My Generation Collective Autobiography And Identity Politics:

My Generation John Downton Hazlett, 1998 John Hazlett's engaging study of writers from the 1960s demonstrates the ways in which the idea of the generation has affected autobiographical writing in this century. Autobiographers from the sixties claim to speak on behalf of all members of their generation. However, each writer presents a unique political and personal agenda.

Mark Twain's Own Autobiography Mark Twain, 2010-02-25 Mark Twain's Own Autobiography stands as the last of Twain's great yarns. Here he tells his story in his own way, freely expressing his joys and sorrows, his affections and hatreds, his rages and reverence, ending as always tongue in cheek. Now then, that is the tale. Some of it is true. More than the story of a literary career, this memoir is anchored in the writer's relation to his family, what they meant to him as a husband, father, and artist. It also brims with many of Twain's best comic anecdotes about his rambunctious boyhood in Hannibal, his misadventures in the Nevada territory, his notorious Whittier birthday speech, his travels abroad, and more. Twain published twenty-five chapters from My Autobiography in the North American Review in 1906 and 1907. I intend that this autobiography shall be read and admired a good many centuries because of its form and method, whereby the past and the present are constantly brought face to face, resulting in contrasts which newly fire up the interest all along, like contact of flint with steel. For this second edition, Michael Kiskis's introduction references a wealth of critical work done on Twain since 1990. He also adds a discussion of literary domesticity, locating the autobiography within the history of Twain's literary work and within Twain's own understanding and experience of domestic concerns.

Writing about Lives in Science Paola Govoni, Zilda Alice Franceschi, 2014 Following discussions on scientific biography carried out over the past few decades, this book proposes a kaleidoscopic survey of the uses of biography as a tool to understand science and its context. The authors belong to a variety of academic and professional fields, including the history of science, anthropology, literary studies, and science journalism. The period covered spans from 1732, when Laura Bassi was the first woman to get a tenured professorship of physics, to 2009, when Elizabeth H. Blackburn and Carol W. Greider were the first women's team to have won a Nobel Prize in science.

Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.

Identity Technologies Anna Poletti, Julie Rak, 2014-01-31 Identity Technologies is a substantial contribution to the fields of autobiography studies, digital studies, and new media studies, exploring the many new modes of self-expression and self-fashioning that have arisen in conjunction with Web 2.0, social networking, and the increasing saturation of wireless communication devices in everyday life. This volume explores the various ways that individuals construct their identities on the Internet and offers historical perspectives on ways that technologies intersect with identity creation. Bringing together scholarship about the construction of the self by new and established authors from the fields of digital media and autobiography studies, Identity Technologies presents new case studies and fresh theoretical questions, emphasizing the methodological challenges inherent in scholarly attempts to account for and analyze the rise of identity technologies The collection also includes an interview with Lauren Berlant on her use of blogs as research and writing tools SAGE Biographical Research John Goodwin, 2012-06-25 Biographical research may take a range of forms and may vary in its application and approach but has the unified and coherent aim to give voice to individuals The central concern of this collection is to assemble articles from sociology social psychology education health criminology social gerontology epidemiology management and organizational research that illustrate the full range of debates methods and techniques that can be combined under the heading biographical research Volume One Biographical Research Starting Points Debates and Approaches explores the different biographical methods currently used while locating these within the history of social science methods Volume Two Biographical Interviews Oral Histories and Life Narratives focuses on the more established interview based biographical research methods and considers the analytical strategies used for interview based biographical research Volume Three Forms of Life Writing Letters Diaries and Auto Biography considers the value of data contained within letters diaries and auto biography and illustrates how this data has been analyzed to reveal biographies and their social context Volume Four Other Documents of Life Photographs Cyber Documents and Ephemera focuses on the other human documents and objects like photographs cyber documents emails blogs social networking sites webpages and other ephemera such as official documents that are used extensively in biographical research The Autobiographical Documentary in America Jim Lane, 2002-04-29 Since the late 1960s American film and video makers of all genres have been fascinated with themes of self and identity Though the documentary form is most often used to capture the lives of others Jim Lane turns his lens on those media makers who document their own lives and identities He looks at the ways in which autobiographical documentaries including Roger and Me Sherman's March and Silverlake Life raise weighty questions about American cultural life What is the role of women in society What does it mean to die from AIDS How do race and class play out in our personal lives What does it mean to be a member of a family Examining the history diversity and theoretical underpinnings of this increasingly popular documentary form Lane tracks a fundamental transformation of notions of both autobiography and documentary Freedom's Orator Robert Cohen, 2009-08-27 Here is the first biography of Mario Savio the brilliant leader of Berkeley's Free Speech Movement the largest and most disruptive student rebellion in American history Drawing upon previously unavailable Savio papers as well as oral histories from friends and fellow movement leaders Freedom's Orator illuminates Mario's egalitarian leadership style his remarkable eloquence and the many ways he embodied the idealism of the 1960s The book also narrates for the first time his second phase of activism and includes a generous selection of Savio's speeches Generations Judith Burnett, 2016-04-15 Generations The Time Machine in Theory and Practice challenges the fragmented and diverse use of the concept of generation commonly found in the social sciences It approaches the concept in a manner that stretches the sociological imagination away from its orientation toward the present by building the concept of the passage of time into our understanding of the social It proposes an innovative and exciting view of the field of generations lifting it out from life course and cohort analysis and reconstituting the area with fresh and dynamic ways of seeing With its unique intellectually innovative and sustained critical study of generational work Generations will appeal to scholars across a range of social sciences and humanities and will be of particular interest to social theorists and anthropologists as well as sociologists of social history consumption identity and culture

