Introducing New Hypertexts on Interpreting (Studies) Cornelia Zwischenberger, Karin Reithofer, Sylvi Rennert, 2023-04-15 The contributions in this volume are a reflection of the entire range of Interpreting Studies from explorations of research methodology and interpreting quality research to public service interpreting today and in the past risk management strategies in court interpreting and the interdependencies of interpreters in project networks. They address questions such as who can be called an interpreter, present new approaches to interpreter education and discuss advances in technology both in terms of speech to text interpreting and the changes that the Covid 19 pandemic has brought to the lives of interpreters. The breadth of this volume's topics reflects the oeuvre of Franz Pö chhacker who has left his mark on Interpreting Studies over more than three decades. This tribute not only reflects the many strands of his work but also offers new research and insights by established scholars and young researchers in the ever growing field of Interpreting Studies.

Lexicography, Terminology, and Translation Lynne Bowker, 2006-09-28 This volume in honour of Ingrid Meyer is a tribute to her work in the interrelated fields of lexicography, terminology and translation. One key thing shared by these fields is that they all deal with text. Accordingly the essays in this collection are united by the fact that they too are all text based in some way. In the majority of essays electronic corpora serve as the textual basis for investigations. Chapters focusing on electronic corpora include a description of a tool that can be used to help build specialized corpora in a semi automatic fashion, corpus based investigations of terminological knowledge patterns, terminological implantation, lexicographic information and translation solutions, comparisons of corpora to conventional resources such as dictionaries and analyses of corpus processing tools such as translation memory systems. In several essays notably those dealing with historical or literary documents the texts in question are specific manuscripts that have been studied with a view to learning more about lexicographic and translation practice. The volume is rounded out with a chapter on audiovisual translation that takes a non conventional view of text where text includes film. Published in English.
