Engaging with Contemporary Challenges through Science Education Research Olivia Levrini, Giulia Tasquier, Tamer G. Amin, Laura Branchetti, Mariana Levin, 2021-09-24 This book starts with the premise that beauty can be an engine of transformation and authentic engagement in an increasingly complex world It presents an organized picture of highlights from the 13th European Science Education Research Association Conference ESERA 2019 held in Bologna Italy The collection includes contributions that discuss contemporary issues such as climate change multiculturalism and the flourishing of new interdisciplinary areas of investigation including the application of cognitive neuroscience artificial intelligence and digital humanities to science education research It also highlights learners difficulties engaging with socio scientific issues in a digital and post truth era The volume demonstrates that deepening our understanding is the preferred way to address these challenges and that science education has a key role to play in this effort In particular the book advances the argument that the deep and novel character of these challenges requires a collective search for new narratives and languages an expanding knowledge base and new theoretical perspectives and methods of research The book provides a contemporary picture of science education research and looks to the theoretical and practical societal challenges of the future

Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun, 2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8 Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios exhibitions and student learning objectives In each case issues related to design and development psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment Edited by leading experts these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