Graphic Subjects Michael A. Chaney, 2011-03-01 Some of the most noteworthy graphic novels and comic books of recent years have been entirely autobiographical In Graphic Subjects Michael A Chaney brings together a lively mix of scholars to examine the use of autobiography within graphic novels including such critically acclaimed examples as Art Spiegelman s Maus David Beauchard s Epileptic Marjane Satrapi s Persepolis Alan Moore s Watchmen and Gene Yang s American Born Chinese These essays accompanied by visual examples illuminate the new horizons that illustrated autobiographical narrative creates The volume insightfully highlights the ways that graphic novelists and literary cartoonists have incorporated history experience and life stories into their work The result is a challenging and innovative collection that reveals the combined power of autobiography and the graphic novel

Before They Could Vote Sidonie A. Smith, Julia Watson, Sidonie Smith, 2006-08-01 The life narratives in this collection are by ethnically diverse women of energy and ambition some well known some forgotten over generations who confronted barriers of gender class race and sexual difference as they pursued or adapted to adventurous new lives in a rapidly changing America The engaging selections from captivity narratives to letters manifestos criminal confessions and childhood sketches span a hundred years in which women increasingly asserted themselves publicly Some rose to positions of prominence as writers activists and artists some sought education or wrote to support themselves and their families some transgressed social norms in search of new possibilities Each woman s story is strikingly individual yet the brief narratives in this anthology collectively chart bold new visions of women s agency This rich new anthology sets in motion an inter textual conversation of remarkable vitality that will change the ways we understand gender class ethnicity culture and nation in nineteenth century America Susanna Egan author of Mirror Talk Screening the Sixties Oliver Gruner, 2016-09-17 This book provides a detailed and engaging account of how Hollywood cinema has represented and remembered the Sixties From late 1970s hippie musicals such as Hair and The Rose through to recent civil rights portrayals The Help and Lee Daniels The Butler Oliver Gruner explores the ways in which films have engaged with broad debates on America s recent past Drawing on extensive archival research he traces production history and script development showing how a group of politically engaged filmmakers sought to offer resonant contributions to public memory Situating Hollywood within a wider series of debates taking place in the US public sphere Screening the Sixties offers a rigorous and innovative study of cinema s engagement with this most contested of epochs Whispers of Cruel Wrongs Mary Maillard, 2017-05-09 These letters written in part by the daughter of Harriet Jacobs offer profound insight into a hidden world the private lives of genteel African American women in the late nineteenth century Rosa Marie Hall Ets, 1999 Rosa was born in a silk making village in Lombardy a major source of north Italian emigration She first set foot in the United States at the Castle Garden immigrant depot on the tip of Manhattan Her life in this country was hard and Ets chronicles it in eloquent detail Rosa endures a marriage at sixteen to an abusive older man an unwilling migration to a Missouri mining town the unassisted birth of a child and manages to escape from a husband who tried to force her into prostitution The Making of a Chicano Militant Jose Angel Gutierrez, 1998 Texas for years was a one party state controlled by white democrats In 1962 a young eighteen year old heard the first rumblings of Chicano community organization in the barrios of Cristal The rumor in the town was that five Mexican Americans were going to run for all five seats on the city council But first poor citizens had to find a way to pay the 1 75 poll tax Money had to be raised through bake sales of tamales cake walks and dances So began the political activism of Jos Angel Guti rrez Guti rrez s autobiography The Making of a Chicano Militant is the first insider s view of the important political and social events within the Mexican American communities in South Texas during the 1960s and 1970s A controversial and dynamic political figure during the height of the Chicano movement Guti rrez offers an absorbing personal account of his life at the forefront of the Mexican American civil rights movement first as a Chicano and then as a militant Guti rrez traces the racial ethnic economic and social prejudices facing Chicanos with powerful scenes from his own life his first summer job as a tortilla maker at the age of eleven his racially motivated kidnapping as a teenager and his coming of age in the face of discrimination as a radical organizer in college and graduate school When Guti rrez finally returned to Cristal he helped form the Mexican American Youth Organization and subsequently the Raza Unida Party to confront issues of ethnic intolerance in his community His story is soon to be a classic in the developing literature of Mexican American leaders

