Reflections On Exile And Other Essays Convergences Inventories Of The Present:

Reflections on Exile and Other Essays Edward W. Said, 2000 With their powerful blend of political and aesthetic concerns Edward W. Said's writings have transformed the field of literary studies. This long-awaited collection of literary and cultural essays offers evidence of how much the fully engaged critical mind can contribute to the reservoir of value, thought, and action essential to our lives and culture.

Fictions of Home Martin Mühlheim, 2018-04-23 This study aims to counter right-wing discourses of belonging. It discusses key theoretical concepts for the study of home, focusing in particular on Marxist, feminist, postcolonial, and psychoanalytic contributions. The book also maintains that postmodern celebrations of nomadism and exile tend to be incapable of providing an alternative to conservative xenophobic appropriations of home. In detailed readings of one film and six novels, a view is developed according to which home as a spatio-temporal imaginary is rooted in our species being and as such constitutes the inevitable starting point for any progressive politics.

A Curriculum of Imagination in an Era of Standardization Robert Lake, 2013-03-01 A Curriculum of Imagination in an Era of Standardization In A Curriculum of Imagination in an Era of Standardization An Imaginative Dialogue with Maxine Greene and Paulo Freire, a volume in the Landscapes of Education Series, Editors William H. Schubert, University of Illinois at Chicago, Ming Fang He, Georgia Southern University. Robert Lake explores with the reader what is meant by imagination in the work of Maxine Greene and Paulo Freire and their relevance in an era of increasingly standardized and highly scripted practices in the field of education. The author explores how imagination permeates every aspect of life with the intent to develop capacity with the readers to look beyond the taken-for-granted to question the normal, to develop various ways of knowing, seeing, feeling, and to imagine and act upon possibilities for positive social and educational change. The principal aspect of the work illustrated in this book that distinguishes it from other work is that an imaginary dialogue between Maxine Greene and Paulo Freire runs through the book using actual citations from their work. Each chapter starts with such a dialogue interspersed with the works of others and the author's critical autobiographical reflections. With a brief overview of the socio-cultural evolution of imagination from pre-literate times to the present, the author explores some of the current iterations of imagination, including the eugenics movement and dark imagination, sensing gaps and creative critical imagination metaphors as the language of imagination and empathy as social imagination. Reflecting upon emerging tensions, challenges, and possibilities, curriculum workers face in such an era of standardization, the author calls for a curriculum of imagination. After providing a brief overview of the socio-cultural evolution of imagination from pre-literate times to the present, the author looks at some of the current iterations of imagination, including the eugenics movement and dark imagination, sensing gaps and creative critical imagination metaphors as the language of the imagination and empathy as social imagination. All of these ideas are then incorporated in a curriculum of imagination that is envisioned through Joseph Schwab's four commonplaces of curriculum, followed by a discussion of emerging tensions, issues, and possibilities for praxis and scholarship.

Secularism and Cosmopolitanism Étienne Balibar, 2018-06-19 What is the relationship between cosmopolitanism and secularism the worldwide and the worldly While cosmopolitan politics may seem inherently secular existing forms of secularism risk undermining the universality of cosmopolitanism because they privilege the European tradition over all others and transform particular historical norms into enunciations of truth valid for all cultures and all epochs In this book the noted philosopher Étienne Balibar explores the tensions lurking at this troubled nexus in order to advance a truly democratic and emancipatory cosmopolitanism which requires a secularization of secularism itself Balibar argues for the idea of the universal against its particular dominant institutions He questions the assumptions that underlie popular ideas of secularism and religion and outlines the importance of a new critique for the contemporary world Balibar holds that conflicts between religious and secular discourses need to be reframed from a point of view that takes into account the cultural hybridization migration and mobility and transformation of borders that have reshaped the postcolonial age Among the topics discussed are the uses and misuses of the category of religion and the religious the paradoxical genealogy of monotheism French laïcité's identitarian turn and the implications of the responses to the Charlie Hebdo attacks for an extended definition of free speech Going beyond circumscribed notions of religion and the public sphere Secularism and Cosmopolitanism is a profound rethinking of identity and difference that seeks to make room for a renewed political imagination

Education at War Arshad Imtiaz Ali, 2018-04-10 Education at War The Fight for Students of Color in America's Public Schools attempts to shape educational research and practice to more explicitly consider the relationship between education capitalism and war and more specifically its impact on students of color The authors as a whole contend that the contemporary specter of war has become a central way that racism and materialism become manifested and practiced within education In particular this collection asserts that the contemporary neoliberal characterization of education and school based reform is situated within the global political economy that has facilitated a growth in the prison and military industrial complex and simultaneous divestment in education domestically within the U S Education at War attempts to make research relevant by bringing the tensions within young people s lives to the fore The heavy shadow cast by recent U S led wars re organizes the sites of learning and teaching nationally as well as differentially within specific sites and upon particular communities Nonetheless the examination of this context is not enough Rather we consider how such a contemporary context can facilitate educational spaces for communities and youth to grow their vision for a different and hopefully a more humanizing future Thus the book contributors will collectively explore how resistance can produce the opportunity for rich diverse and transformative learning for marginalized students and communities The lives of People of Color are the forefront of Education at War The Fight for Students of Color in America s Public Schools Whereas there are many attempts to theorize about the global implications of war less attention is paid to the ways that war shapes young lives in the U S particularly in an educational context The book addresses the absence of youth centered discussions regarding education during a political context of neoliberalism and war and provides important perspectives on which to ground critical discussions among students and families education scholars and practitioners and policymakers
