Forgetful Remembrance Guy Beiner,2018-11-09 Forgetful Remembrance examines the paradoxes of what actually happens when communities persistently endeavour to forget inconvenient events The question of how a society attempts to obscure problematic historical episodes is addressed through a detailed case study grounded in the north eastern counties of the Irish province of Ulster where loyalist and unionist Protestants and in particular Presbyterians repeatedly tried to repress over two centuries discomfiting recollections of participation alongside Catholics in a republican rebellion in 1798 By exploring a rich variety of sources Beiner makes it possible to closely follow the dynamics of social forgetting His particular focus on vernacular historiography rarely noted in official histories reveals the tensions between professed oblivion in public and more subtle rituals of remembrance that facilitated muted traditions of forgetful remembrance which were masked by a local culture of reticence and silencing Throughout Forgetful Remembrance comparative references demonstrate the wider relevance of the study of social forgetting in Northern Ireland to numerous other cases where troublesome memories have been concealed behind a veil of supposed oblivion Transhumance and the Making of Ireland's Uplands, 1550-1900 Eugene Costello,2020 First full survey of how transhumance operated in Ireland from the sixteenth century to the beginning of the twentieth Ordnance Survey Memoirs of Ireland: Counties of South Ulster, 1834-8 Angélique Day,Patrick McWilliams,1990 Ordnance Survey Memoirs of Ireland: Co. McWilliams,1990 Spinning the Threads of Uneven Development Jane Gray,2005-01-01 Using the history of the Irish linen industry as a substantive case study Spinning the Threads of Uneven Development shows how gendered variations in the division of labor within and between households affected the economic development of the local and regional textile industry beginning with industrialization through to the transition to industrial capitalism Drawing on a wide range of sources from census records to folk poetry Jane Gray develops a dynamic model of gender that links the allocation of labor within households to macro socioeconomic change Expanding on recent literature of the salience of gender in the Irish political economy Spinning the Threads of Uneven Development is important reading for social and economic historians as well as those interested in the role of gender in economic development and Irish history Ordnance Survey Memoirs of Ireland: Parishes of County Fermanagh II, 1834-5 Angélique Day,Patrick McWilliams,1990 Ordnance Survey Memoirs of Ireland: Parishes of County Donegal II 1835-6, Mid, West and South Donegal Angélique Day,Patrick McWilliams,1990 Ireland and Irish America Kerby A.
