ICEG2006-Proceedings of the 6th International Conference on e-Government , Disability Amendments of 1982 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Ways and Means. Subcommittee on Social Security, 1982 Water Services Disputes in International Arbitration Xu Qian, 2020-05-12 Water Services Disputes in International Arbitration Reconsidering the Nexus of Investment Protection Environment and Human Rights by Xu Qian The argument that universal access to water is a human right is based on the fact that life on Earth cannot exist without water Yet the enormous cost of building and maintaining water service infrastructure purifying monitoring quality and providing sanitation services is beyond the means of many of the States most in need Foreign investment is thus mandated hence the often acrimonious tension manifest in investor State disputes over water rights This book offers the first in depth analysis of both international treaty norms and their interpretation by arbitral tribunals applicable to investment in water and sanitation services complete with thoroughly researched recommendations for those arbitral practitioners in the eye of the storm Like no previous study the book clearly reveals how to reconcile the economic and fundamental human interests arising from investment in water and sanitation services under the international investment regime Among many vital issues the author highlights the importance of the following legitimacy of a State s alleged regulatory objectives the suitability of the measures undertaken to achieve the objective and whether there are less restrictive means available legal framework and stability of the State applicable law changes in law and emergency circumstances economic issues such as water pricing profit driven private companies reluctance to serve the poor investment tribunals generation of a regulatory and jurisprudential regime on water and sanitation services and determination of liability in relation to expropriation fair and equitable treatment and necessity Arguing that the current investment treaty and arbitral case law framework can regulate water and sanitation services if certain interpretations are favored by adjudicators the author offers viable sustainable and reasonable legal solutions A detailed annex presents cases decided before a variety of arbitral tribunals as well as relevant WTO and ICJ cases and reviews critical literature in the field The increasing number of cases involved with States regulatory measures shows that stakes around water services generate specific legal problems which are new in the world of international economic law As an incisive investigation of what has been called the incursion of investment tribunal decisions into the regulatory autonomy of host States this profound and innovative analysis provides a coherent and consistent method of review that provides greater certainty to both States and investors and deters abuse of power It will be welcomed by policymakers and stakeholders interested in the implications of globalization of water services for the capacity to adapt to climate change and will suggest ways to enable States to better manage vital water services even after privatization to foreign companies

Health Economics Barbara McPake, Charles Normand, Samantha Smith, Anne Nolan, 2013-06-07 This third edition of Barbara McPake and Charles Normand's textbook confirms it as providing the only properly international treatment of health economics on the market. A key tenet of the book is its analysis of comparative health systems across borders and the text has been updated and revised to take account of changes in a host of countries. Barack Obama's reforms in the United States are considered alongside the provision of healthcare in China providing a unique overview of these different approaches. The introduction of performance related payment in various forms is appraised with the experience of developing countries such as Cambodia, Rwanda and Uganda important in this regard. An overview of the range of mathematical techniques available to perform economic evaluation in healthcare is also introduced although the text avoids becoming too technical. In all the text builds on the success of the first edition and provides the perfect introduction to the fast changing world of health economics.

Introduction to Vocational Rehabilitation Clive Langman, 2012-02-20 This text provides an overview of vocational rehabilitation (VR) practice making it the perfect companion for students and practitioners with an interest in supporting people back to work and improving their sense of health and well being. The book is divided into three parts: the first covers the policy context of VR in the UK defining VR, outlining the development of national standards in the sector and looking at issues such as the economy and worklessness and the legal background. The second part examines models of VR practice and relevant standards. It explores the nature of developing services in the public and private sectors illustrated by case studies from a range of disciplinary backgrounds. The final part presents a detailed introduction to the knowledge and skills required in providing a VR service including consideration of the multidisciplinary processes and stages involved. Introduction to Vocational Rehabilitation includes numerous case studies and a dedicated chapter of issues and questions to aid reflection. Comprehensive and evidence based this is the first multidisciplinary textbook for students and practitioners from a range of backgrounds including occupational therapy and health, physiotherapy, human resources, nursing, social work and health psychology.
