Ordinary Television

A vintage television set with a dark wood-grain finish and a silver-colored bezel. The screen is a solid red color with the words "Ordinary" and "Television" in white, sans-serif font. To the right of the screen are two large, circular silver knobs with black dials, and below them is a speaker grille with a fine mesh pattern.

Ordinary Television Analyzing Popular Tv:

Ordinary Television Frances Bonner, 2003-02-05 Most cultural analysis focuses on the spectacular and the unusual Frances Bonner has done us a great service by insisting on and demonstrating the importance of everyday TV Ordinary Television breaks genuinely new ground Toby Miller New York University In this book Frances Bonner provides a distinctive angle on a key area of research and teaching across media and cultural studies the content of television and the relations between television genres and audiences Hitherto most books on television have focused on drama or news and current affairs In other words they tend to ignore ordinary television lifestyle programmes and reality TV just the sort of programmes which increasingly dominate the schedules In Ordinary Television Frances Bonner makes a distinctive argument for regarding these disparate shows as a whole By examining a substantial range of these programmes Frances Bonner uncovers their shared characteristics especially through a consideration of the dominant and disguised discourses which pervade them In addition the comparative nature of her study enables the author to launch a powerful critique of conventional theories in relation to the globalization of television This book will be invaluable reading for anyone interested in television and the media in general Ordinary Television Frances Bonner, 2003

The Television Genre Book Glen Creeber, 2023-11-30 In this new edition of The Television Genre Book leading international scholars have come together to offer an accessible and comprehensive update to the debates issues and concerns of the field As television continues to evolve rapidly this new edition reflects the ways in which TV has transformed in recent years particularly with the emergence of online streaming services such as Netflix Disney HBO Max and Amazon Prime It also includes a new chapter on sports TV and expanded coverage of horror political thrillers Nordic noir historical documentary and docu drama With analyses of popular shows like Stranger Things Killing Eve The Crown Chernobyl Black Mirror Fleabag Breaking Bad and RuPaul's Drag Race this book offers a comprehensive understanding of television genre for scholars and students alike

Legitimizing Television Michael Z Newman, Elana Levine, 2012-02-27 Legitimizing Television Media Convergence and Cultural Status explores how and why television is gaining a new level of cultural respectability in the 21st century Once looked down upon as a plug in drug offering little redeeming social or artistic value television is now said to be in a creative renaissance with critics hailing the rise of Quality series such as Mad Men and 30 Rock Likewise DVDs and DVRs web video HDTV and mobile devices have shifted the longstanding conception of television as a household appliance toward a new understanding of TV as a sophisticated high tech gadget Newman and Levine argue that television's growing prestige emerges alongside the convergence of media at technological industrial and experiential levels Television is permitted to rise in respectability once it is connected to more highly valued media and audiences Legitimation works by denigrating ordinary television associated with the past distancing the television of the present from the feminized and mass audiences assumed to be inherent to the old TV It is no coincidence that the most validated programming and technologies of the convergence era are associated with a more privileged viewership The legitimization of television articulates the medium with the masculine over the feminine the elite over the mass reinforcing cultural hierarchies that have long perpetuated inequalities of gender and class Legitimizing Television urges readers to move beyond the question of taste whether TV is good or bad and to focus instead on the cultural political and economic issues at stake in television's transformation in the digital age Consumer Citizen as a Media Project Olena Prykhodko, 2017 The current book asserts that reality television serves a broader social purpose than simple entertainment Instead this type of programming can best be understood as a revealing exposition on contemporary politics culture and social issues Reality television addresses many different social groups The book primarily examines the social and political messages conveyed by reality television to its viewers Focusing on the notion of consumer citizenship the study analyzes the German television program Deutschland sucht den Superstar Germany seeks a Superstar as a reflection of contemporary social and political issues in Germany Dissertation Series Kulturwissenschaft Cultural Studies Estudios Culturales tudes Culturelles Vol 53 Subject Media Studies Popular Culture German Studies Television and Dating in Contemporary China Chao Yang, 2017-06-29 This book considers the changing nature of intimacy in contemporary China providing a unique case study of romantic subjectivities in young people in the world's fastest growing economy Since the implementation of reform in 1978 the economic and socio cultural environment of modern China has experienced a dramatic transformation under the influence of urbanization and globalization facilitating more individualized identity among Chinese youth This book bridges the gap between an emergent emphasis on individualisation and the country's traditional norms and values It focuses on young people's understandings of various forms of relationships such as cohabitation extramarital relationships and multiple relationships suggesting a challenge to traditional familial values and an increasingly diversified understanding of the concepts of love and romance By examining the formation of relationships among 21st century Chinese youth notably through the lens of popular Chinese TV dating programs this book considers how dating and relationships mirror China's changing societal structure and examines social and cultural transformations in Chinese society

