Privatization And Economic Reform In Central Europe The Changing Business Climate:

Privatization and Economic Reform in Central Europe Dennis A. Rondinelli, 1994-01-26 A fundamental characteristic of the global economy during the 1990s is the reinvigoration of the private sector as the driving force for economic growth and social progress This book surveys Central Europe during the early period of transition from late 1989 to early 1993 when governments were experimenting with privatization and economic reform and assesses how privatization and economic reform policies have changed the business climate there Rondinelli and his contributors provide an overview of economic reforms in Central European countries offer a framework by which to compare them describe the approaches to privatization their governments adopted and identify the problems and challenges that each country faces in attempting to create a market oriented economy The result is a valuable resource for international management international trade policy makers and scholars of international business The process of economic restructuring is especially important and particularly complex in Central Europe where Poland Hungary the Czech and Slovak Republics Slovenia and other independent states of former Yugoslavia are struggling to transform themselves from socialist to market economies Each country faces equally complex challenges however in creating a new business climate that will nourish domestic enterprise and attract investments by multinational corporations These challenges include 1 privatizing state owned enterprises that have dominated the economies of socialist countries 2 developing public policies and programs that support the private sector especially small and medium scale enterprises 3 decentralizing the state administrative structure to allow regional and local governments to play a more active role in providing public services and supporting private enterprise and 4 restructuring industry agriculture and services in order to diversify and reinvigorate the economic base including infrastructure of regions surrounding cities that are still dominated by heavy and now largely obsolescent manufacturing industries This book surveys the situation in Central Europe during the early period of transition in the early 1990s when governments in all four countries were experimenting with privatization and economic reform The authors assess how privatization and economic reform policies have changed the business climate in this important region of the world The editor provides an overview of economic reforms in Central European countries offers a framework by which to compare them describes the approaches to privatization their governments adopted and identifies the problems and challenges that each country faces in attempting to create a market oriented economy

Privatization and Entrepreneurship Erdener Kaynak, Alfred Lewis, Arie A Ullmann, 2018-12-07 Privatization and Entrepreneurship The Managerial Challenge in Central and Eastern Europe analyzes the challenges faced by managers in the transforming economies of Central and Eastern Europe and provides penetrating insights into the details of managing in the former socialist countries This collection s combination of conceptual theoretical material with empirical firsthand case analysis prepares Western managers for a more profitable and less stressful entry into these significant markets This enlightening book highlights the complexity and breadth of the issues and problems of successfully entering new markets in Central and Eastern Europe Along the way you are introduced to such topics as consumer behavior and shown the different forms of foreign direct investment with their associated problems and benefits If you are searching for ways to better prepare for business in these markets this book can help you meet your objectives with its helpful information on ethical concerns and linguistic difficulties of managing in transforming economies management challenges of privatization management challenges of entrepreneurship strategic issues associated with the reorientation of enterprises corporate constituencies changing consumers labor unions and pay practices Privatization and Entrepreneurship will prove valuable to policymakers in economic development and foreign aid agencies executives of companies planning to expand into Europe and those already active in the region and academicians and students in management economics and political science

Privatisation, Politics, and Economic Performance in Hungary Zoltan Antal-Mokos, 1998-02-05 Why do some privatisations apparently fail to produce expected positive results Economic theory tells us that privatisation should improve efficiency but this book originally published in 1998 suggests that political bargaining in the process of privatisation works against the results we expect to achieve To gain a better understanding of what privatisation is really about power at a firm level needs to be understood Privatisation is a gradually unfolding evolutionary process often with defective corporate governance Politicking can take priority over performance with the result that efficiency is ignored and profitability is affected This is a comprehensive book on privatisation which focuses on micro level behavioural issues and it uses exceptionally rich case evidence to illustrate that privatisation is more about politics than performance

Management for Privatization International Labour Office, 1995 This work traces the impact of privatization of state owned enterprises on management practices and strategies It covers methods of privatization and the barriers faced by managers includes case studies of industry and public services in industrialized developing and former socialist countries and identifies training needs It aims to build management development capacity and to prepare managers for the challenges of privatization and a new competitive environment The book is divided into four parts Part One covers the reasons for and main methods of privatization the environmental

Privatization and Deregulation in the Gulf Energy Sector The Emirates Center for Strategic Studies and Research, 1999-03-17 The papers contained in this volume were among those presented at ECSSR s Third Annual Energy Conference entitled Privatization and Deregulation in the Gulf Energy Sector held in Abu Dhabi October 25 26 1997 This conference united leading practitioners and scholars in an effort to explore the important micro and macro issues related to the privatization and deregulation of energy sector Topics related to oil production and refining gas and electricity production and their transmission and distribution were discussed This volume assesses the arguments for and against deregulation of the energy sector and highlights the political legal institutional and resource requirements for successful implementation of a privatization program drawing on international experience Indeed privatization is spreading globally after its small and uncertain beginnings in Britain in the early 1980s Today states of the Gulf Co Operation Council

GCC are actively examining the possibility of privatizing a number of key industries and infrastructure projects The ideal route to prosperous and effective privatization programs is for the GCC states to learn from the mistakes of other countries in this field while emulating the success stories

Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