Writing Desire Bertram Cohler, 2007-05-15 Exploring nearly sixty years of memoir and autobiography Writing Desire examines the changing identity of gay men writing within a historical context Distinguished scholar and psychoanalyst Bertram J Cohler has carefully selected a diverse group of ten men including historians activists journalists poets performance artists and bloggers whose life writing evokes the evolution of gay life in twentieth century America By contrasting the personal experience of these disparate writers Cohler illustrates the social transformations that these men helped shape Among Cohler s diverse subjects is Alan Helms whose journey from Indiana to New York s gay society represents the passage of men who came of age in the 1950s and 1960s when homosexuality was considered a hidden disease The liberating effects of Stonewall s aftermath are chronicled in the life of Arnie Kantrowitz the prototypical activist for gay rights in the 1970s and the founder the Gay and Lesbian Alliance against Defamation The artistic works of Tim Miller and Mark Doty evoke loss and shock during of the early stages of the AIDS epidemic in the 1980s Cohler rounds out this collective group portrait by looking at the newest generation of writers in the Internet age via the blog of BrYaN who did the previously unthinkable he outed himself to millions of people A compelling mix of social history and personal biography Writing Desire distills the experience of three generations of gay America Finalist LGBT Studies Lambda Literary Foundation

The Divided States Laura J. Beard, Ricia Anne Chansky, 2023-01-10 What is an American identity The tension between populism and pluralism between homogeneity and heterogeneity has marked the United States since its inception In The Divided States leading scholars and critics argue that the US is and has always been a site where multiple national identities intersect in productive and challenging ways Scrutinizing conflicting nationalisms and national identities the authors ask Whose stories get told and whose do not Who or what promotes the idea of a unified national identity in the United States How is the notion of a unified national identity disrupted What myths and stories bind the US together How representative are these stories What are the counternarratives And if the idea of national homogeneity is a fallacy what does tie us together as a nation Working across auto biography studies American studies and human geography all of which deal with the current interest in competing narratives alternative facts and accountability the essays engage in and contribute to critical conversations in classrooms scholarship and the public sphere The authors draw from a variety of fields including anthropology class analysis critical race theory diasporic refugee and immigration studies disability studies gender studies graphic and comix studies Indigenous studies linguistics literary studies sociology and visual culture And the genres under scrutiny include diary epistolary communication digital narratives graphic narratives literary narratives medical narratives memoir oral history and testimony This fresh and theoretically engaged volume will be relevant to anyone interested in the multiplicity of voices that make up the US national narrative