Remembering Migration Kate Darian-Smith, Paula Hamilton, 2019-08-10 This book provides the first comprehensive study of diverse migrant memories and what they mean for Australia in the twenty first century Drawing on rich case studies it captures the changing political and cultural dimensions of migration memories as they are negotiated and commemorated by individuals communities and the nation Remembering Migration is divided into two sections the first on oral histories and the second examining the complexity of migrant heritage and the sources and genres of memory writing The focused and thematic analysis in the book explores how these histories are re remembered in private and public spaces including museum exhibitions heritage sites and the media Written by leading and emerging scholars the collected essays explore how memories of global migration across generations contribute to the ever changing social and cultural fabric of Australia and its place in the world The Discursive Construction of Class and Lifestyle Ana Tominc, 2017-11-15 This book discusses transformations in the construction of culinary taste lifestyle and class through cookbook language style in post socialist Slovenia Using a critical discourse studies approach it demonstrates how the representation of culinary advice in standard and celebrity cookbooks has changed in recent decades as a result of general social transformations such as postmodernity and globalization It argues that compared to the standard cookbooks where nutritionist ideology is at the forefront the celebrity cookbooks reflect the conversational hybrid nature of the genre through which they promote global foodie discourse while at the same time localizing the global trends to the Slovene context The book lays at the intersection of discourse analysis sociology food cultural communication and media studies and post socialism and should be of interest to those interested in celebrities food media socialism and post socialism cookbooks globalization and discourse change Television in Post-Reform Vietnam Giang Nguyen-Thu, 2018-10-12 This book explores Vietnamese popular television in the post Reform era that is from 1986 focussing on the relationship between television and national imagination It locates Vietnamese television in the experiences of everyday life and the prevailing network of power relations resulting from marketization and globalization and as such moves beyond the clichéd assumption of Vietnamese media as a mere propagandist instrument of the party state With examples from a wide range of television genres the book demonstrates how Vietnamese television enables novel conditions of cultural oppression as well as political engagement in the name of the nation In sharp contrast to the previous image of Vietnam as a war torn land post Reform television conjures into being a new sense of national belonging based on an implicit rejection of the socialist past hopes for peace and prosperity and anxieties about a globalized future This book highlights the richness of Vietnam's current culture and identity characterized the book argues by fraternity without uniformity Television Entertainment Jonathan Gray, 2009-06-02 Television Entertainment offers a thematically based overview balancing an interest in art aesthetics and audiences with the power politics and production of television that includes examples from recent and current television including Lost reality television The Sopranos The Simpsons political satire Grey's Anatomy The West Wing soaps and 24 Telecinematic Stylistics Christian Hoffmann, Monika Kirner-Ludwig, 2020-05-14 Over the last two decades the study of discourse in film and television has become one of the most promising research avenues in stylistics and pragmatics due to the dazzling variety of source material and the huge pragmatic range within it Meanwhile with the advent of streaming and the box set film and television themselves are becoming separated by an increasingly blurred line This volume closes a long standing gap in stylistics research bringing together a book level pragmastylistic showcase It presents current developments from the field from two complementary perspectives looking stylistically at the discourse in film and the discourse of and around film This latter phrase comes to mean the approaches which try to account for the pragmatic effects induced by cinematography This might be the camera work or the lighting or the mise en scène or montage The volume takes a multimodal approach looking at word movement and gesture in keeping with modern stylistics The volume shows how pragmatic themes and methods are adapted and applied to films including speech acts im politeness implicature and context In this way it provides systematic insights into how meanings are displayed enhanced suppressed and negotiated in both film and televisual arts

Horrible White People Taylor Nygaard, Jorie Lagerwey, 2020-11-24 Examines the bleak television comedies that illustrate the obsession of the white left with its own anxiety and suffering At the same time that right wing political figures like Donald Trump were elected and reactionary socio economic policies like Brexit were voted into law representations of bleakly comic white fragility spread across television screens American and British programming that featured the abjection of young middle class liberal white people such as Broad City Casual You're the Worst Catastrophe Fleabag and Transparent proliferated to wide popular acclaim in the 2010s Taylor Nygaard and Jorie Lagerwey track how these shows of the white left obsessed with its own anxiety and suffering are complicit in the rise and maintenance of the far right particularly in the mobilization representation and sustenance of structural white supremacy on television Nygaard and Lagerwey examine a cycle of dark television comedies the focus of which are horrible white people by putting them in conversation with similar upmarket comedies from creators and casts of color like Insecure Atlanta Dear White People and Master of None Through their analysis they demonstrate the ways these non white centric shows negotiate prestige TV's dominant aesthetics of whiteness and push back against the centering of white suffering in a time of cultural crisis Through the lens of media analysis and feminist cultural studies Nygaard and Lagerwey's book opens up new ways of looking at contemporary television consumption and the political cultural and social repercussions of these horrible white people shows both on and off screen

