed such as the transfer of Hong Kong and Macau to the People s Republic of China the election of a non KMT government in Taiwan the Asian economic crisis and the plight of overseas Chinese in Indonesia as a result and the durability of the Singapore economy during this same crisis have helped to sustain this attention The study of the overseas Chinese has by now become a global enterprise raising new theoretical problems and empirical challenges New case studies of overseas Chinese such as those on communities in North America Cuba India and South Africa continually unveil different perspectives New kinds of transnational connectivities linking Chinese communities are also being identified It is now possible to make broader generalizations of a Chinese diaspora on a global basis Further the intensifying study of the overseas Chinese has stimulated renewed intellectual vigor in other areas of research The transnational and transregional activities of overseas Chinese for example pose serious challenges to analytical concepts of regional divides such as that between East and Southeast Asia Despite the increased attention new data and the changing theoretical paradigms basic questions concerning the overseas Chinese remain The papers in this volume seek to understand the overseas Chinese migrants not just in terms of the overall Chinese diaspora per se but also local Chinese migrants adapting to local societies in different national contexts Contents Chineseness and OC Overseas OCO Chinese Identifications and Identities of a Migrant Community Five Southeast Asian Chinese Empire Builders Commonalities and Differences J Mackie Providers Protectors Guardians Migration and Reconstruction of Masculinities R Hibbins Tasting the Night Food Ethnic Transaction and the Pleasure of Chineseness in Malaysia S C Yao Multiple Identities among the Returned Overseas Chinese in Hong Kong J K Chin Chinese or Western Education Cultural Choices and Education Chinese Education and Changing National and Cultural Identity among Overseas Chinese in Modern Japan A Study of Chka Dbun Gakk Tongwen Chinese School in Kobe B W M Ng Chinese Education in Prewar Singapore A Preliminary Analysis of
