Peoples History Project:

A People's History for the Classroom Bill Bigelow, Howard Zinn, 2008 Presents a collection of lessons and activities for teaching American history for students in middle school and high school

People's History and Socialist Theory (Routledge Revivals) Raphael Samuel, 2016-05-12 First published in 1981 this book brings together different types of work by numerous fragmented groups in the field of Marxist history and puts them in dialogue with each other It takes stock of then recent work explores the main new lines and looks at the political and ideological circumstances shaping the direction of historical work past and present The scope of the book is international with contributions on African history fascism and anti fascism French labour history and the transition from feudalism to capitalism It also incorporates feminist history and gives attention to some of the leading questions raised for social history by the women s movement

A People's History of Environmentalism in the United States Chad Montrie, 2011-10-06 This book offers a fresh and innovative account of the history of environmentalism in the United States challenging the dominant narrative in the field In the widely held version of events the US environmental movement was born with the publication of Rachel Carson s Silent Spring in 1962 and was driven by the increased leisure and wealth of an educated middle class Chad Montrie s telling moves the origins of environmentalism much further back in time and attributes the growth of environmental awareness to working people and their families From the antebellum era to the end of the twentieth century ordinary Americans have been at the forefront of organizing to save themselves and their communities from environmental harm This interpretation is nothing short of a substantial recasting of the past giving a more accurate picture of what happened when and why at the beginnings of the environmental movement

History beyond apartheid Thula Simpson, 2023-04-18 This edited volume encompasses a range of themes and approaches relevant to the field of South African history today as viewed from the perspective of practicing historians at the cutting edge of research in the discipline The collection features the historians offering critical reflection on the theoretical and methodological aspects of their work This involves them both looking back at the inherited historiographical tradition in the respective areas of their research while also pointing forwards to possible future directions for scholarly engagement

Transformation of Archives and Heritage Education in Post-apartheid South Africa Geraldine Frieslaar, Olusegun Morakinyo, 2023-06-10 Although there have been significant strides to transform the demographics of archive and museum personnel develop new museums and heritage institutions and heritage training initiatives in post apartheid South Africa the Eurocentric model of the archive museum and heritage sector has largely remained intact Despite the euphoria around the transformation of heritage in the beginnings of post apartheid South Africa it can be argued that the transformation of heritage institutions has been superficial and cosmetic with the ideological foundation of the colonial archive and museum as well as Eurocentric modalities of heritage education remaining solid largely unmoved and under continuing challenge This is the thrust of this book which reflects on the transformation of archives and museum and heritage education in South Africa and argues for meaningful transformation of the sector through a decolonisation from its Eurocentric mooring

The Histories of Raphael Samuel Sophie Scott-Brown, 2017-05-12 In the first integrated biographical study of his work this book situates British historian Raphael Samuel 1934 1996 in relation to his distinctive form of activist politics as they developed from youthful Cold War communism to the first British New Left 1960s radicalism to the 1980s history wars As the catalyst behind the History Workshop movement Samuel championed the democratisation of history making and practised an eclectic form of people s history in his own work His unique approach was controversial drawing impassioned responses from across the ideological spectrum the most sustained critique often coming from his left wing contemporaries It is argued here that this compelling figure has been unjustly neglected and that he continues to offer important insights into the politics of history making in a post Marxist world

Story Circle John Hartley, Kelly McWilliam, 2009-04-27 STORY CIRCLE Where once cultures valued storytellers for lauding lamenting and laughing at those in power this thoughtful book illuminates the hopes practices and achievements of the myriad amateur storytellers who populate today s globalized and digitalized cultures Sonia Livingstone London School of Economics and Political Science I warmly welcome the publication of Story Circle It provides a fascinating account of what s happened in digital storytelling so far and will be a crucial reference point for digital storytelling in the future Menna Richards Controller BBC Wales

Warra Warra Wai Darren Rix, Craig Cormick, 2024-09-04 Shortlisted for the Queensland Literary Awards Work of State Significance and The University of Queensland Non Fiction Book Award Shortlisted for the 2025 Prime Minister s Literary Awards

