Merritt,2017-08-01 In The Coming Man from Canton Christopher W Merritt mines the historical and archaeological record of the Chinese immigrant experience in Montana to explore new questions and perspectives During the 1860s Chinese immigrants arrived by the thousands moving into the Rocky Mountain West and tenaciously searching for prosperity in the face of resistance restriction racism and armed hostility from virtually every ethnic group in American society As second class citizens Chinese immigrants remained largely insular and formed their own internal governments as well as labor and trade networks typically establishing communities apart from the main towns Chinese miners launderers restaurant keepers gardeners railroad laborers and other workers became a separate but integral part of the American experience in the Intermountain West Although Chinese immigrants constituted more than 10 percent of the Montana Territory s total population by 1870 the historical records provide a biased and narrow perspective as they were generally written by European American community members Merritt uses the statewide Montana context to show the diversity of Chinese settlements that has often been neglected by archival studies His research highlights how the legacy of the Chinese in Montana is or is not reflected in modern Montana identity and how scholars educators professionals and the public can alter the existing perception of this population as the other and perceive it instead an integral part of Montana s past Chinese Diaspora Archaeology in North America Chelsea Rose,J.
