Courtivron, 2016-04-30 This volume a collection of essays by a number of high profile personalities working in philosophy literature sociology cinema theatre journalism and politics covers a number a of recent and crucial developments in the field of French Feminisms that have made a reassessment necessary Beyond French Feminisms proposes to answer the question what is new in French Feminism at the beginning of the twenty first century The essays reflect the shift from the theoretical and philosophical approaches that characterized feminism twenty years ago to the more social and political questions of today Topics include the parit and PACS debates the France USA dialogue the multicultural issues and the new trends in literature and film by women

New French Feminism Isabelle de Courtivron, Elaine Marks, 1986

French Feminism in the 19th Century Claire Goldberg Moses, 1984-01-01 Histories of France have erased the feminist presence from nineteenth century political life and the feminist impact from the changes that affected the lives of the French Now French Feminism in the Nineteenth Century completes the history books by restoring this missing and vital chapter of French history The book recounts the turbulent story of nineteenth century French feminism placing it in the context of the general political events that influenced its development It also examines feminist thought and activities using the very words of the women themselves in books newspapers pamphlets memoirs diaries speeches and letters Featured is a wealth of previously unpublished personal letters written by Saint Simonian women These engrossing documents reveal the nuances of changing consciousness and show how it led to an autonomous women's movement Also explored are the relationships between feminist ideology and women's actual status legal social and economic during the century Both bourgeois and working class women are surveyed Beginning with a general survey of feminism in France the book provides historical context and clarifies the later vicissitudes of the condition feminine

The Feminist Encyclopedia of French Literature Eva M. Sartori, 1999-07-30 The earliest known literary productions by women living in Europe were probably written by French writers As early as the 12th century women troubadours in the south of France were writing poems French women continued writing through the ages their number increasing as education became more available to women of all classes And yet of the great number of works by women writers who preceded the current feminist movement very few have survived A few writers such as Marie de France George Sand and Simone de Beauvoir became part of the canon But critics mostly male had judged the works of only a few women writers worthy of recognition As part of the feminist move to reclaim women writers and to rethink literary history scholars in French literature began to take a new look at women writers who had been popular during their lifetimes but who had not been admitted into the canon This reference book provides extensive information about French women writers and the world in which they lived Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for authors literary genres such as the novel poetry and the short story literary movements such as classicism realism and surrealism life cycle events particular to women such as menstruation and menopause events and institutions which affected women differently than men such as revolutions wars and laws on marriage divorce and education The volume spans French literature from the Middle Ages to the present and covers those writers who lived and worked mainly in France The entries are written by expert contributors and each includes bibliographical information The entries focus on each writer s awareness of how her gender shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers

Theories on the Move

Şebnem Susam-Sarajeva, 2006-01-01 Within translation studies books on translating conceptually dense texts such as philosophical or theoretical writings are remarkably few Although the translation of literature has been a favourite topic for many decades the translation of theories on literature has been neglected The phrase theories of translation is everywhere but translation of theories is a rare sight On the other hand the term translation has become a commonplace in literary and cultural studies yet usually as a rhetorical figure describing the fate of those who struggle between two worlds and two languages such as migrants or women Not much attention has been paid to the role of translation proper in contemporary circulation of ideas The book addresses these gaps in translation studies and in literary studies for the first time by examining two specific cases where translation strategies and patterns crucially influenced the reception of imported schools of thought By examining the importation of structuralism and semiotics into Turkish and of French feminism into English it invites the readers to think about the impact of translation on the transmission of ideas across linguistic cultural borders and power differentials It is therefore of particular interest to the scholars working in translation studies in literary and cultural theory and in gender studies

