Kenneth Cole, Kenneth Cole Ph.D., 2011-04-01 Moral Responsibility, Authenticity, and Education Ishtiyaque Haji, Stefaan E. Cuypers, 2008-06-25 The primary purpose of this book is to explain the distinction on the one hand between indoctrination and education and on the other between responsibility, subverting manipulation, and mere causation. Both are elucidated by an appeal to common ground: an account of when our motivations and other springs of action are truly our own or authentic. The book progresses from analyses of the sort of agency that responsibility requires and the authenticity of our motivations together with a discussion of the relevance of these analyses to manipulation and related problems in the philosophy of education to a defense of the thesis that responsibility from love's standpoint is of vital significance and the implications of this thesis for what the authors deem to be legitimate goals of education and other issues in free will. Philosophers and advanced students working in free will, moral psychology, and the philosophy of education will find this text to be extremely useful.
