A cultural history of chess-players John Sharples, 2017-08-15 This inquiry concerns the cultural history of the chess player It takes as its premise the idea that the chess player has become a fragmented collection of images underpinned by challenges to and confirmations of chess's status as an intellectually superior and socially useful game particularly since the medieval period Yet the chess player is an understudied figure No previous work has shone a light on the chess player itself Increasingly chess histories have retreated into tidy consensus This work aspires to a novel reading of the figure as both a flickering beacon of reason and a sign of monstrosity To this end this book utilising a wide range of sources including newspapers periodicals detective novels science fiction and comic books is underpinned by the idea that the chess player is a pluralistic subject used to articulate a number of anxieties pertaining to themes of mind machine and monster

Zhuangzi's Critique of the Confucians Kim-chong Chong, 2016-10-24 Looks at the Daoist Zhuangzi's critique of Confucianism The Daoist Zhuangzi has often been read as a mystical philosopher But there is another tradition beginning with the Han dynasty historian Sima Qian which sees him as a critic of the Confucians Kim chong Chong analyzes the Inner Chapters of the Zhuangzi demonstrating how Zhuangzi criticized the pre Qin Confucians through metaphorical inversion and parody This is indicated by the subtitle Blinded by the Human which is an inversion of the Confucian philosopher Xunzi's remark that Zhuangzi was blinded by heaven and did not know the human Chong compares Zhuangzi's Daoist thought to Confucianism as exemplified by Confucius Mencius and Xunzi By analyzing and comparing the different implications of concepts such as heaven heart mind and transformation Chong shows how Zhuangzi can be said to provide the resources for a more pluralistic and liberal philosophy than the Confucians
