Reflection And Software Engineering:

Reflection and Software Engineering Walter Cazzola, Robert J. Stroud, Francesco Tisato, 2000-06-28 This book presents the state of the art of research and development of computational reflection in the context of software engineering. Reflection has attracted considerable attention recently in software engineering particularly from object oriented researchers and professionals. The properties of transparency, separation of concerns and extensibility supported by reflection have largely been accepted as useful in software development and design. Reflective features have been included in successful software development technologies such as the Java language. The book offers revised versions of papers presented first at a workshop held during OOPSLA 99 together with especially solicited contributions. The papers are organized in topical sections on reflective and software engineering foundations, reflective software adaptability and evolution, reflective middleware engineering, Java based reflective languages and dynamic reconfiguration through reflection. Agile and Lean Concepts for Teaching and Learning

David Parsons, Kathryn MacCallum, 2018-10-24 This book explores the application of agile and lean techniques originally from the field of software development and manufacturing to various aspects of education. It covers a broad range of topics including applying agile teaching and learning techniques in the classroom, incorporating lean thinking in educational workflows and using team based approaches to student centred activities based on agile principles and processes. Demonstrating how agile and lean ideas can concretely be applied to education, the book offers practical guidance on how to apply these ideas in the classroom or lecture hall as well as new concepts that could spark further research and development.

Reflections on Management Watts S. Humphrey, William R. Thomas, 2010 Whether you are in a startup or Fortune 500 company, are a developer, development manager or CEO, use agile, lean, waterfall or other methodology if software and quality are important to you, you should read and pay attention to Watts's reflections. Bill Ihrie, Former SVP CTO Intuit. You will enjoy this collection for its down to earth, accessible prose, its pragmatism, optimism and above all Watts's demonstration that software quality improvement is vitally important and very achievable. Aidan Waine, Information Solutions General Manager.

Philosophy and Engineering: Reflections on Practice, Principles and Process Diane P Michelfelder, Natasha McCarthy, David E. Goldberg, 2014-01-13 Building on the breakthrough text Philosophy and Engineering An Emerging Agenda this book offers 30 chapters covering conceptual and substantive developments in the philosophy of engineering along with a series of critical reflections by engineering practitioners The volume demonstrates how reflective engineering can contribute to a better understanding of engineering identity and explores how integrating engineering and philosophy could lead to innovation in engineering methods design and education The volume is divided into reflections on practice principles and process each of which challenges prevalent assumptions and commitments within engineering and philosophy The volume explores the ontological and epistemological dimensions of engineering and exposes the falsity of the commonly held belief that the field is simply the application of science knowledge to problem solving Above all the perspectives collected here demonstrate the value of a constructive dialogue between engineering and philosophy and show how collaboration between the disciplines casts light on longstanding problems from both sides The chapters in this volume are from a diverse and international body of authors including philosophers and engineers and represent a highly select group of papers originally presented in three different conferences These are the 2008 Workshop on Philosophy and Engineering WPE 2008 held at the Royal Academy of Engineering the 2009 meeting of the Society for Philosophy and Technology SPT 2009 at the University of Twente in the Netherlands and the Forum on Philosophy Engineering and Technology fPET 2010 held in Golden Colorado at the Colorado School of Mines Object-Oriented Technology: ECOOP 2000 Workshop Reader Jacques

Learning in Higher Education Matthew Barr, 2024-12-16 Approaches to Work Based Learning in Higher Education provides a comprehensive introduction to the delivery of university level work based learning WBL for educators and policymakers The contributing authors draw from their wealth of experience of developing apprenticeships placement programmes and other work based learning opportunities advising on best practice when delivering learning in partnership with industry Supported by a unique balance of practical and theoretical insight including international perspectives on how common challenges may be addressed this essential volume explores the following key themes Pedagogies this section outlines established best practice in delivery of WBL for higher education and offers suggestions for how readers may continue to develop and improve their provision Projects this section covers a range of approaches to work based learning within higher education and explores examples of this in practice including live briefs work placements and industrial project based learning Apprenticeships this section focuses specifically on work based degree programmes covering their design delivery implementation and assessment A must read for anyone working within higher education policy or practice this book provides readers with the tools to successfully navigate work based learning as well as strategies for ensuring and enhancing the quality of the learning experience Reflections on Programming Systems Liesbeth De Mol, Giuseppe

