The Age of the Earth G. Brent Dalrymple, 1991 A synthesis of all that has been postulated and is known about the age of the Earth Large Space Structures & Systems in the Space Station Era ,1993 Treatise on Geophysics, Volume 9 David Stevenson, 2010-05-18 Evolution of the Earth focuses on the formation of Earth Topics include the differention of the core mantle and crust the formation of the ocean basins and continents outgassing and volcanism the initiation of plate tectonics the origin and persistence of Earth's magnetic field the growth of the inner core changes in mantle convection through time and the impact of life on the planet The volume takes an interdisciplinary viewpoint that emphasizes the interplay of geophysics other aspects of earth science and biological evolution Some outstanding questions are identified and debated Self contained volume starts with an overview of the subject then explores each topic with in depth detail Extensive reference lists and cross references with other volumes to facilitate further research Full color figures and tables support the text and aid in understanding Content suited for both the expert and non expert The Twin Sister Planets Venus and Earth Robert J. Malcuit, 2014-11-25 This book explains how it came to be that Venus and Earth while very similar in chemical composition zonation size and heliocentric distance from the Sun are very different in surface environmental conditions It is argued here that these differences can be accounted for by planetoid capture processes and the subsequent evolution of the planet satellite system Venus captured a one half moon mass planetoid early in its history in the retrograde direction and underwent its fatal attraction scenario with its satellite Adonis Earth on the other hand captured a moon mass planetoid Luna early in its history in prograde orbit and underwent a benign estrangement scenario with its captured satellite

International aerospace abstracts ,1993 LDEF: A Bibliography with Abstracts ,1992 Geoforming Mars Robert Malcuit,2020-11-25 This book offers an exercise in theoretical planetology presenting five different scenarios to assess the evolution of habitable conditions on Mars to assess planetary terraforming potential and to give insight into the ongoing search for habitable exoplanets Four of the scenarios involve Martian satellite capture models in which gravitational capture via tidal deformation and energy dissipation processes are measured to predict a pathway of biological evolution while the fifth scenario analyzes the possible model that led to the Mars that we have today i e with no life forms In ten chapters readers will learn how a Mars like terrestrial planet can be transformed into a habitable planet and what conditions must be assessed when searching for exoplanets in a star centered orbit to support life The book is intended for planetologists and general enthusiasts of planetary evolution and our solar system New Publications of the Geological Survey Geological Survey (U.S.),1990 Management ,1986 Treatise on Geophysics, Volume 10 Tilman Spohn, 2010-05-20 Planets and Moons covers topics relating to the physics of the major planetary bodies in the solar system starting with an introductory description of the solar system and collection of pertinent data continuing with a discussion of the early history of the planets and finishing with articles about planet dynamics thermal evolution of planets and satellites and descriptions of their magnetic fields and the processes that generate them In addition to providing a review on the solid planets and the satellites this volume addresses the interactions of solid surfaces and atmospheres as well as the roles of water and ice in shaping the surfaces of planetary bodies Self contained volume starts with an overview of the subject then explores each topic with in depth detail Extensive reference lists and cross references with other volumes to facilitate further research Full color figures and tables support the text and aid in understanding Content suited for both the expert and non expert Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1994
