Resurrecting the Past Sarah Griswold,2025-09-15 In Resurrecting the Past Sarah Griswold shows how the Levant became a crucial front in a post 1918 fight over the French past a contingent and contradictory but always hard charging struggle over a forgotten heritage mandate Many scholars clergy pundits politicians and investors perceived the moment Allied forces entered Jerusalem in December 1917 to be a once in a lifetime opportunity to expand French influence evoking the vision of a new colony in the territory a French Levant But what transpired for the French state in the Levant after World War I and why does that ill conceived venture still matter today Resurrecting the Past investigates how heritage politics led to a new form of empire a French mandate for Syria and Lebanon and with it a tide of regional and international critique Against such opposition the heritage mandate leaned heavily on spectacle and science generating a sprawling set of sites and objects Ottoman mansions crusader castles Umayyad mosques Roman arches buried synagogues and Sumerian ziggurats As Griswold traces how French heritage efforts cycled through multiple ideal pasts in the Levant from 1918 to 1946 she reveals how each one though grounded in realities also complicated those constructs and the work of French heritage makers Resurrecting the Past offers a parable of how efforts in heritage politics aimed to construct a union of ideologies and objects deemed the best past for France s uncertain future but struggled as much as they succeeded Eventually those same heritage politics ironically helped officials justify the end of the French Levant
