Problem Solving

Spotlight on Teaching

Excerpts from NCTM's Standards for School Mathematics
Prekindergarten through Grade 12*

Problem solving can and should be used to help students develop fluency with specific skills. For example, consider the following problem, which is adapted from the Curriculum and Evaluation Standards for School Mathematics (NCTM 1989, p. 24):

I have pennies, nickels, and dimes in my pocket. If I take three coins out of my pocket, how much money could I have taken?

This problem leads children to adopt a trial-and-error strategy. They can also act out the problem by using real coins. Children verify that their answers meet the problem conditions. Follow-up questions can also be posed: "Is it possible for me to have 4 cents? 11 cents? Can you list all the possible amounts I can have when I pick three coins?" The last question provides a challenge for older or more mathematically sophisticated children and requires them to make an organized list, perhaps like the one shown here.

Pennies	Nickels	Dimes	Total Value
0	0	3	30
0	1	2	25
0	2	1	20
0	3	0	15
1	0	2	21

Working on this problem offers good practice in addition skills. But the important mathematical goal of this problem—helping students to think systematically about possibilities and to organize and record their thinking—need not wait until students can add fluently.

Weinberg, Leon Hall, James Lyons, Kenneth Clark, Hayes Mizell, Before it was over they fired him from the little schoolhouse at which he had taught devotedly for ten years And they fired his wife and two of his sisters and a niece And they threatened him with bodily harm And they sued him on trumped up charges and convicted him in a kangaroo court and left him with a judgment that denied him credit from any bank And they burned his house to the ground while the fire department stood around watching the flames consume the night And they stoned the church at which he pastored And fired shotguns at him out of the dark But he was not Job and so he fired back and called the police who did not come and kept not coming Then he fled driving north at eighty five miles an hour over country roads until he was across the state line Soon after they burned his church to the ground and charged him for having shot back that night with felonious assault with a deadly weapon and so he became an official fugitive from justice In time the governor of his state announced they would not pursue this minister who had caused all the trouble and said of him Good riddance
