Logic provides an overview about the symbolic illustration of language and thought procedures. As soon as the area of Aristotle, the base of the precise sciences must now take into account relativity, hesitation and incompleteness. The European philosophers regard philosophy as a tendency that deals with the study of politics where logic is regarded as a decisive aspect that are deep rooted.

Philosophy of Education

The philosophy of education analyzes the objectives, methods as well as meaning of education. It helps to describe the primary philosophical examination regarding the themes related to particular pedagogical approaches. The philosophers of education study about the aspects that constitutes socio-cultural as well as philosophical contexts that might be included. According to ⁴, philosophy of education has been defined as the branch of philosophy that deals with philosophical questions that is mostly concerned with the nature, problems as well as aims of education. The philosophy of education deals with fundamental problems that is concerned regarding what are the actual objectives that acts as the guiding principle of education. On the other hand, another type of problem is related to the concern regarding the appropriate criteria to analyze educational efforts ⁵. The most imperative issue that deals with the authority of the state also acts as a major concern in the philosophy of education. The ultimate purpose of philosophy of education is to reflect on the importance of reasoning as well as logic. It aims to define thus making individuals comprehend about what they are thinking and the way they have been addressing basic question regarding their life.

⁶ argued that at present the basic education has abandoned the logical aspect. It has been decisive to make the students learn in diverse ways, as it is imperative to give them a clear idea regarding Draws from both Continental and Analytical traditions. Fills a gap in the research methods literature in education and the social sciences.

A Philosophical Approach to Perceptions of Academic Writing Practices in Higher Education Amanda French, 2022-05-12 This book takes a philosophical approach to the question what is academic writing and specifically explores the question of how academic writing and writing development can be better understood and developed by lecturers in higher education. It examines how a number of interconnected and interdisciplinary political, linguistic, discursive, ontological and epistemological frameworks can be used to inform a post-qualitative approach for research into higher education academic writing practices employing a Bourdieusian/Deleuzian inspired approach. Using lecturers' own perceptions and experiences of academic writing and treating them as part of a professional academic writing in higher education habitus, the book illustrates and analyses a number of ideas and concepts through a broadly post-qualitative paradigm. It also offers a number of innovative academic writing and writing development practices. Offering an in-depth discussion into how lecturers might better negotiate academic writing practices and use their own academic writing experiences to develop students' writing, this book will be highly relevant to academics, scholars and post-graduate students working in higher education.

Textbook of Comparative Education Sodhi T.S., 1998 The book covers the broad spectrum of Comparative Education as an emerging discipline within the framework of education in India and UK, USA and China. This thoroughly revised edition of the book introduces the systems, patterns and problems of education while highlighting the similarities and differences in various educational systems the way these have been conceived, including the solution worked out by each country to the problems in the field.