Primiero, 2019-01-10 This book presents a historical and philosophical analysis of programming systems intended as large computational systems like for instance operating systems programmed to control processes The introduction to the volume emphasizes the contemporary need of providing a foundational analysis of such systems rooted in a broader historical and philosophical discussion The different chapters are grouped around three major themes The first concerns the early history of large systems developed against the background of issues related to the growing semantic gap between hardware and code The second revisits the fundamental issue of complexity of large systems dealt with by the use of formal methods and the development of grand designs like Unix Finally a third part considers several issues related to programming systems in the real world including chapters on aesthetical ethical and political issues This book will interest researchers from a diversity of backgrounds It will appeal to historians philosophers as well as logicians and computer scientists who want to engage with topics relevant to the history and philosophy of programming and more specifically the role of programming systems in the foundations of computing Critical Reflections on Information Systems: A Systemic Approach Cano,

Jeimy J., 2002-07-01 While implementing IS and IT in support of their business strategies companies are looking for ways to bridge the gap between their competitive position and technological investment including ways to use this investment to the advantage of the organization This book faces this challenge by offering ways to incorporate IT into such organizations while also successfully giving the company an edge over its competitors ECOOP 2005 - Object-Oriented Programming

Andrew Black, 2005-08-25 The 19th Annual Meeting of the European Conference on Object Oriented Programming ECOOP 2005 took place during the last week of July in Glasgow Scotland UK This volume includes the refereed technical papers presented at the conference and two invited papers It is traditional to preface a volume of proceedings such as this with a note that emphasizes the importance of the conference in its respective field Although such self evaluations should always be taken with a large grain of salt ECOOP is undisputedly the pre eminent conference on object orientation outside of the United States In its turn object orientation is today's principal technology not only for programming but also for design analysis and specification of software systems As a consequence ECOOP has expanded far beyond its roots in programming to encompass all of these areas of research which is why ECOOP has remained such an interesting conference But ECOOP is more than an interesting conference It is the nucleus of a technical and academic community a community whose goals are the creation and dissemination of new knowledge Chance meetings at ECOOP have helped to spawn collaborations that span the boundaries of our many subdisciplines bring together researchers and practitioners cross cultures and reach from one side of the world to the other The ubiquity of fast electronic communication has made maintaining these collaborations easier than we would have believed possible only a dozen years ago But the role of conferences like ECOOP in establishing collaborations has not diminished Generative Programming and Component Engineering Frank Pfenning, Yannis

Smaragdakis, 2003-11-19 This volume constitutes the proceedings of the second International Conference on Generative Programming and Component Engineering GPCE 2003 held September 22-25 2003 in Erfurt Germany sponsored by the NetObjectDays German industrial software development event in cooperation with the ACM SIGPLAN and SIGSOFT societies GPCE was created as an effort to bring together researchers working on both the programming languages and the software engineering side of program generation and component engineering The common theme of program generation and component engineering is the domain specific nature of both approaches Depending on the characteristics of a domain either a generative or a compositional technical solution may be appropriate In just its second year GPCE has shown a lot of promise for building a strong community The response to the call for papers was excellent with 62 submissions to the technical program 2 of which were later withdrawn Each paper received between three and five reviews many of them quite thorough and hopefully valuable to all authors The electronic meeting allowed for depth of discussion of all submissions often to a much greater extent than possible in a physical PC meeting As a result 21 papers were selected for presentation at the conference and are included in this volume together with abstracts for the invited talks by Olivier Danvy and Peri Tarr Of the accepted papers 3 are co-authored by PC members from a total of 5 PC submissions We tried hard to ensure fairness and hold PC submissions to a high standard The EDAS conference submission system was used to manage the paper submissions Our EDAS installation was supported by Blair MacIntyre who was particularly helpful in resolving technical issues with the system