Celebrity Chefs, Food Media and the Politics of Eating Joanne Hollows, 2022-08-11 Working across food studies and media studies Joanne Hollows examines the impact of celebrity chefs on how we think about food and how we cook shop and eat Hollows explores how celebrity chefs emerged in both restaurant and media industries making chefs like Jamie Oliver and Gordon Ramsay into global stars She also shows how blogs and YouTube enabled the emergence of new types of branded food personalities such as Deliciously Ella and BOSH As well as providing a valuable introduction to existing research on celebrity chefs Hollows uses case studies to analyse how celebrity chefs shape food practices and wider social political and cultural trends Hollows explores their impact on ideas about veganism healthy eating and the Covid 19 pandemic and how their advice is bound up with class gender and race She also demonstrates how celebrity chefs such as Jamie Oliver Hugh Fearnley Whittingstall Nadiya Hussain and Jack Monroe have become food activists and campaigners who intervene in contemporary debates about the environment food poverty and nation

Historicizing Lifestyle David Bell, 2016-04-22 Lifestyles have a history and lifestyle media is fundamentally implicated in this history This original volume examines issues of taste media and lifestyle from the 1900s to 1970s providing a wealth of empirical evidence and debate from varied international perspectives Including examples as diverse as Good Housekeeping and Playboy it explores the continuities and discontinuities between the past and present to provide a better understanding of the representation of lifestyle and its relationship to the self The volume demonstrates how ideas about gender nation and race problematize taken for granted assumptions about lifestyle with particular emphasis on the new middle classes in the US The book also examines the role of advertising and marketing in mediating ideas about lifestyle the role of material culture in the construction of cultural hierarchies and the positioning of social groups within wider cartographies of taste The volume makes a significant contribution to this growing field and will interest academics and students in media and cultural studies communication studies cultural history and sociology

Contemporary Publics P. David Marshall, Glenn D'Cruz, Sharyn McDonald, Katja Lee, 2016-09-11 If the twentieth century has been dominated by discussions of the public public life and the public sphere Contemporary Publics argues that in the twenty first century we must complicate the singularity of that paradigm and start thinking of our world in terms of multiple overlapping and competing publics In three distinct streams art media and technology and the intimate life this volume offers up the intellectual and political significance of thinking through the plurality of our publics Countering Neoliberal Publics Screen and Space explores how different artistic practices articulate the challenges and desires of multiple publics Making and Shaping Publics Discourse and Technology showcases how media shape publics and how new and emerging publics use these technologies to construct identities Commodifying Public Intimacies examines what happens to the notion of the private when intimacies structure publics move into public spaces and develop value that can be exchanged and circulated

Television and Culture in Putin's Russia Stephen Hutchings, Natalia Rulyova, 2009-06-02 This book examines television culture in Russia under the government of Vladimir Putin In recent years the growing influx into Russian television of globally mediated genres and formats has coincided with a decline in media freedom and a ratcheting up of government control over the content style of television programmes All three national channels First Russia NTV have fallen victim to Putin's power obsessed regime Journalists critical of his Chechnya policy have been subject to harassment and arrest programmes courting political controversy such as Savik Shuster's Freedom of Speech Svoboda slova have been taken off the air coverage of national holidays like Victory Day has witnessed a return of Soviet style bombast and reporting on crises such as the Beslan tragedy is severely curtailed The book demonstrates how broadcasters have been enlisted in support of a transparent effort to install a latter day version of imperial pride in Russian military achievements at the centre of a national identity project over which from the depths of the Kremlin Putin's government exerts a form of remote control However central to the book's argument is the notion that because of the changes wrought upon Russian society after 1985 a blanket return to the totalitarianism of the Soviet media has notwithstanding the tenor of much western reporting on the issue not occurred Despite the fact that television is nominally under state control that control remains remote and less than wholly effective as amply demonstrated in the audience research conducted for the book and in analysis of contradictions at the textual level Overall this book provides a fascinating account of the role of television under President Putin and will be of interest to all those wishing to understand contemporary
