Czech (& Central European) Yearbook of Arbitration - Borders of Procedural and Substantive Law in Arbitral Proceedings - 2013 Alexander J. Bělohlávek, Filip Cerný, Naděžda Rozehnalova, 2013-03-01

The Czech Yearbooks Project for the moment made up of the Czech Yearbook of International Law and the Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration began with the idea to create an open platform for presenting the development of both legal theory and legal practice in Central and Eastern Europe and the approximation thereof to readers worldwide This platform should serve as an open forum for interested scholars writers and prospective students as well as practitioners for the exchange of different approaches to problems being analyzed by authors from different jurisdictions and therefore providing interesting insight into issues being dealt with differently in many different countries The Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration the younger twin project within the Czech Yearbooks primarily focuses on the problematic of arbitration from both the national and international perspective The use of arbitration as a method of dispute resolution continues to increase in importance Throughout Central and Eastern Europe arbitration is viewed as being progressive due to its practical aspects and to its meeting the needs of specialists in certain practice areas Central and Eastern Europe the primary but not exclusive focus of this project is steeped in the Roman tradition of continental Europe in which arbitration is based on the autonomy of the parties and on informal procedures This classical approach is somewhat different from the principles on which the system of arbitration in common law countries is based Despite similarities among countries in the region arbitration in Central and Eastern Europe represents a highly particularized and fragmented system. One shortcoming in the use of arbitration in Central and Eastern Europe is the absence of comparative standards or a baseline that would facilitate the identification of commonalities and differences in individual countries and help resolve problems that are common throughout the region. The CYArb project aims to address this issue and provide a forum for comparisons of arbitration practice and doctrine in countries within the region and in relation to practices internationally. It sheds light on both practical and academic aspects within these countries and compares those approaches to broader European and international practices. This project will also foster a broad exchange of legal research and other information on the subject. The third volume of the CYArb focuses on the blurry area which borders the procedural and substantive law. Editors being motivated with an endeavour to provide the readers with complex insight into the problematic, invited authors of Civil same as Common law jurisdictions to provide their insight and analysis on the problems of i.e. mandatory provisions of procedural same as substantive law issues of application of law in arbitration adjudication according to the ex aequo et bono principles, issues of the burden and standard of proof and others. The issues are presented on a highly comparative basis provided mostly by practitioners who are simultaneously involved in academic activities. The book is divided into four sections. The backbone sections encompass the doctrinal articles of the authors same as case law analysis of the domestic courts from the region relating to the topic covering the case law of Constitutional General same as Arbitral courts of the countries from the Central European Region. The rest of the book covers the news in the arbitration area same as interesting arbitration events or published articles and books of the authors from the region. The new volume of the The Czech Central European Yearbook of Arbitration Borders of Procedural and Substantive Law in Arbitral Proceedings Civil versus Common Law Perspectives brings a useful resource for everyone who is dealing with arbitration in all of its aspects be it an academic practitioner law or international relations student who seeks a global compendium on the issue including an overlap to economic and political aspects of the problematic.

Contemporary Problems in International Arbitration Julian Lew, 2013-06-29

The establishment of a School of International Arbitration was a sufficiently important occurrence to have brought to London for its inaugural conference most of the world's leading experts on international arbitration. The three day Symposium on March 25 27 1985 sought to identify and consider the It was not the aim contemporary problems affecting international arbitration of the Symposium to develop propose or agree solutions to these problems but rather to discuss the issues and alternative solutions The success of the School will be measured in the future by its contribution through research and teaching to the development of solutions to the difficulties and uncertainties which reduce the effectiveness of international arbitration agreements and awards and the conduct of international arbitral proceedings This book reproduces the papers presented at the Symposium amended and varied by several contributors It is not considered appropriate here to comment on or analyse paper by paper the ideas presented or discussions which ensued However it would be appropriate to make reference to specific developments in the short period since the Symposium directly relevant to the papers reproduced and the discussions which ensued The pertinence of the subject matter selected becomes clear from these subsequent developments

The Reception and Transmission of Civil Procedural Law in the Global Society Masahisa Deguchi, Marcel Storme, 2008 In modern times the civil procedural laws of every country have been influenced by those of other countries For instance the Japanese legal system was itself influenced by Chinese culture and later developed independently under the policy of national isolation And since 1868 Japan has modernized its civil procedural law using French German and American law as its models Japan has recently tried to contribute by way of legislative and legal educational assistance to other Asian countries Vietnam Cambodia etc in civil and procedural law The civil procedural laws of different countries should be expected to harmonize with each other in the global society This book is the outcome of the Congress of the International Association of Procedural Law at the Ritsumeikan University in Kyoto Japan In this book various outstanding contributors are treating a contemporary legal problem in their own civil procedural systems including examples from India the Netherlands Korea Italy China Japan etc

Court Assistance in the Taking of Evidence in International Arbitration Lorenz Raess, 2020-10-19 Although international arbitration is widely hailed as an efficient confidential and flexible way of settling commercial disputes it has its limits The arbitral tribunal's lack of coercive power is thrown into particularly stark relief when it comes to the taking of evidence from third parties outside the arbitral proceedings If they do not comply voluntarily with the request of the arbitral tribunal to testify as a witness or disclose documents assistance must be sought from state courts As the success of a case hinges on the evidence that a party can obtain it is crucial to understand how to obtain evidence through state courts At the heart of this work is the question of the conditions under which state courts may offer assistance in international arbitral proceedings With a special focus on Switzerland and comparative aspects this book provides helpful tactical insights for arbitral practitioners around the world
