Encyclopedia of Immigrant Health Sana Loue, Martha Sajatovic, 2014-06-20 There is increasing interest in the scientific literature on immigrant health and its impact on disease transmission disease prevention health promotion well being on an individual and population level health policy and the cost of managing all these issues on an individual institutional national and global level The need for accurate and up to date information is particularly acute due to the increasing numbers of immigrants and refugees worldwide as the result of natural disasters political turmoil the growing numbers of immigrants to magnet countries and the increasing costs of associated health care that are being felt by governments around the world

Format and Scope The first portion of the encyclopedia contains chapters that are approximately 25 to 40 manuscript pages in length Each overview chapter includes a list of references and suggested readings for cross referencing within the encyclopedia The opening chapters are Immigration in the Global Context Immigration Processes and Health in the U S A Brief History Alternative and Complementary Medicine Culture Specific Diagnoses Health Determinants Occupational and Environmental Health Methodological Issues in Immigrant Health Research Ethical Issues in Research with Immigrants and Refugees Ethical Issues in the Clinical Context The second portion of the book consists of alphabetical entries that relate to the health of immigrants. Entries are interdisciplinary and are drawn from the following fields of study: anthropology, demographics, history, law, linguistics, medicine, population studies, psychology, religion, and sociology. Each entry is followed by a listing of suggested readings and suggested resources and also links to related terms within the whole book.

Outstanding Features The book adopts a biopsychosocial historical approach to the topics covered in the chapters and the entries. Each entry includes suggested readings and suggested resources. The chapters and entries are written at a graduate level that is accessible to all academics, researchers, and professionals from diverse backgrounds. We consider the audience for the entries to be well educated but a non expert in this area. The primary focus of the book is on the immigrant populations in and immigration to magnet countries. References are made to worldwide trends and issues arising globally. In addition to the comprehensive subject coverage, the text also offers diverse perspectives. The editors themselves reflect the multidisciplinary nature of the topics with expertise in psychiatry, law, epidemiology, anthropology, and social work. Authors similarly reflect diverse disciplines.

Health Professionals' Guide to Physical Management of Parkinson's Disease Miriam P. Boelen, 2009. Health Professionals Guide to Physical Management of Parkinson's Disease expertly distills and blends diverse research based sources with the author's own extensive clinical experience to comprehensively address the physical management of Parkinson's disease.

Geriatric Rehabilitation Manual Timothy L. Kauffman, John O. Barr, Michael L. Moran, 2007-01-01. This manual gives step by step guidance on the evaluation and treatment of geriatric diseases and disorders. It covers incidence of disorders, diagnostic tests, associated diagnoses, clinical implications for mobility and rehabilitation techniques. It offers a broad overview of the effects of aging on all body systems. Special geriatric considerations for laboratory assessment, thermoregulations, and pharmacology are also discussed. This manual is a resource for all training clinicians in geriatric care and is a quick reference guide for students and practitioners in this field.