Australian History Winner of the 2025 NSW History Award Australian History Prize Winner of the 2025 ACT Literary Award Non Fiction Winner of the First Nations History Award Canberra Critics Circle Awards 2024 For the first time the First Nations story of Cook's arrival and what blackfellas want everyone to know about the coming of Europeans Both 250 years late and extremely timely this is an account of what First Nations people saw and felt when James Cook navigated their shores in 1770 We know the European story from diaries journals and letters For the first time this is the other side Who were the people watching the Endeavour sail by How did they understand their world and what sense did they make of this strange vision And what was the impact of these first encounters with Europeans The answers lie in tales passed down from 1770 and in truth telling of the often more brutal engagements that followed Darren Rix a Gunditjmara GunaiKurnai man radio reporter and Archie Roach's nephew and his co author Craig Cormick travelled to all the places on the east coast that were renamed by Cook and listened to people's stories With their permission these stories have been woven together with the European accounts and placed in their deeper context the places Cook named already had names the places he discovered already had peoples and stories stretching back before time and although Cook sailed on the empire he represented impacted the people's lives and lands immeasurably in the years after Warra Warra Wai was the expression called to Cook and his crew when they tried to make landfall in Botany Bay It has long been interpreted as Go away but is perhaps more accurately translated as You are all dead spirits In adding the First Nations version of these first encounters to the story of Australian history this is a book that will sit on Australian shelves alongside Cook's Journals Dark Emu and The Fatal Shore as one of our foundational texts

Voices of a People's History of the United States Howard Zinn,Anthony Arnove,2011-01-04 Here in their own words are Frederick Douglass George Jackson Chief Joseph Martin Luther King Jr Plough Jogger Sacco and Vanzetti Patti Smith Bruce Springsteen Mark Twain and Malcolm X to name just a few of the hundreds of voices that appear in Voices of a People's History of the United States edited by Howard Zinn and Anthony Arnove Paralleling the twenty four chapters of Zinn's A People's History of the United States Voices of a People's History is the long awaited companion volume to the national bestseller For Voices Zinn and Arnove have selected testimonies to living history speeches letters poems songs left by the people who make history happen but who usually are left out of history books women workers nonwhites Zinn has written short introductions to the texts which range in length from letters or poems of less than a page to entire speeches and essays that run several pages Voices of a People's History is a symphony of our nation's original voices rich in ideas and actions the embodiment of the power of civil disobedience and dissent wherein lies our nation's true spirit of defiance and resilience

Becoming a Multicultural Educator William A. Howe, Penelope L. Lisi,2023-08-30 Becoming a Multicultural Educator Fourth Edition focuses on the development and application of research based curriculum instruction and assessment strategies for multicultural education in PK 12 classrooms This practical book prepares readers to teach in culturally responsive ways develop a critical understanding of culture and its powerful influence on teaching and learning and feel empowered to confront and address timely issues The Dublin Lockout, 1913 Conor McNamara, Padraig Yeates, 2017-07-24 Putting Ireland on trial Jim Larkin's verdict was damning and resolute His words resound shuddering towards the present day where class division and workers rights disputes make headlines with swelling frequency In this pioneering collection an exemplary list of contributors registers the radical momentum within Dublin in 1913 its effects internationally and its paramount example in shaping political activism within Ireland to this day The narrative of the beleaguered yet dignified workers who stood up to the greed of their Irish masters is examined revealing the truths that were too fraught with trauma shame and political tension to remain within popular memory Beyond the animosity and immediate impact of the industrial dispute are its enduring lessons through the First World War the Easter Rising and the birth of the Irish Free State its legacy real and adopted instructs the surge of activism currently witnessed but to what effect The Dublin Lockout 1913 illuminates this pivotal class war in Irish history inspiring shocking and the nearest thing Ireland had to a debate on the type of society that was wanted by its citizens Telling Our Own Stories Shetler, 2021-10-11 In this collection of ethnic group histories written by authors from the Mara Region of Tanzania local people tell their stories as a way to inspire development that builds on the strengths of the past It combines histories from the small but closely related ethnic groups of Ikizu Sizaki Ikoma Ngoreme Nata Ishenyi and Tatoga in South Mara east of Lake Victoria and west of Serengeti National Park Many of the authors compiled their stories by meeting with groups of elders They were concerned to preserve history for the next generation who had not taken the time to learn the stories orally The stories were written in Swahili and translated into English with annotations and an introduction so that readers not familiar with this region might also share in the experience It also includes transcriptions of oral interviews with some of the same stories to get a sense of the ongoing conversations about the past This collection makes local history told in a local idiom accessible to students of African history interested in social memory and the creation of ethnicity Dying for the nation Lucy Noakes, 2020-02-05 Death in war matters It matters to the individual threatened with their own death or the death of loved ones It matters to groups and communities who have to find ways to manage death to support the bereaved and to dispose of bodies amidst the confusion of conflict It matters to the state which has to find ways of coping with mass death that convey a sense of gratitude and respect for the sacrifice of both the victims of war and those that mourn in their wake This social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War places death at the heart of our understanding of the British experience of conflict Drawing on a range of material Dying for the nation demonstrates just how much death matters in wartime and examines the experience management and memory of death The book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War Desegregating the Past Robyn Autry, 2017-02-07 At the Apartheid Museum in Johannesburg South Africa visitors confront the past upon arrival They must decide whether to enter the museum through a door marked whites or another marked non whites Inside along with text they encounter hanging nooses and other reminders of apartheid era atrocities In the United States museum exhibitions about racial violence and segregation are mostly confined to black history museums with national history museums sidelining such difficult material Even the Smithsonian's National Museum of African American History and Culture is dedicated not to violent histories of racial domination but to a more generalized narrative about black identity and culture The scale at which violent racial pasts have been incorporated into South African national historical narratives is lacking in the U S Desegregating the Past considers why this is the case tracking the production and display of historical representations of racial pasts at museums in both countries and what it reveals about underlying social anxieties unsettled emotions and aspirations surrounding contemporary social fault lines around race Robyn Autry consults museum archives conducts interviews with staff and recounts the public and private battles fought over the creation and content of history museums Despite vast differences in the development of South African and U S society Autry finds a common set of ideological political economic and institutional dilemmas arising out of the selective reconstruction of the past Museums have played a major role in shaping public memory at times recognizing and at other times blurring the ongoing influence of historical crimes The narratives museums produce to engage with difficult violent histories expose present anxieties concerning identity mis recognition and ongoing conflict

