Vedic Voices David M. Knipe, 2015-04-01 For countless generations families have lived in isolated communities in the Godavari Delta of coastal Andhra Pradesh learning and reciting their legacy of Vedas performing daily offerings and occasional sacrifices They are the virtually unrecognized survivors of a 3 700 year old heritage the last in India who perform the ancient animal and soma sacrifices according to Vedic tradition In Vedic Voices David M Knipe offers for the first time an opportunity for them to speak about their lives ancestral lineages personal choices as pandits wives children and ways of coping with an avalanche of changes in modern India He presents a study of four generations of ten families from those born at the outset of the twentieth century down to their great grandsons who are just beginning at the age of seven the task of memorizing their Veda the Taittiriya Samhita a feat that will require eight to twelve years of daily recitations After successful examinations these young men will reside with the Veda family girls they married as children years before take their places in the oral transmission of a three thousand year Vedic heritage teach the Taittiriya collection of texts to their own sons and undertake with their wives the major and minor sacrifices performed by their ancestors for some three
