Problem of Black Suffering Sherman A. Jackson, 2009 In his controversial 1973 book Is God a White Racist William R Jones sharply criticized black theologians for their agnostic approach to black suffering noting that the doctrine of an omnibenevolent God poses very significant problems for a perennially oppressed community He proposed a humanocentric theism which denies God's sovereignty over human history and imputes autonomous agency to humans By rendering humans alone responsible for moral evil Jones's theology freed blacks to revolt against the evil of oppression without revolting against God Sherman Jackson now places Jones's argument in conversation with the classical schools of Islamic theology The problem confronting the black community is not simply proving that God exists says Jackson The problem rather is establishing that God cares No religious expression that fails to tackle the problem of black suffering can hope to enjoy a durable tenure in the black community For the Muslim therefore it is essential to find a Quranic Islamic grounding for the protest oriented agenda of black religion That is the task Jackson undertakes in this pathbreaking work Jackson's previous book Islam and the Blackamerican OUP 2006 laid the groundwork for this ambitious project Its sequel Islam and the Problem of Black Suffering solidifies Jackson's reputation as the foremost theologian of the black American Islamic movement

Islamic Humanism Lenn E. Goodman, 2005-11-24 This book is an attempt to explain how in the face of increasing religious authoritarianism in medieval Islamic civilization some Muslim thinkers continued to pursue essentially humanistic rational and scientific discourses in the quest for knowledge meaning and values Drawing on a wide range of Islamic writings from love poetry to history to philosophical theology Goodman shows that medieval Islam was open to individualism occasional secularism skepticism even liberalism Persian Wisdom in Arabic Garb (2 vols.) 'Alī b. 'Ubayda al-Rayḥānī, 2006-12-01 This volume introduces Al b Ubayda al Ray n d 219 834 one of the central figures in the transmission of classical Greek and Persian wisdom into Arabic It offers an edition translation and evaluation of his book Jaw hir al kilam

one of the oldest collections of proverbial wisdom and moralia in Arabic as well as other remaining pieces of his works The first part of the book surveys the content of his more than sixty books and suggests that among his translations from Middle Persian into Arabic were the Sindbad-nama and Bilawhar wa Budhsaf Moreover he emerges as the author of the famous al-Adab al-agh-r heretofore wrongly attributed to Ibn al-Muqaffa The second part contains the Arabic texts and translations as well as a rich documentation of their sources and their further transmission Islamic Law and Muslim Same-Sex Unions Junaid Jahangir, Hussein Abdullatif, 2016-10-03 This book is written with the objective of reasonably addressing the need of Muslim gays and lesbians for a life which involves intimacy affection and companionship within the confines of a legal contract Contemporary conservative Muslim leaders unreasonably promote false marriages with straight spouses failing which they prescribe the solution of permanent celibacy as a test This book delves into an extensive scholarship on the same sources that conservative Muslim leaders draw on the Qur'an Hadith and jurisprudence It is argued that the primary sources of Muslim knowledge addressed sexual acts between the same gender in the context of inhospitality exploitation coercion and disease but not true same sex unions past Muslim scholarship is silent on the issue of sexual orientation and Muslim same sex unions The arguments of contemporary conservative Muslim leaders are deconstructed and the case for Muslim same sex unions is made based on jurisprudential principles and thorough arguments from within the Muslim tradition
