A Workshop on Heterogeneous Computing (6th). HCW 1997, 1997 This is the 6th Heterogeneous Computing Workshop also known as HCW 97 Heterogeneous computing is a very important research area with great practical impact The topic of heterogeneous computing covers many types of systems A heterogeneous system may be a set of machines interconnected by a wide area network and used to support the execution of jobs submitted by a variety of users A heterogeneous system may be a suite of high performance machines tightly interconnected by a fast dedicated local area network and used to process a set of production tasks where the subtasks of each task may execute on different machines in the suite A heterogeneous system may also be a special purpose embedded system such as a set of different types of processors used for automatic target recognition In the extreme a heterogeneous system may consist of a single machine that can reconfigure itself to operate in different ways e g in different modes of parallelism All of these types of heterogeneous systems as well as others are appropriate topics for this workshop series I hope you find the contents of these proceedings informative and interesting and encourage you to look also at the proceedings of past and future HCWs Recent Advances in Parallel Virtual Machine and Message Passing Interface Vassil Alexandrov, 1998-08-26 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th European Meeting of the Parallel Virtual Machine and Message Passing Interface Users Group PVM MPI 98 held in Liverpool UK in September 1998 The 49 contributed and invited papers presented were carefully reviewed and revised for inclusion in the volume All current aspects of PVM and MPI are addressed The papers are organized in topical sections on evaluation and performance extensions and improvements implementation issues tools and algorithms

Virtual Computing Dongmin Kim, Salim Hariri, 2012-12-06 The evolution of modern computers began more than 50 years ago and has been driven to a large extent by rapid advances in electronic technology during that period The first computers ran one application user at a time Without the benefit of operating systems or compilers the application programmers were responsible for managing all aspects of the hardware The introduction of compilers allowed programmers to express algorithms in abstract terms without being concerned with the bit level details of their implementation Time sharing operating systems took computing systems one step further and allowed several users and or applications to time share the computing services of computers With the advances of networks and software tools users and applications were able to time share the logical and physical services that are geographically dispersed across one or more networks Virtual Computing VC concept aims at providing ubiquitous open computing services in analogous way to the services offered by Telephone and Electrical utility companies The VC environment should be dynamically setup to meet the requirements of a single user and or application The design and development of a dynamically programmable virtual computing environments is a challenging research problem However the recent advances in processing and network technology and software tools have successfully solved many of the obstacles facing the wide deployment of virtual computing environments as will be outlined next

Advances in Computers Marvin Zelkowitz, Suyel Namasudra, 2005-05-19 The term computation gap has been defined as the difference between the computational power demanded by the application domain and the computational power of the underlying computer platform Traditionally closing the computation gap has been one of the major and fundamental tasks of computer architects However as technology advances and computers become more pervasive in the society the domain of computer architecture has been extended The scope of research in the computer architecture is no longer restricted to the computer hardware and organization issues A wide spectrum of topics ranging from algorithm design to power management is becoming part of the computer architecture Based on the aforementioned trend and to reflect recent research efforts attempts were made to select a collection of articles that covers different aspects of contemporary computer architecture design This volume of the Advances in Computers contains six chapters on different aspects of computer architecture Key features Wide range of research topics Coverage of new topics such as power management Network on Chip Load balancing in distributed systems and pervasive computing Simple writing style Wide range of research topics Coverage of new topics such as power management Network on Chip Load balancing in distributed systems and pervasive computing Simple writing style