Women and Civil Society in Turkey Ömer Çaha, 2016-02-24 Focusing on three important interrelated issues Women and Civil Society in Turkey challenges the classical definition developed in the West of civil society as an equivalent of the public sphere in which women are excluded First it shows how feminist movements have developed a new definition of civil society to include women Second it draws attention to the role of women in the modernization of Turkey with special reference to the debate on the possibility of an indigenous feminist movement Finally it underlines the contribution of feminist Islamic and Kurdish women s movements in the transition from an ideologically constructed uniform public sphere to a multi public domain Giving attention to the influence of diverse women s movements over Turkish political values this book sheds light into the issue of how a feminine civil society has been constructed as part of a plural public space in Turkey mer aha argues that this new public realm is the product of values and institutions which have been developed by diverse women's groups who have succeeded in eliminating the traditional barricades between public and domestic spheres and in steering women into public life without sacrificing their own values Out of Eden Beverly J. Stratton, 1995-12-01 Out of Eden contributes towards conversations about interpreting scripture Rather than adopting traditional views creation and fall or growth this study integrates literary critical theories and feminist scholarship to read the Genesis narrative in relation to concerns of contemporary communities The question of how we might engage the interpretative process and the rhetorical power of texts as we live our lives out of Eden is addressed Stratton argues that the interpretation of Genesis 2-3 matters that there are consequences for the actions we take on the basis of our interpretations and that we should enter the interpretative process only with care The Poetry of Eavan Boland Pilar Villar-Argaiz, 2008 Pilar Villar Arg iz's sustained meticulous and exacting study of Eavan Boland opens up and articulates in a fresh way the key dimensions of her poetry It succeeds not only in tracking the far reaching ramifications of Eavan Boland's politicized aesthetic as a postcolonial writer but in urging us to revisit the crystalline and precisely etched poems of one of the most significant artists in contemporary Irish culture Professor Anne Fogarty University College Dublin from the Introduction This monograph is an original and important contribution to the growing body of critical studies devoted to one of Ireland's major living poets Eavan Boland see Haberstroh 1996 Hagen Zelman 2005 It details the controversies that were prompted by the inclusion of Ireland in a postcolonial framework and then tests the application of an array of cogent theories and concepts to Boland's work In an attempt to explore the richness and complexity of her poetry Villar Arg iz discusses the contradictory pulls in her desire to surpass and yet at the same time epitomize Irish nationality Boland's remarkable achievement as a poet lies in her ability to stretch by constant negotiations and re-appropriations the borderlines of inherited definitions of nationality and femininity Chapters include Re-examining the postcolonial Gender and Irish studies Towards an understanding of Boland's poetry as minority postcolonial discourse A post-nationalist or a post-colonial writer Boland's revisionary stance on Mother Ireland To a third space Boland's imposed exile as a young child The subaltern in Boland's poetry Boland's mature exile in the US An Orientalist writer and Conclusion Review This rigorous and informative exploration of the poetry of Eavan Boland by Pilar Villar Arg iz proves the validity of drawing upon the resources of postcolonial theory to illuminate her work Through the lens of postcolonialism the deep-seated preoccupations and complex imaginative foundations of Boland's writing are carefully excavated and interpreted Villar Arg iz moreover in her observant close readings of poems from different phases of the author's oeuvre reveals how recurrent issues such as the problem of national and cultural identity the ethical responsibility of engaging with the past and the quest for fluidity and openness are variously engaged with both aesthetically and philosophically Villar Arg iz's sustained meticulous and exacting study of Eavan Boland opens up and articulates in a fresh way key dimensions of her poetry It succeeds not only in tracking the far reaching ramifications of Eavan Boland's politicized aesthetic as a postcolonial writer but in urging us to revisit the crystalline and precisely etched poems of one of the most significant artists in contemporary Irish culture Professor Anne Fogarty Department of English University College Dublin Ireland About the Author Dr Pilar Villar Arg iz lectures in the Department of English Philology at the University of Granada Spain where she obtained a European Doctorate in English Studies Irish Literature She is the author of Eavan Boland's Evolution As an Irish Woman Poet An Outsider within an Outsider's Culture The Edwin Mellen Press 2007 She has also published extensively on the representation of femininity in contemporary Irish women's poetry on cinematic representations of Ireland and on the theoretical background and application of feminism and postcolonialism to the study of Irish literature In addition Dr Villar Arg iz has co edited two books on English literature Irish Research Series No 51 Women, Labor Segmentation and Regulation David Peetz, Georgina Murray, 2017-04-17 This book re shapes thinking on gender gaps differences between men and women in their incomes their employment and their conditions of work It shows how the interaction between regulation distance and content labor segmentation and norms helps us understand various aspects of gender gaps It brings together leading authors from industrial relations sociology politics and feminist economics who outline the roles the family state public policy trade unions and class play in creating gender gaps and consider the lessons from international comparisons While many studies have focused on the role of society or organizations this book also pays attention to the role of occupations in promoting and reinforcing gender gaps discussing groups such as apparel outworkers film and video workers care workers public sector professionals like librarians chief executives academics and coal miners This book will be of interest to practitioners policy makers academics and students interested in understanding why inequality between men and women persists today and what might be done about it The Reception of Virginia Woolf in Europe Mary Ann Caws, Nicola Luckhurst, 2008-12-22 Comprehensive coverage of Woolf's reception across Europe with contributions from leading international critics and translators Luce Irigaray: Key Writings Luce Irigaray, 2004-06-22 Luce Irigaray is one of the world's most influential theorists From her early ground breaking work on linguistics to her later revolutionary work on the ethics of sexual difference Irigaray has positioned herself as one of the essential thinkers of our time This collection of key writings selected by Luce Irigaray herself presents a complete picture of her work to date across the fields of Philosophy Linguistics Spirituality Art and Politics An indispensable work for students of philosophy literary theory feminist theory linguistics and cultural studies Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition Featuring thirty nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives The volume is divided into four parts Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions

