The thousands of men who were based at Camp Aldershot, Nova Scotia, and the Regimental Depot in Sussex, New Brunswick, then moved to establish a Regular Force Home Station in the newly constructed Camp Gagetown, NB. Michigan State Police Journal Milton R. Palmer, 1925 British Ruling Cases from Courts of Great Britain, Canada, Ireland, Australia and Other Divisions of the British Empire, Extensively Annotated, 1922 This series of reports is in a sense a continuation but with a decided expansion of the plan of the English ruling cases as it takes the cases from the British empire instead of from England only but it continues the English ruling cases in the sense that it will include the most important cases from the English courts decided since that series terminated. Preface. SPIN, 1993-09 From the concert stage to the dressing room, from the recording studio to the digital realm, SPIN surveys the modern musical landscape and the culture around it with authoritative reporting, provocative interviews, and a discerning critical ear. With dynamic photography, bold graphic design, and informed irreverence, the pages of SPIN pulsate with the energy of today's most innovative sounds. Report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Royal Canadian Mounted Police, 1924 Street Cop George Klein, 2022-10-06 This book provides an ethnography of street level policing in the United States and offers an analysis with valuable lessons for today's law enforcement officers. Author George C. Klein, sociologist and former police officer, explores the characteristics of policing in a suburb outside of a large Midwestern city in the United States. As a participant observation fieldworker, he functioned as an ethnographic researcher, recording with a sociological eye the real world tasks of policing, including the ordinary as well as the more remarkable aspects of day to day law enforcement. He approaches the data with three levels of analysis: looking at embedded issues in policing such as discretion, danger, corruption, cynicism, race, and class; a mid-range analysis that examines police work as an example of street level bureaucracy; and a global analysis assessing the entrenched roles of race, class, and demography in police work as well as society in the U.S. This book focuses on the need for police officers to solve social problems that other institutions in society are unwilling or unable to solve. It examines a myriad of issues such as police socialization, the use of force by police officers, stress levels, and suicide risk factors, disparate styles of policing, police militarization, de-escalation, and more. With compelling detail, the author helps the reader understand the turmoil regarding policing in the United States today. It is ideal for police professionals as well as students and scholars of criminal justice, criminology, sociology, psychology, history, political science, and journalism. The Canada Gazette
