Problems Of Rationality:

Problems of Rationality Donald Davidson, 2004-03-25 Problems of Rationality is the eagerly awaited fourth volume of Donald Davidson's philosophical writings. From the 1960s until his death in August 2003, Davidson was perhaps the most influential figure in English language philosophy, and his work has had a profound effect upon the discipline. His unified theory of the interpretation of thought, meaning, and action holds that rationality is a necessary condition for both mind and interpretation. Davidson here develops this theory to illuminate value judgements and how we understand them, to investigate what the conditions are for attributing mental states to an object or creature, and to grapple with the problems presented by thoughts and actions which seem to be irrational. Anyone working on knowledge, mind, and language will find these essays essential reading.

Cohomological and Geometric Approaches to Rationality Problems Fedor Bogomolov, Yuri Tschinkel, 2009-11-03 Rationality problems link algebra to geometry, and the difficulties involved depend on the transcendence degree of  $K$  over  $k$  or geometrically on the dimension of the variety. A major success in 19th century algebraic geometry was a complete solution of the rationality problem in dimensions one and two over algebraically closed ground fields of characteristic zero. Such advances have led to many interdisciplinary applications to algebraic geometry. This comprehensive book consists of surveys of research papers by leading specialists in the field and gives indications for future research in rationality problems. Topics discussed include the rationality of quotient spaces, cohomological invariants of quasi-simple Lie type groups, rationality of the moduli space of curves, and rational points on algebraic varieties. This volume is intended for researchers, mathematicians, and graduate students interested in algebraic geometry and specifically in rationality problems. Contributors: F. Bogomolov, T. Petrov, Y. Tschinkel, Ch. B. Hning, G. Catanese, I. Cheltsov, J. Park, N. Hoffmann, S. J. Hu, M. C. Kang, L. Katzarkov, Y. Prokhorov, A. Pukhlikov.

Problems of Market Liberalism: Volume 15, Social Philosophy and Policy, Part 2 Ellen Frankel Paul, Fred D. Miller (Jr.), Jeffrey Paul, 1998-10-13 These essays assess market liberal or libertarian political theory. They provide insights into the limits of government, develop market-oriented solutions to pressing social problems, and explore some defects in traditional libertarian theory and practice. Some of the essays deal with crucial theoretical issues, asking whether the promotion of citizens' welfare can serve as the justification for the establishment of government or inquiring into the constraints on individual behavior that exist in a liberal social order. Some essays explore market liberal or libertarian positions on specific public policy issues, such as affirmative action, ownership of the airwaves, the provision of healthcare, or the regulation of food and drugs. Other essays look at property rights, the morality of profit making, or the provision of public goods. Still others address libertarianism as a political movement, suggesting ways in which libertarians can reach out to those who do not share their views.

The Contextualization of Rationality Gerhard Preyer, 2000 A Fallibilist Social Methodology for Today's Institutional Problems John Wettersten, 2021-12-13 This book identifies and explains far-ranging consequences for methodology as a consequence of the observation that all rationality is social and highlights the need for methodological reforms in publications and interactions among colleagues and research programs The idea that all rationality is social needs to be part and parcel of all social scientific theories which means that their content must be changed Sociology needs to study the impact of social rules economics must revise assumptions about how individual rationality impacts financial developments and cognitive psychology must include social dimensions In addition there is also a need for moral theories that explain how social standards of behavior can be improved in specific institutional contexts

Rationality of Varieties Gavril Farkas, Gerard van der Geer, Mingmin Shen, Lenny Taelman, 2021-10-19 This book provides an overview of the latest progress on rationality questions in algebraic geometry It discusses new developments such as universal triviality of the Chow group of zero cycles various aspects of stable birationality cubic and Fano fourfolds rationality of moduli spaces and birational invariants of group actions on varieties contributed by the foremost experts in their fields The question of whether an algebraic variety can be parametrized by rational functions of as many variables as its dimension has a long history and played an important role in the history of algebraic geometry Recent developments in algebraic geometry have made this question again a focal point of research and formed the impetus to organize a conference in the series of conferences on the island of Schiermonnikoog The book follows in the tradition of earlier volumes which originated from conferences on the islands Texel and Schiermonnikoog

The Shaping of Rationality J. Wentzel van Huyssteen, 1999-07-20 This book arises out of a deep fascination with the relationship between human intelligence and rationality and with how our fragile but uniquely human ability to be rational invariably affects our everyday lives as well as our involvement with faith theology and the spectacular scientific achievements of our time After carefully analyzing the notion of rationality and examining how the skill of rationality is being challenged by postmodern culture J Wentzel van Huyssteen argues that it is precisely the problem of rationality that holds the key to understanding the complex forces shaping the radically different domains of religion and science today