Sex, Race, and Family in Contemporary American Short Stories M. Bostrom, 2007-08-06 This book reveals a female sexual economy in the marketplace of contemporary short fiction which locates a struggle for sexual power between mothers and daughters within a larger struggle to pursue that object of the American dream whiteness

Postcolonial Paradoxes in French Caribbean Writing Jeannie Suk, 2001-05-17 This book is the first major study of French Caribbean literature in light of the concept of postcoloniality Postcolonial theory debates have developed in the anglophone domain and have not as yet referred prominently to francophone literature Jeannie Suk investigates how the literature of Martinique and Guadeloupe provides a kaleidoscopic view of the paradoxes at the heart of postcoloniality Through subtle and provocative readings of Aimé Césaire, Édouard Glissant, Maryse Condé, Baudelaire, Freud and others she illuminates how the development of French Caribbean literature and debates about négritude, antillanité and créolité contribute to theories of in-betweenness and incompleteness central to postcolonial modes In each chapter lively and detailed analyses of literary and critical texts reveal connections between key thematic, conceptual, rhetorical and psychic issues that form the interface of Caribbean and postcolonial concerns The first part paves theoretical ground focusing on readings of Césaire's Cahier d'un retour au pays natal and Glissant's Discours antillais the second part concentrates on Maryse Condé's exemplary work Lucidly articulating the overlap and interplay of the distance of oceanic crossing the discontinuities of allegorical signification and the gap at the heart of trauma Suk probes the paradoxical dynamic of impossible yet inevitable returns in space-time and the psyche She shows how literal and metaphorical crossings both produce and impede history and representation The result is a new framework for understanding the intersection of postcolonial psychoanalytic, deconstructive and French Caribbean problems in a language attentive to improbable recurrences across theories and registers

Postcolonial Paradoxes is a major contribution to criticism and theory of interest to scholars and students of postcolonialism Caribbean and African diaspora literature French literature and psychoanalysis

Sexuality, Eroticism, and Gender in French and Francophone Literature Aaron Emmitt, Melanie Hackney, 2011-07-12 This study explores the diverse representations of sexuality, eroticism and gender as expressed in French and Francophone literary thought both past and present From Françoise de Graffigny's epistolary refusal of eroticism to the challenge of nineteenth-century notions of rape in the novels of Émile Zola, Victor Hugo and Eugène Sue to desire and eroticism as social taboo in the surrealist works of Georges Bataille and Luis Buñuel its historical focus demonstrates that issues of sexuality, eroticism and gender existed at the heart of France's literary tradition long before they became a staple in its universities Taking a more contemporary view it examines the notion of criture féminine in such authors as Monique Wittig, Anne F. Garréta, Nina Bouraoui, Assia Djebar and Luce Irigaray and also challenges accusations of misogyny in the works of Michel Houellebecq While glimpsing the evolution of challenges to and conceptions regarding sexuality, eroticism and gender each chapter's author focuses on language as both the obstacle and catalyst for change For example feminist strategies to avoid linguistic gender markers that subvert the phallogocentric paradigm literary portrayals of rape as a means to affect French penal code and use of the female body as language demonstrate that these notions are not only shaped by language but that language represents the key to deconstructing and redefining them Whether picking this up to read about familiar authors such as Hugo and Djébar or discovering Graffigny and Houellebecq for the first time each chapter promises to shed new light on its subject matter in regards to sexuality eroticism and or gender

Feminist Criticism and Social Change (RLE Feminist Theory) Deborah Rosenfelt, Judith Newton, 2013-05-20 This lively and controversial collection of essays sets out to theorize and practice a materialist feminist criticism of literature and culture Such a criticism is based on the view that the material conditions in which men and women live are central to an understanding of culture and society It emphasises the relation of gender to other categories of analysis such as class and race and considers the connection between ideology and cultural practice and the ways in which all relations of power change with changing social and economic conditions By presenting a wide range of work by major feminist scholars this anthology in effect defines as well as illustrates the materialist feminist tendency in current literary criticism The essays in the first part of the book examine race ideology and the literary canon and explore the ways in which other critical discourse such as those of deconstruction and French feminism might be useful to a feminist and materialist criticism The second part of the book contains examples of such criticism in practice with studies of individual works writers and ideas An introduction by the editors situates the collected essays in relation both to one another and to a shared materialist feminist project Feminist Criticism and Social Change demonstrates the important contribution of materialist feminist criticism to our understanding of literature and society and fulfils a crucial need among those concerned with gender and its relation to criticism
