The Rational Animal Douglas T Kenrick, Vladas Griskevicius, 2013-09-10 Why do three out of four professional football players go bankrupt How can illiterate jungle dwellers pass a test that tricks Harvard philosophers And why do billionaires work so hard only to give their hard earned money away When it comes to making decisions the classic view is that humans are eminently rational But growing evidence suggests instead that our choices are often irrational biased and occasionally even moronic Which view is right or is there another possibility In this animated tour of the inner workings of the mind psychologist Douglas T Kenrick and business professor Vladas Griskevicius challenge the prevailing views of decision making and present a new alternative grounded in evolutionary science By connecting our modern behaviors to their ancestral roots they reveal that underneath our seemingly foolish tendencies is an exceptionally wise system of decision making From investing money to choosing a job from buying a car to choosing a romantic partner our choices are driven by deep seated evolutionary goals Because each of us has multiple evolutionary goals though new research reveals something radical there s more than one you making decisions Although it feels as if there is just one single self inside your head your mind actually contains several different subselves each one steering you in a different direction when it takes its turn at the controls The Rational Animal will transform the way you think about decision making And along the way you ll discover the intimate connections between ovulating strippers Wall Street financiers testosterone crazed skateboarders Steve Jobs Elvis Presley and you

Modern Early Childhood

Teacher Education: Theories and Practice Badea, Mihaela, Suditu, Mihaela, 2024-01-22 Early childhood education is the decisive period of a student's life experience where the foundations for lifelong learning are laid. A dynamic interplay of individual and collective experiences unfolds within its organized environment, fostering holistic growth, development, and the safeguarding of young minds. The significance of these formative years cannot be overstated; they are a cornerstone of education, shaping more than half of an individual's future learning trajectory. In a world driven by international imperatives and national priorities, the establishment of robust early education policies has emerged as a pressing need within the broader Early Childhood Development program. Modern Early Childhood Teacher Education Theories and Practice delves into the multifaceted tapestry of early school education, dissecting its historical underpinnings while navigating the complexities of contemporary educational paradigms. The book unfurls a comprehensive exploration of diverse global early schooling systems, dissecting their historical trajectories and contemporary challenges. It assumes the role of a scholarly guide, not only for practicing early education teachers but also for aspiring educators preparing to embark on their journey into the realm of pre-school and primary education. Additionally, it stands as a forum for the global exchange of pedagogical insights, fostering a community of academics, researchers, and practitioners committed to advancing the field of early education. The pages of this book resonate with the echoes of critical topics such as contemporary challenges in early schooling systems, innovative teaching resources tailored for young learners, the intricate nuances of digital education in the formative years, and the pivotal role of early education as a catalyst for broader educational and cultural policies.
