Active Networks Hiroshi Yasuda, 2003-06-29 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Second International Working Conference on Active Networks IWAN 200 held in Tokyo Japan in October 2000 The 30 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions The book offers topical sections on architecture multicast quality of service QoS applications management service architecture and mobile IP

Active Networks Ian W. Marshall, Scott Nettles, Naoki Wakamiya, 2003-06-30 This volume of the LNCS series contains the papers accepted for presentation at the Third IFIP international working conference on active networks IWAN 2001 The workshop was held at the Sheraton University City Hotel in Philadelphia USA and was hosted by the University of Pennsylvania Active networks aim to ease the introduction of network services by adding dynamic programmability to network devices such as routers and making aspects of the programmability accessible to users Active networks research has focused on the development and testing of active techniques that enable dynamic programmability in a networked environment These techniques have a wide variety of applications At IWAN 2001 we aimed to bring together members of the various communities using active and related techniques and provide a forum for discussion and collaboration involving researchers developers and potential users Papers presented at IWAN 2001 covered the application of active techniques to many aspects of network based communication including active multicast active QoS active security active GRIDs and active management In addition there were papers on architectures language and API issues Although there were only 22 submissions the standard of the 10 accepted papers was very high This indicated clearly a substantial amount of ongoing high quality research in active networking despite the current unfavorable economic conditions in the telecommunications industry The papers also demonstrated that the research is genuinely global and justifies an international workshop of this type We would like to thank all the authors who submitted their work Active and Programmable Networks David Hutchison,Spyros Denazis,Laurent Lefevre,Gary J.

Pathological Elements in Analog Circuit Design Mourad Fakhfakh,Marian Pierzchala,2018-03-23 This book is a compilation and a collection of tutorials and recent advances in the use of nullors combinations of nullators and norators and pathological mirrors in analog circuit and system design It highlights the basic theory trends and challenges in the field making it an excellent reference resource for researchers and designers working in the synthesis analysis and design of analog integrated circuits With its tutorial character it can also be used for teaching Singular elements such as nullors and pathological mirrors can arguably be considered as universal blocks since they can represent all existing analog building blocks and they allow complex integrated circuits to be designed simply and effectively These pathological elements are now used in a wide range of applications in modern circuit system theory and also in design practice Proceedings of the International Conference on Information Engineering and Applications (IEA) 2012 Zhicai Zhong, 2013-03-28

Information engineering and applications is the field of study concerned with constructing information computing intelligent systems mathematical models numerical solution techniques and using computers and other electronic devices to analyze and solve natural scientific social scientific and engineering problems Information engineering is an important underpinning for techniques used in information and computational science and there are many unresolved problems worth studying The Proceedings of the 2nd International Conference on Information Engineering and Applications IEA 2012 which was held in Chongqing China from October 26 28 2012 discusses the most innovative research and developments including technical challenges and social legal political and economic issues A forum for engineers and scientists in academia industry and government the Proceedings of the 2nd International Conference on Information Engineering and Applications presents ideas results works in progress and experience in all aspects of information engineering and applications Passive and Active Network Measurement Mark Claypool, Steve Uhlig, 2008-04-29 The 2008 edition of the Passive and Active Measurement Conference was the ninth of a series of successful events Since 2000 the Passive and Active Measurement PAM conference has provided a forum for presenting and discussing innovative and early work in the area of Internet measurement PAM has a tradition of being a workshop like conference with lively discussion and active participation from all attendees This event focuses on research and practical applications of network measurement and analysis techniques This year's conference was held in Cleveland Ohio PAM2008's call for papers attracted 71 submissions Each paper was carefully reviewed by at least three members of the Technical Program Committee The reviewing process led to the acceptance of 23 papers The papers were ranged into eight sessions covering the following areas addressing and topology applications classification and sampling measurement systems and frameworks wireless 802.11 tools characterization and trends and malware and anomalies We are very grateful to Endace Intel and Cisco Systems whose sponsoring allowed us to keep low registration costs and also to offer several travel grants to PhD students We are also grateful to Case Western Reserve University for sponsoring PAM as a host