Oral History David K. Dunaway, Willa K. Baum, 1996-09-18 Oral History An Interdisciplinary Anthology is a collection of classic articles by some of the best known proponents of oral history demonstrating the basics of oral history while also acting as a guidebook for how to use it in research Added to this new edition is insight into how oral history is practiced on an international scale making this book an indispensable resource for scholars of history and social sciences as well as those interested in oral history on the avocational level This volume is a reprint of the 1984 edition with the added bonus of a new introduction by David Dunaway and a new section on how oral history is practiced on an international scale Selections from the original volume trace the origins of oral history in the United States provide insights on methodology and interpretation and review the various approaches to oral history used by folklorists historians anthropologists and librarians among others Family and ethnic historians will find chapters addressing the applications of oral history in those fields Remembering Utopia Breda Luthar, Maruša Pušnik, 2010-01-30 Essays and photos that reveal and reflect on everyday life in socialist Yugoslavia from tourism to television Research about socialism and communism tends to focus on official aspects of power and dissent and on state politics and presuppose a powerful state and a party with its official ideology on one side and repressed manipulated or collaborating citizens on the other side This collection of essays instead helps uncover various aspects of everyday life during the time of socialism in Yugoslavia such as leisure popular culture consumption sociability and power from 1945 until 1980 when Tito died A highly original project which will cover a much neglected area helping those who either did not make it to Yugoslavia in Tito's time or were born too late to understand what life then and there was all about Sabrina P Ramet Professor of Political Science at The Norwegian University of Science and Technology in Trondheim

Norway This collection represents an original and highly useful work that helps fill a gap in the existing literature on socialist Yugoslavia and East Central Europe in the Cold War It also makes an important contribution to cultural history of the region in the second half of the twentieth century Dejan Djokic Lecturer in Serbian and Croatian Studies The University of Nottingham This book focuses on a cultural and social history of socialist Yugoslavia from the perspective of ordinary people and by reconstructing their memories The contributors many of them belonging to a new generation of scholars from the former Yugoslavia employ new approaches in order to make sense of the complicated past of this country Ulf Brunnbauer Department of History Freie Universit t Berlin

Embracing the Tune of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Peoples History Project

In some sort of consumed by displays and the ceaseless chatter of fast conversation, the melodic splendor and mental symphony developed by the prepared term often fade into the backdrop, eclipsed by the persistent sound and distractions that permeate our lives.
