Servicing The Middle Classes Class Gender And Waged Domestic Labour In Contemporary Britain:

Servicing the Middle Classes Nicky Gregson, Michelle Lowe, 2005-08-03 Investigates the rise of a new servant class in response to demands by the middle class and the socio economic trends which have led to this and profound change this reflects in our concepts of motherhood class and gender relations

Serving the Middle Classes Nicky Gregson, Michelle Lowe, 1994

Social Change And The Middle Classes Tim Butler, Mike Savage, 2013-11-05 First Published in 1995 The study of the middle classes actually poses a variety of interesting challenges Traditionally the social scientific gaze has been directed either downwards to the working classes the poor and the dispossessed or upwards to the wealthy and powerful For all these reasons a collection of original papers on various aspects of the British middle classes seems an important venture that will cast valuable light on the course of social change in Britain more generally This book is designed to bring together a series of accessible high quality research papers on various aspects of the British middle classes

Domestic Service and Gender, 1660-1750 Tim Meldrum, 2014-09-11 In this exciting new study Tim Meldrum explores the real lives of domestic servants From close examination of court records and other documentary evidence he has reconstructed the lives of ordinary domestic servants in London A revealing account of life below the stairs the gendered nature of domestic service how different members of the household interacted with one another it makes a valuable contribution to the separate spheres debate

Migration and mobility in an enlarged europe Sigrid Metz-Göckel, Mirjana Morokvasic-Müller, A. Senganata Münt, 2008-07-23 The book investigates transnational migration and mobility of women from and within Central Eastern European countries It looks at women s practices and experiences mostly in the service sector where they are in demand as substitutes in stereotypically women s work The book combines different perspectives sociological and anthropological studies comparative policy analysis and historical and statistical evidence and provides new insights into current theoretical debates in migration and gender studies

Family Time Michael Bittman, Nancy Folbre, 2004-02-26 The time we have to care for one another especially for our children and our elderly is more precious to us than anything else in the world Yet we have more experience accounting for money than we do for time In this volume leading experts in analysis of time use from across the globe explore the interface between time use and family pol

Citizenship Ruth Lister, 1998 To pinpoint the important theoretical issues that they raise Lister recasts traditional thinking about the concept of citizenship exploring its political and policy implications for women in all their diversity Themes of inclusion and exclusion at the national and international level rights and participation inequality and difference are thus brought to the fore in the development of a woman friendly theory and praxis of citizenship

Feminist Geographies Women and Geography Study Group, 2014-01-14 In recent years the study of human geography has been reshaped by the work of feminist geographers and as a result a considerable number of universities now include feminist geography and gender issues in their courses This text provides an introduction to contemporary debates in feminist geography These explorations in diversity and difference make up feminist geography in the 1990s Feminist Geographies introduces key analytical concepts examines the history of the subdiscipline explores feminist geographers methodologies and considers the various ways in which feminist geographers have worked with some of geography's key concepts notably space place landscape and environment The text also goes on to outline areas of future debates within the subject

Hard Labour: The Forgotten Voices of Latvian Migrant 'Volunteer' Workers Linda McDowell, 2013-09-05 Although the Second World War ended sixty years ago there are still untold stories waiting to be heard stories not only of diplomats and soldiers but also of refugees camp inmates and ordinary people living in occupied territories stories of women's and children's lives as well as those of men In Hard Labour the forgotten voices of a group of young women who left Latvia in 1944 are captured telling the story of their flight from the advancing Soviet Army their difficult journeys across central Europe their lives as displaced people in Allied camps in Germany and finally their refuge in Britain Hard work is at the centre of these stories as the women became volunteer workers first for the Nazi war effort and then as labourers in the British post war reconstruction plan In what has been described as a venomous postscript to the War the fit and able amongst the vast homeless and often stateless population that fetched up in camps run by the Allies in war devastated Germany were recruited by western states as labourers Great Britain was the first nation to recruit displaced persons offering jobs in hospitals and private homes as domestic workers and in the textile industry to young single women and later men from Latvia Lithuania and Estonia and other once independent states Many of these women spent the rest of their lives in Britain longing to return to their homelands but independence came too late for many of them At the centre of Hard Labour are the lives of twenty five now elderly Latvia women who came to Britain between 1946 and 1949 Their memories are placed in the context of recent work in feminist history illuminating debates about displacement and loss as well as the transformation of women's lives in post war Britain

New Perspectives on Mutual Dependency in Care-Giving Adéla Souralová, 2016-03-09 Many scholars see caregiving relationships as being based on mutual dependency or interdependency Extensively cited notions of the global care chain or international division of reproductive labour have prepared the ground for analysis of global interdependencies in several domains This book goes further by taking mutual dependency as a starting point for analysing all relationships Using the example of Vietnamese families in the Czech Republic and the Czech native nannies it shows how paid caregiving is contextualized in terms of various relationships between three types of actors employer employee caring for the child and mother child All of these ties are based on ontologically different principles and each of them operates as a piece of a puzzle which is meaningful only in relation to each other Souralová considers caregiving to be a formative activity that establishes ties between the concerned actors whose subjectivities are mutually shaped in the daily practice of caregiving With its stress on mutuality in care work this ground breaking book illuminates the new forms of interpersonal interethnic and intergenerational relationships and highlights the mechanisms and processes in which kinship ties are negotiated and reproduced
